Portland, Ore., Oct. 14.—That there has been no large demand as yet for move the 1910 wheat crop in the Northwest is attributed to the fact that farmers have not begun to dispose of their crops, except in isolated cases, according to F. W. Robinson, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific and C. & N. lines to-day.

"The farmers in the large producing wheat districts are holding for better prices, and as a great percentage of the growers are able to do so, this year's crop has not started to move to a large extent," said Mr. Robinson.

"With a general shortage of crops throughout the country, it would seem that prices will soon become more attractive to the farmers. I look for a strong movement within the next few days. Then we will be taxed to our capacity in supplying cars to move the crops."
