EXPULSION OF SMOKE

Is Ousted From Sing Sing and Sent to Clinton Prison.

Ossining, May 8.—Charged with violating prison rules by smoking in a factory, Angelo Flosso, a prisoner in Sing Sing, got thirty days additional sentence for the offense and was ousted from Sing Sing. He will serve the balance of his original sentence, imposed for alleged assault in New York City, in Clinton prison at Dannemora, N.Y. Flosso violated the anti-smoking rules which apply to the prison factories and are rigidly enforced because of the danger to life and property.

Eight drug addicts were also evicted from the prison. Fred Morrell and Henry Wagner were among them. There were two tubercular prisoners and twenty-five long-term criminals also taken to Clinton.

The members of Trinity Young Women's Guild had a busy evening last night preparing for the quilling party next week. Two quilts were got in readiness.

AUTHOR DECLARES WRITING IS GRIND

He is a Sailor First, Says
Conrad as He Reaches
New York.

New York, May 7.—Saying that writing was "a terrible grind" and that he was a sailor first and last, Joseph Conrad, one of the world's foremost authors of sea tales, arrived here yesterday on his first visit to the United States. While at quarantine he seemed more interested in a little three-masted schooner which crossed the bow of the Tuscania than the vista of Manhattan's sky line.

Mr. Conrad said he had spent most of his time on the bridge with Capt. Bone commander of the Tuscania, who is also an author. He remarked that the Tuscania was the largest ship he had ever traveled on, although he had roved the seas the greater part of his life. In his interview Mr. Conrad made clear that he does not regard himself as a litterateur. He admitted that he knew little about modern American fiction.

"I have not read much fiction, although, of course, I know the outstanding men," he said. "My life is not a literary one; 20 years at sea does not form a literary mind. I was a seaman and never anything else. I find it a frightful grind."

In answer to a question, Mr. Conrad said that his favorite of the books he had written was "It Depends on the Day," adding that to him his books were like children in a family—"you like one better than the others some days but love them all."

The Women's Institute met yesterday afternoon in the health centre with Mrs. T. N. Vincent presiding. It was announced that Mrs. R. J. Hooper, the treasurer, expected to sail from England on May 24 for home. The agenda of the provincial annual meeting was discussed and Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor and Mrs. A. J. McNeill were appointed to represent the local branch. Hearty approval was expressed of the milk pasteurization regulations and enforcement.

The General Public Hospital will be thrown open to the public on the afternoon of May 12, Hospital Day, and visitors will be shown through every department of the hospital according to plans made yesterday at a meeting of the board of commissioners.
