Petition the Minister of Justice Against Sentence of Death on Italian Woman.

OTTAWA, May 27.-A letter from he Toronto Equal Suffrage Association has been received by Sir Alan Ayles-worth, minister of justice, in regard to the sentence of death on the Italian woman, Angeline Napolitano.

It will be remembered that this woman murdered her husband in North Bay on account of particularly brutal treatment. The evidence was that the husband urged the wife into immorality. The letter urges commutation of the sentence.

:: LITTLE BOBBIE'S PA

Bobbie, sed Pa, if you go out & play on the street I want you to be careful & not pick up any pennies that the peepul in the windows throw down to them hurdy gurdys. It seems, sed Pa, that sum of our grown up comeedians has a new joak from what I read in this paper. The paper says that these grown up comeedians wait till thay hear a hurdy gurdy playing on the street, then they take pennies & heat them on the stove, in a skillet, until the pennies are red hot. & then thay throw them down on the street for the organ grinders & the kids to pick up. It is a vary cheep joak, I know, sed Pa, but thay are doing it jest the saim, so if you are anyware near a hurdy gurdy doant pick up a coin that falls out of a window.

I betweer picked up any coins, I sed to Pa. I mite have picked up one if I had seen it, but I nevver seen any.

Well, sed Pa, I am jest telling you, thats all. A friend of mine naimed Mister Kiley was telling me the other day that his littel boy Bobbie picked up a penny to give it to the hurdy gurdy man, & caim hoam with his thum & finger all blistered. So whatever you do, doant pick up any coins on the street.
