If people knew the frightful risk they run of infection from unclean dentistry they would better realize the awful chances they take and what a mighty important factor cleanliness is.

No one has ever disputed the fact that there are no cleaner offices in Canada than ours. This is worthy of consideration.

BIGGEST RUSH TO CITY IS ON TODAY

An unusually large rush at the depot this morning was due to some of the trains being late, and as a result the local officials found difficulty in handling the crowd. The depot was certainly a busy place with people here to witness the big Dominion exhibition.

A special train from Amherst brought in about 300 people; this was immediately followed by the Maritime Express, which was an hour and forty minutes late. The Montreal and suburban trains also had large numbers, and a large crowd was expected on the Boston.

The information bureau is today finding difficulty handling the applications for lodging.

DOCTORS RETURN

Dr. W. W. White, G. A. B. Addy and W. Christie arrived home today on the Montreal train after having spent some time in the old country. While in London they attended the British Medical Association meetings which lasted four days. After that their time was spent in following post-graduate work in hospitals, especially in London.

Their trip across was in the Royal Edward, and rough weather was experienced. Dr. White spoke very enthusiastically of the trip and was greatly pleased with the manner in which they were treated.

Rev. Father LeBlanc, musical professor in St. Joseph's University, was expected to the city on the maritime express.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM BULLET WHICH KILLED BRUNDAGE

Wm. P. Keith's Coat Grazed
As Lead Messenger
Sped On Way

Thos. J. Phillips, Proprietor of the Shooting Gallery, Taken In Charge—Coroner Berryman is to Hold an Inquest

Another turn was taken this morning in connection with the accidental death of Harry Brundage at the exhibition grounds yesterday, when Thos. J. Phillips, owner of the shooting gallery, from which the shot which caused the lad's death came was taken in custody on a charge of having under his control a dangerous thing (the shooting gallery) in the grounds of the exhibition association, and neglecting to use reasonable precautions and exercise reasonable care to avoid danger, whereby the death of Harry Brundage was caused.

Mr. Phillips, who is a fruit and confectionery dealer, was notified to come to court and he occupied a seat in the guard room for a good part of the morning, as did Patrick Walsh and Wm. Humphrey, the two young fellows who were working for him at the fair.

Ball was fired for them this morning in the following amounts: Humphrey, $1,000, in two surties; Walsh, the same figure; and Phillips $1,000 pledged by himself, and $1,000 in two surties of $500 each. Up to 1 o'clock, however, they had not been liberated. H. H. Pickett is appearing for them.

All of them feel their positions very keenly. Walsh who is a many young fellow of twenty years, when a friend shot him by the hand this morning, to offer sympathy, said that whatever sympathy was to be given should go to the Brundage family, as their plight was certainly a sad one.

Wm. P. Keith, of this city, had a narrow escape from the bullet which pierced the heart of Harry Brundage, as the leaden messenger grazed his coat before passing to the spot where the boy was working. Mr. Keith was seated in the booth adjoining the gallery.

Coroner D. E. Berryman will this evening empanel a jury to view the body, and will commence an inquiry tomorrow evening.

MONEY SCHEME ON PIKE IS CUT INTO BY POLICE

Youthful Operator is Arrested
But Let go to Get Out of the City

An abrupt ending was put to a game being conducted on the Pike at the exhibition this morning by Samuel Kitz, aged 22, a native of Austria, when he was arrested by Deputy Chief Jenkins on a charge of keeping a common gambling game. In a short time he had made a considerable amount of money, particularly from a man named Mary, of Debe Junction, but the week market closed with his being compelled to leave town, which he promised to do at once.

Kitz had a space on the Pike wherein he ran a sort of lottery, the chances costing a dime, and the prize ranging from Jew's harps to brightly polished, loud ticking watches, of the "very best silver and gold plate." However, he was not satisfied with the returns he was receiving at the low price of ten cents, and he had increased the amount to twenty-five cents, at the same time promising the speculator, that should he put up a quarter Kitz himself would double this figure, and should the former win, he would get back his quarter and the half as well.

The lure of the mighty dollar proved too strong for several and they "bit" quite easily and readily. Kitz raised the amount, and continued to do so, until it had reached the $5 mark. Then the police stepped in and visions of a rich harvest faded rapidly from before the young man's gaze. He was brought before the court, and, promising to leave the city, was allowed to go.
