London, July 29.—The conference of the conferees of the two main parties who are trying to compose the institutional differences of the House of Lords and the House of Commons already have succeeded in bridging several gulleys that have separated them and a statement made by Premier Asquith in the lower chamber this afternoon indicates that the outlook for a compromise is more hopeful than had been anticipated.

Unless a rupture occurs during the recess little further of an official character is likely to be heard regarding the negotiations until parliament reassembles on Nov. 12.

Mr. Asquith after stating that the conferees in the course of twelve meetings had surveyed the field of controversy carefully said:

"The result is that our discussions made progress although we have not so far reached an agreement as to render it the opinion of all of us not only desirable but necessary that they should continue. In fact I may go further. We would think it wrong at this stage to break them off. He added that if further deliberation showed no prospect of an agreement that could be announced in parliament at the present session the conference would be closed."

SNAKE IN GIRL'S "RAT"
Bites of Reptile Cause Serious Illness of Victim

Ricmond, Va., July 29.—Bitten several times by a small moccasin snake which nested in her "rat" when she had laid that creature off during the evening in a hammock in her front yard, Miss Mary Wood of the west end is reported to be in a serious condition. The girl is a department store clerk.

On the day of the occurrence her head began to itch and pain her. Enduring the pain all day she went home at closing up time and told her mother of her discomfort. The hair was again taken down, and drops of blood with incisions were discovered. The mother, then asked for the "rat" and taking it began squeezing it, feeling something wriggle inside, she hastily tore it to pieces, a six-inch moccasin dropping to the floor.

The girl fainted at the sight of the reptile and is under the care of a physician.

INSURANCE MEN IN SESSION AT CHARLOTTETOWN

Address by E. R. Machum, President and Interesting Papers Read

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 29.—(Special)—The address by E. R. Machum, of St. John, president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, was the chief feature of last night's session of the Maritime Life Underwriters' Convention, which opened here yesterday.

He maintained that the association had justified its existence by preventing drastic legislation and securing what is now the best insurance act in the world, amply safeguarding the public and the insurance interests. The association has still work to do in the struggle between federal and provincial authorities over the question of jurisdiction, providing better facilities for education of field men, and securing transportation and hotel privileges now given commercial men.

He held that the association had advanced the standing of insurance and restored public confidence in the security of life insurance. He said federal jurisdiction should prevail in insurance and if the provinces win the test case now before the Supreme Court the association would be the provincial laws were made uniform.

The programme of the convention included addresses by H. Cole, Ottawa, Halifax, "Co-operation of the Head Office," J. E. Matthews, Charlottetown, "Duties of Agents," J. E. Matthews, Charlottetown, "Will the Time Come when Solliciting will be Necessary," Among the speakers were Messrs. Evans, Somers, and Bartley, of Halifax; Robertson and Lawlor, of St. John, and Sydney, and Ross of Charlottetown. A paper on "The Secret of Success in the Field," prepared by A. H. Chipman, of St. John, was also read. Today the delegates are being entertained by the local men.

"We, the jurors sworn on oath to enquire into the death of Ira G. Rawn at his home in Winnetka on July 29, find that he came to his death at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 29 from shock and hemorrhage caused by a bullet from his own revolver, fired by his own hand, but whether this was accidental or with intent, the jury is unable to determine, except that the location of the wound and the type of revolver render the accident, theory less probable."

British M. P.'s Would Have Have Representatives of Overseas Parliaments at the Ceremony—Barnardo Children for Canada—At the Hague

Times' Special Cable
Johannesburg, July 29.—The Union leaders have pledged themselves to introduce the German system of industrial compensation and insurance if the party is successful in the forthcoming election. Premier Botha, speaking at Pretoria, opposed aid to immigrants until the unemployed were supplied with land. He advocated the wholesale deportation of Asiatics with compensation.

London, July 29.—The Canadian teachers had tea last evening in a room in the commons. Messrs. Thompson, McMaster and Mackinder welcomed them. They were afterwards shown over the houses. A meeting of the members of parliament has been held in connection with the movement for securing invitations to representatives of overseas parliaments to the coronation. The plan met with hearty approval and the premier will be approached.

Two hundred Barnardo children sailed today for Canada. Lord Hindlip sailed on the Empress of Ireland.

J. G. Adams has been admitted a member of the Royal College of Physicians and A. J. Gilchrist, W. Krupp, and J. R. McLean of Toronto, and C. Wallard of Manitoba have been granted licenses to practice.

At the Hague Mr. Robson, continuing, argued that the United States was wrong in claiming that the treaty gave it an apparent right. If the United States had no means of remedying infractions of the treaty by Britain the sanction of the treaty consisted in public opinion. He pointed out that the treaty had not given the Americans a privileged position in regard to fishing, but only a share in the fisheries on the same terms as British fishermen. He argued that the treaty gave the United States a right to the exclusive rights granted them by the treaty, and that the United States could not employ as members of their crew fishermen who were not citizens of the United States. He answered the question, whether the inhabitants of the United States had any right to the exclusive rights granted them by the treaty, and that the United States could not employ as members of their crew fishermen who were not citizens of the United States. MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY
American and Canadian Immigration Officials Turn Down Greek Lad—Now on Way to Halifax

Boston, July 29.—A composite dramatization in real life of "The Pardon Came Too Late" and "A Man Without a Country" is being enacted on the high seas on the steamer A. W. Perry, which left here yesterday afternoon for Halifax. A Greek boy, 10 years old, is cast in the star part, and his story is a tale of hard luck in the words of the immigration laws of the two countries.

Young Tamasias landed in New York four months ago and went to Albany. Ten days ago he took passage from there to Halifax, where he was to be given employment by a cousin. Hope of the young immigrant's heart and property seemed near at hand when the disaster came. The Canadian immigration laws bar from admission an alien not coming in passage direct from his native land. The youth had been in the United States four months and must be turned back.

After a hearing before the Canadian officials he was sent here, arriving yesterday morning on the steamer A. W. Perry. Then more trouble. He was an alien, and his admission here was doubtful. He was a widow's son and brought her four children with her. Before coming here she had settled up her husband's estate and had a considerable sum of money. She was invested in real estate in the Bronx, where she made her home. The money was in value and is now worth many times what she paid for it.

What will be done with him on arrival at the Nova Scotia port is problematical, but if he is brought back here he will be released.

"BOWERY ANGEL" WEDES
New York, July 29.—All the Bowery's Salvation Army realms are weeping because their "Angel" has left them. Dan Cupid claimed her when she became the bride of Adjutant Boyd York, and now Adjutant Millicent Jacklin and her ministrations, that caused her to be known as the "Bowery Angel" are only sweet memories.

Two years and a half ago she came to New York and was put in charge of the Bowery Mission, opposite Cooper Union. She became the favorite and the human carer and the delinquent called her "Angel."

Shortly afterward came a young adjutant who had charge of the training school cadets. He often conducted the students to the various Salvation Army districts. During these trips he met the "Bowery Angel." The visit of his wedding was celebrated the other night, when, in Memorial Hall, there was a genuine "Hal-matrimony" wedding.

A thousand Salvation Army officers were present and the national staff band furnished music. The knot was tied by Col. W. A. McIntyre. The bridegroom was Ensign La Cave, who has been Miss Jacklin's assistant. The couple left for west on their wedding trip, and were assigned to Rochester on their return—themselves the Bowery honestly mourns.
