Mr. Beckett of Hamilton spoke on "Improving Dairy From the best cows." he said, "can we expect to make good profit. If a cow doesn't produce 6000 lbs. of mik per year it is not of much use." He thought better results came from cows kept in wooden buildings than from those stabi-de in stone basements. There should be good ventilation, lots of fresh air being a very important factor in suc-cessful dairying. A good dairy cow is broad between the eyes, has full eyes, and broad muscle, slim neck, square udder and gives an even flow of mikk from all the teats.
