

PREMIER ADDRESSES FIVE GATHERINGS IN DAY

CONSCRIPTION DISCUSSED AT REGINA MEET

Charges Liberals Trying to Arouse Prejudice Among Foreign-Born

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 25.—Premier Meighen addressed a meeting here last night, following speeches at Melville, at Balcarres, at Lebret and at Fort Qu'Appelle. It was a strenuous day, the effect of which was apparent in the hoarseness of his voice.

Mr. Meighen spoke in passing of the war time election act. He turned particularly to statements made in this connection by Hon. Charles Dunning.

"I was a member of the government which passed the act," Mr. Meighen said. "I always took my full share of responsibility, have done so before audiences in this city, and do so again. At the time of the great war, it came to be a question of deciding upon what principle our men should be enlisted, whether we would continue a system of compulsory enlistment, or whether we would desist."

"A large section of our population, not large, comparatively, lately arrived from the lands of our then enemies, from Russia, from Germany, petitioned the government that as they had left a natural bond of affection for the land they had recently left, they ought not to be called upon in any event to enlist to fight their brothers from whom they had lately departed, and they said: 'If we are to be saved that obligation, we quite recognize that we ought not to claim the right to vote in an election which decides whether others enlist or not.'"

"That seemed a reasonable appeal. It seemed common sense. It was natural. They were not in a position to assume all the obligations of British citizenship, and it was unnatural to ask them to do it. We did not ask them to do it, and we took the other suggestion, perfectly right and logical, that, as they could not assume all the obligations, they would not have the right in our country to determine what the obligations of the rest of us were."

ACCUSES LIBERALS

"This was on the petition of those people themselves, organized for that purpose. And on the basis of that, Liberal speakers by the dozen, but especially Mr. Motherwell and Mr. Dunning, have sought persistently to arouse prejudice among our foreign-born citizens, in order to reap political capital."

As Mr. Meighen rose, he received an enthusiastic greeting, but there was a running fire of comment from the crowd. The meeting at one point was halted for several minutes, while one interrupter wanted to put questions.

SCHOOL PERMITS

There were only 86 school permits issued yesterday. The school officials urge parents not to leave applications to the last hour.

YOUTH SENT TO SING SING FOR REST OF LIFE

Brooklyn Judge Invokes New Law Applying to Habitual Criminals

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The authority of the Baumes law, a recently enacted statute empowering judges to sentence habitual criminals to life imprisonment, was invoked by County Judge Algon I. Nova in Brooklyn when he sentenced Clifford Hanson, twenty-one years old, of Cambridge, Mass., to life servitude in Sing Sing prison.

Thomas Hubert, eighteen, of Brooklyn, was sentenced to 35 years at hard labor in the same prison.

The youths, pale since they left Elmira Reformatory a year ago after serving time for robbery, pleaded guilty to holding up a Brooklyn delicatessen on the night of August 7. Judge Nova considered the plea and their previous records and imposed the maximum sentences.

ONLY ONE CHANCE

Hanson has only one legal recourse from passing the remainder of his natural life in prison. That is a pardon from the Governor. Good behavior cannot save him, nor can the parole board.

Hubert was given the maximum also, the new criminal laws providing fifteen years as a minimum for robbery, with an addition of five to ten years for use of a pistol in the hold-up. He will not be eligible for parole, but can work off five days a month for good behavior.

He was asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed and replied in the negative.

"Of course, you haven't," Judge Nova exclaimed. "Hubert, I declare you are a habitual criminal. You are a bad actor. You met Hanson in Elmira. You will be 50 when you are released."

Hanson then was brought to the rail and he also said he had nothing to say before sentence was passed.

"No, I don't think you have, either," Hanson said. "I am here to do my duty. The people of this borough have placed confidence in me, and I am going to see that this borough, in which I was born and brought up, will be kept clean of you and your kind."

COUNSEL CHECKED

Hanson's counsel interrupted to say something.

"Listen, counselor," the court declared, "I don't like to stop an attorney from pleading for his client when the client deserves it, but in this case—nothing doing."

"You are a habitual criminal," Judge Nova began again, turning to Hanson. "You are a potential murderer. You are good to yourself or any one else. I am going to put you where you can't harm society for the rest of your natural life. I sentence you to Sing Sing for the rest of your natural life. You may go."

DOCTORS' MEETINGS CLOSE

The doctors ended their meetings here yesterday afternoon with clinics in the General Public Hospital, conducted by Sir Henry Gauvin and Dr. Stuart Pritchard. The visitors were guests of the city doctors on an auto drive, and driven to the Wayside Inn, Hampton.

St. George's Chapel Choir Is Restored

Common Sense Required, Says Hon. L. P. D. Tilley in Gyro Address

LONDON, Aug. 25.—After being closed nearly six years for restoration the famous choir of St. George's Chapel, Windsor, is to be re-opened next Easter.

The work of restoring the crumbled masonry of the ancient chapel has cost more than $800,000, which sum was collected privately by the Dean of Windsor (Dr. A. Baillie). During the restoration it was found necessary to take down the centuries-old vaulting and re-erect it.

The Dean says that when the vaulting was examined the startling fact was revealed that there was no scientific reason for its having remained aloft for even a very short time.

It had been built on a false principle and at any time an ordinary happening like a heavy thunderstorm might have brought it crashing down, and yet it remained in place (by sheer accident) for about 600 years.

SPEAKS OF PHASES OF AUTOMOBILE LAW

Common Sense Required, Says Hon. L. P. D. Tilley in Gyro Address

Various phases of the Motor Vehicle Act were discussed and explained by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley in his address before the Gyro Club at its weekly luncheon meeting in the Admiral Beatty Hotel yesterday at noon. Robert J. Hawker presided.

In speaking of the Motor Vehicles Act, Mr. Tilley asked the opinion of the members of the club with reference to the dimming regulations. He was specially emphatic in declaring that the speed limit regulations under the new law made it obligatory for the people to exercise common sense. Under the new act 40 miles an hour was now prima facie of speeding instead of 25 miles as formerly. Mr. Tilley asserted that 80 per cent of accidents were due to careless driving.

Many questions were asked Mr. Tilley concerning the act and he explained different clauses.

A request from G. Earle Logan that the club members should supply cars for the transportation of the visiting members of the Baristons' Association was referred to the club transportation committee.

A. J. Riches, having recently become a proud father, was called upon to contribute a vocal solo for the pleasure of the members. A stickpin was presented to J. G. Hart as a token of appreciation of his services as assistant song leader at the recent Moncton meeting.

WAS OPERATED ON

H. C. Matthews, of the Canadian Fairbanks Morse Co., Ltd., arrived on Saturday evening from the Yarmouth, N. S., hospital, where he had been operated on about five weeks ago.

Mr. Matthews says that he collapsed in Meteghan, N. S., and was conveyed to the Yarmouth institution where he received the very best of treatment and also many courtesies from members of fraternal orders, of which he is a member.

Mr. Matthews is still very weak and intends leaving today for his old home at Wilson's Beach, Campbellton.

Island, to rest a few weeks before resuming his duties.
