ST. JOHN BOYS HEARD FROM AS CLIFF CLIMBERS

Gavon and Raymond Baxter Scale Lofly Mountains of North Vancouver—Western Paper Tells of it

"The Express," of North Vancouver, B. C., tells of a mountain climb, in which two former St. John boys took leading parts, namely Gavon and Raymond Baxter, who lived for many years in Victoria street, North End, but who went west about three years ago, settling in North Vancouver.

The article speaks of their leaving North Vancouver, in company with a few others from that place, and going by automobile to a spot near the foot of the mountains, known as "The Lions," the guardians of the city and harbor. These are almost perpendicular and 1,000 and 1,200 feet from base to summit, with but little shrubbery, trees or other means to enable the climber to ascend, easily or rapidly. The party left on a Friday night and camped on the saddle of the hills in order to make an early start up the mountains on Saturday morning. For quite a while they were engulfed in a bank of dense fog, the Express narrates, but when it lifted they were easily repaid for their trouble by the splendid view which met their gaze.

Very few have scaled these mountains, and it is a notable feat to have one's name inscribed on the rocks at the top of the slopes. It will be interesting news to their friends in the North End, and to their former associates in the "Scott" Brigade, to learn that the names of Gavon and Raymond Baxter are hewn in the jagged rocks at the summit of "The Lions."

In the matter of the estate of Louis Nelson, hotel keeper, the administrator filed her accounts and asks for a citation to pass them. A citation was issued returnable February 6 at 11 a. m. H. H. Pickett is proctor.

ROSSI MAY BE FREE AGAIN AT AGE OF 41

Likely Away to Penitentiary Tomorrow—Relieved to Escape Death on Scaffold

It is probable that Andrew Rossi will be taken tomorrow morning to the penitentiary at Dorchester to commence his sentence of twenty five years. The young Italian will be in custody of Turnkey Cunningham.

Since being imprisoned in June last when arrested by Detective Kille, Rossi has been conducting himself well, and it is the belief of the jail officials and others who know his disposition that he will continue to do so in the penitentiary. If this is the case and he receives the usual sentence accorded "good conduct" he will be liberated in about twenty years, which would make him a free man at forty-one years old, as he is now twenty-one. Should he, however, have to serve his full time, he will not be liberated until he is forty-six. He seems greatly relieved at finding that he does not have to die by the hangman's rope and is awaiting his leaving for the prison with a remarkable degree of complacency. So far as is known his family in far-off Sunny Italy are unaware of his misfortune.

THE PETITION AGAINST TERRY IS DISMISSED

Judge McKeown disposed of the following matters in the King's Bench division this morning.

In the Fairville liquor case, which came before him on the petition of William J. Linton and others, asking that the tavern license of William W. Terry be revoked if cancelled on the ground that Mr. Terry has not complied with the act, which says that each tavern must have a certain number of sleeping rooms and stabling accommodation, His Honor found that practically all the taverns in Fairville were violating the act in that respect, and the penalty for such violation was the non-granting of the license for the period of three years. He said that, as he had discretion in the matter, he would dismiss the petition.

J. D. P. Lewis appeared for the petitioners and J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., for Mr. Terry.

In the case of Hall vs. Donaldson Bros., an action brought by the plaintiff under the Workmen's Compensation Act for injuries received while in the employ of the defendants, F. R. Taylor for the defendants took a number of technical objections, all of which were dismissed. Dr. W. B. Wallace and J. A. Barry appeared for the plaintiff.

In the case of O'Regan vs. the C. P. R., His Honor made an order for the plaintiff to pay the costs of a prior action before this court can be continued. J. R. Taylor for the defendant was in support of the order and J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., and H. D. Forbes for the plaintiff, contra.

The case of Folkins vs. Campbell, His Honor referred to the full bench. This is a review case from the parish court of Sussex, presided over by a stipendiary magistrate. The question is as to the authority of a stipendiary to preside over this court.

C.P.R. TO USE 'PHONE FOR TRAIN WORK

Will Establish Telephone System for Dispatching of Trains Between St. John and McAdam—To be Inaugurated in Spring

Following the successful operation of train dispatching by telephone on other portions of the system, instead of the telegraph, the C. P. R. has decided to install a telephone line between this city and McAdam Junction and will commence dispatching trains by this method in the coming spring.

William Downie, general superintendent of the Atlantic division said this morning in answer to a query from a Times reporter regarding a rumor that a telephone system was to be established, that the company had decided to put in a line from here to McAdam and to have their trains run in this way. He added that the work would be undertaken soon and men would be sent out to put up the wires for the service.

It is not likely that the inauguration of the telephone system will affect the telegraphers at present employed by the company as they will be kept on as operators of the telephone. The telephone line will be kept up for use in an emergency and for this reason it will be necessary to have men who can operate a telegraph key as well as the telephone.
