The Beaver will be put on for purposes of distribution.

Col. Domville, M. P., arrived Friday on his return from England in good health and spirits. He reports a busy time across the water and that he has arranged for a telegraphic service in the Yukon, with a cable from Vancouver to Skagway and a land line to Dawson City. The colonel has another scheme up his sleeve, but he will not talk about it just now.

At the residence of the bride's father, on Dec. 21st, the marriage took place of Thomas Sturdy, eldest son of Geo. Sturdy of Trigon, P. E. I., to Miss Anna J. Newcombe, eldest daughter of George Newcombe of Crapaud, Misses Grace Sturdy and Ethel Newcombe and Messrs. Harry Newcombe and William Sturdy supported the bride and groom. Rev. Dr. Price of Trigon officiated.

Early last Sunday morning James Brown of Rothesay found a horse and rig in front of his place, and at once took the animal in out of the cold. Up to last night all his efforts to discover the owner thereof have proved fruitless. Mr. Brown says the beast is a very small black mare of uncertain age, but with a good appetite. He is anxious to hear from the party who abandoned the outfit.

The Hants Journal has been informed that Archdeacon Weston-Jones has sent in his resignation of his archdeaconry to Bishop Courtney, believing that it is to the interest of the Church of England in Prince Edward Island to have an archdeacon, over whom who is resident in that province. It appears that the archdeacon resigned when he first came to Wolfville, but the bishop at that time requested him to withdraw it.

The farmers of Upper Sackville are raising a wise course in increasing the number of cattle. W. B. Fawcett is wintering about 125 head, Wesley Fawcett has in the vicinity of 100 head, while other farmers in that neighborhood have anywhere between 25 and 40 head. When these men discovered that they would be a drug upon the market they bought up all the cattle they could handle and in this way will turn their hay into beef—Post.

A pretty wedding took place at the residence of Warden Smith, Wallace Bay, Dec. 22nd, says the Amherst Press when his daughter, Ethel, was united in marriage to William McLeod of Pugwash. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Williams, assisted by Rev. G. W. Tuttle. Miss McLeod, sister of the groom, was the bride, and was wearing a gown of light pink material with a white lace train. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lulu, while F. R. Dakin of Pugwash supported the groom.

The marriage took place at St. Mark's church, Westmorland, Dec. 23, of Miss Sadie Fowler of Ayles and St. W. Dimock of Campbellton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. M. Bliss in the presence of a large number of guests. The bride was handsomely groomed in cream silk with veil and orange blossoms, and was attended by Miss Emily Fillmore, who wore a green gown with cream satin. The groom was attended by Mr. Crawford of Campbellton—Amherst Press.

The stories about the Canadian Pacific coming to Portland, over the Portland and Ogdensburg, and making this port a terminus of their line as a summer, winter and year-round line, has been met with a possible terminal but has not made any propositions to owners of wharf property here, nor has it been negotiating with the Maine Central railroad for a lease of the Portland and Ogdensburg as far as the Press can ascertain—Portland Press.

James W. Day, Edgar Lewis, Paul Brown and George Gordon purchased from Silas Corp of Sackville what is known as the Killam property at Westbrook, N. S. There are eighteen thousand acres timbered, with a fine quality of spruce. The price paid was $25,000. It is estimated that the land will cut about four million feet. A crew of twenty-five will at once be put in the woods. It is expected to cut about seven or eight hundred thousand feet this winter—Parrsboro Leader.

A despatch received on Friday from Apple River brought the intelligence that the sch. Garfield White, while leaving that place in the morning with a cargo of deals for this port, went ashore, and when the tide went down fell over, with the result that one will probably become a total loss. The vessel is bilged, her deck beams are broken, and when the deckload went off it carried all the rigging with it. The White is a large fleet owned and employed by the White concern. There was no insurance on her. The cargo was shipped by C. T. White.

To Hold an Investigation Into the Death of Miss Creelman at Worcester.

Suicide of a Nova Scotian—Deaths of Former Provincialists—Editor Imprisoned for Contempt of Court—The Lumber and Fish Markets.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

BOSTON, Dec. 24.—The arrivals from the provinces this week have been numerous, many people having availed themselves of the reduced rates announced by the various transportation lines. The city has been full of strangers all the week. The majority of them came to town to do their shopping, while others came to spend the holiday with friends.

Next week is settling up week in business, and is generally productive of a few failures. The shake-up in the banking business here is expected to be embarrassing to a number of houses, but the men behind the return movement are doing their utmost to bring about the change with as little injury to business men as possible. The Howard National Bank, one of the sixteen to be closed, is being investigated by an agent of the controller of the currency. The bank's affairs are in a very unsatisfactory state, and a few weeks ago an application was made for the appointment of a receiver, but a loan of $200,000 enabled the bank to pay its depositors. The arrangements for the opening of a branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia here have been completed. The bank will be located on State street, near the State house, and will be in the business of the city. It is expected to attract much of the Canadian business now handled by the local banks.

It is becoming more evident that the pulp trade, which has already gained a foothold in the province, New Brunswick and Quebec is destined to flourish as it did in the valley of the Androscoggin River in Maine and New Hampshire. The pulp wood supply in England is gradually dwindling, and the leading pulp and paper manufacturers are looking to Canada, where there is said to be enough pulp wood to supply the continent and parts of Europe for fifty years. It is understood that the International Paper Company, the trust that controls all the newspaper mills in the eastern part of the United States and several in Canada, is prospecting in northern New Brunswick, where it would like to establish a mill. The new Grand Falls company, composed of leading capitalists of the United States and Canada, including James H. Manchester and H. H. McLean of St. John, is attracting much attention in this city. The company has been organized, and a rule of the opinion that the Grand Falls company will carry out its plans and erect one of the biggest, if not the most extensive plants in the world at Grand Falls, thereby transforming that place from a village into a city within a few years. The only ditch that stands in the way of operations being pushed in the claims of a lumberman at Grand Falls who holds rights on the St. John River at that point, and Senator Francis of Vermont, who is one of the promoters, expects that this difficulty will be adjusted at the next session of the Canadian parliament.

The Amherst Newspaper Publishers Association has already petitioned Washington asking for the removal of the duties on paper and wood pulp, and although the duties will not likely be taken off at present, there is good reason to believe that in time the duties will amount to little or nothing. However, if the present duty stands for a few years it will surely result in the erection of more pulp mills in Canada by American capital. The paper manufacturers of New England and New York state are beginning to admit that the industry is gradually moving northward, and that New Brunswick and Quebec have prospered days before them if the pulp lands are kept from mania and judiciously developed. Locally lumbermen look for higher prices for their spruce product in view of the increasing consumption of pulp wood.

The following from the maritime provinces were in the city this week: R. E. Quigley, J. E. Warner, M. R. Keith and Mrs. Keith, E. H. Corleight, St. John; J. S. Nell, Fredericton; W. Woods, Megawick; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Williams, C. Acheson, R. Richmond, Halifax; A. E. MacDonald, Pictou; J. Galt, Yarmouth.

Rev. Hibbard Lockhart, a native of Cornwallis, N. S., who is at present in Lowell, has received a call to the Horace Memorial Free Baptist church of Chatham. Rev. Mr. Lockhart has accepted the call, and takes charge February 9th.

The Worcester district court will hold an investigation next Thursday on the death of the Truro, N. S., girl, Miss Gertrude A. Creelman, attendant at the Worcester lunatic hospital, who committed suicide three weeks ago after she had been charged with appropriating some old clothing which she considered was of no use at the hospital. The hearings promise to be sensational, and it is understood the general management of the hospital will be looked into. The treatment of the unfortunate girl has been severely criticized by some of the other employees, the press and the public.

William A. Gillen, formerly of Nova Scotia, committed suicide at Hotel Brunswick, Worcester, Friday, by shooting himself. Papers found upon him indicated that he was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and that he had recently been employed upon the Canadian Pacific and Northern Pacific roads. He left a memorandum stating that $300 of his death benefit money might be paid to his intended wife, Miss M. Birch of Morris, Manitoba, and also saying that Bangor Lodge, 443, of the Brotherhood would bury him. His death benefit certificate read payable to his father, William Gillen of Nova Scotia.

The following deaths of former residents of the provinces are announced: In South Boston, Dec. 23, John Knollin, aged 46 years, formerly of St. John; in Dorchester, Dec. 21, Mrs. Maria Augusta Pades, wife of Hugh C. Pades, aged 62, formerly of Fredericton, in Roxbury, Dec. 24, Miss Margaret Gillis, aged 18 years, daughter of Hugh and the late Catherine Gillis of Antigonish; at Gardner, Belmont D. Cornier, formerly of Buctouche, at New York, Dec. 17, Joseph Connors, son of Francis and Catherine Connors of Antigonish, N. S.

The St. John skaters, W. H. Merritt and F. B. Coombs, who are to take part in races at Montreal, N. J., Monday, are attracting much attention in skating circles. It is agreed that Merritt is a hard man to beat.

There are rumors in Portland that the Canadian Pacific railroad is making an effort to secure a large piece of property along the water front and enter into competition with the Grand Trunk people, but the story is doubted by steamboat men here.

The big moose shot on the Miramichi by Dr. Hector Bishop of Boston is fetching considerable price advertising for New Brunswick in the press of Boston, New York and Maine. It is understood Dr. Bishop will exhibit the monster at the New York sportsmen's exhibition.

Rev. Alexander McGregor, pastor of the Pawtucket, R. I., Congregational church, formerly of Yarmouth, and well known in the provinces, died last night. He was born in Glasgow in 1824, and was a classmate in the University of Edinburgh of Dr. John Watson (Ian MacLaren).

The sentencing of Editor Torrey E. Warden of the Boston Traveller to a month in jail, for commenting on a manslaughter trial before the case had gone to the jury, has created a flurry in legal and newspaper circles of the country. The case is without a precedent in Massachusetts. The imprisonment of two New Brunswick editors a few years ago has been cited as not altogether unlike the Warden case. Many protests have been made against the imprisonment of the Traveller's editor, and it is thought the present laws governing contempt cases, when they permit a judge to be prosecuting attorney, judge and jury, will be changed by the legislature.

The spruce trade is not as brisk as it was two or three weeks ago. Building operations are slackened, and the demand for the present time is small. The general outlook, however, is regarded as encouraging by Boston dealers, and they confidently expect a prosperous trade next season. There has been little building in the city and suburbs for several years, but contracts already made for next season indicate that operations will be extensive. Spruce frames, 10 inches, are quoted at $14; 10 and 12 inch frames, $15; boards, one and one half inch, $12 to 13; kiln dried footboards, $16 to 18; air dried, $12 to 13; extra claboards, $28 to 29; clear, $26 to 27; laths, 1.5-8 in., $1.00 to 2; and laths, 1.1-3 in., $1.75 to 1.80.

Generally New York market prices have been quiet, owing to the holiday trade in other lines. Dry and pickled fish are dull at unchanged prices. Canned lobsters are in good demand at $2.75 to 2.90 for flats, and $2.60 to 2.85 for round. Live lobsters are worth 18c, and boiled 15c. Provincial smelts continue in good demand, but prices are lower, owing to increased receipts. Prices are from 7 to 9c. Native smelts are quoted at 10c.

SUSSEX NEWS.
N. B., Dec. 26.—The morning and evening Christmas day services in Trinity church were well attended. The church never looked handsomer than it did this year, thanks to the seal and energy of the decoration committee, who so beautifully decorated it.

At the morning service the rector in a feeling manner thanked those who had so generously presented him with a handsome fur cap and gloves as a token of their good will and esteem.

The Reformed Episcopal church at Upper Corner was also handsomely decorated.

The death of C. A. Stockton was heard of with much regret by his numerous relatives, friends and acquaintances in Sussex and vicinity.

On Saturday evening as Chas. Morrison, express messenger in the Quebec train between St. John and Quebec, was standing on the sidewalk, a man named De Courcy, without any provocation, struck him, knocking him down, and then brutally kicked him in the face, with the result that Morrison had two of his teeth knocked out and his face badly bruised. A warrant was at once issued for De Courcy's arrest and he was taken to Hampton jail the same night.

During the Christmas holidays, Judge Wallace of the customs department, and post office officials have been kept on the jump receiving and examining and distributing parcels that have come through the mails to parties from their various friends at a distance. The number received is greatly in excess of those in former years.

The body of Mrs. Wm. Gray, who died in the United States, was brought to Sussex on Monday on the C. P. R. and was interred in the Methodist burying ground.

A large number of young folk spent Monday afternoon in Alhambra rink, enjoying the splendid ice there.

Mr. and Mrs. William Broad and daughter, Hazel, of Moncton, and Charles Arnold, also F. W. Arnold and family of St. John, spent Christmas day at the "Willow" with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Arnold—Edridge Pigeon of St. John spent Christmas day and Monday with friends and acquaintances in Sussex—Heber Arnold of St. John spent Christmas in Sussex with his brother, Major O. R. Arnold, at the "Knoll."

Rev. Mr. Camp baptized a number of converts in the Church Avenue Baptist church last evening.

CHRISTMAS PLEASANTIES.

The following exchange of telegrams between the officials of the C. P. R. Telegraph Co. was an incident of Christmas eve:

ST. JOHN, Dec. 24.—The winter port staff salute their friends in the Nova Scotia capital and wish them a very Merry Christmas and freedom from fog and ice for the New Year. "What we have we hold."

HALIFAX, Dec. 24.—The Halifax staff heartily reciprocate kind wishes from the winter port (? staff). We sincerely wish that Santa Claus will bring you a permanent tide, so you will be able to "hold" you have.

The annual Christmas dinner at the general public hospital was a jolly occasion. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Maher of the board of trustees, Secretary Oliver, Dr. White, Dr. Thomas Walker, Dr. Addy, Dr. W. A. Christie, Dr. Ellis, Dr. McIntyre and Dr. Macaulay. The meal was presided with a splendid easy chair and Dr. Macaulay with a gold headed cane.

WOLFVILLE.

Elected President of the W. C. T. U.

About Well-Known People.

WOLFVILLE, Dec. 26.—Mrs. J. E. Higgins has arrived from Astoria, Oregon, called here on account of the illness of her daughter, who was attending Acadia Seminary. Miss Higgins is recovering rapidly, and hopes to continue her studies.

Miss True, principal of Acadia Seminary, is recovering from an illness of several weeks' duration.

Stanley DeWitt, eldest son of Dr. DeWitt, has arrived in town, on a short visit to his home.

At the last meeting of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. (Dr.) Trotter occupied the chair, having been unanimously elected president in place of Mrs. J. F. Turris, who was obliged to resign on account of illness.

Miss Vera McFadden, formerly of Antigonish, is practicing her profession at Vancouver, being the first lady physician in that city.

Earl Burgess, third year man at McGill, and Miss Ida Burgess, who has been studying at Ursula's Institute, Montreal, are home for their vacation.

The towboat "Falmouth," owned by the S. P. Benjamin Lumber Co. of this town, while towing scows from Windsor to Portland, ran aground into the marsh below Mr. Benson, where she will be obliged to remain during the winter.

A very enjoyable Christmas concert was given by the Sabbath school children, on Sunday evening, in the Baptist church, which was decorated with evergreens for the occasion. Appropriate music and recitations were given.

ROTHESAY'S BOYS' COLLEGE.

The Rothersey college for boys, which will reopen for the Easter term on Monday, January 6th, is equipped with a full and efficient staff of teachers under the principalship of A. E. Rogers and offers not only an opportunity for securing a thorough and practical education, but is in a position to properly prepare students for entrance to the universities of Dalhousie, McGill and New Brunswick.

The situation of the college is remarkable for its natural beauty, and is such that good health is almost positively assured, while commodious residences and new school rooms contribute materially to the comfort of the students. Full particulars of courses of instruction, terms, etc., will be furnished on application to Isaac E. Moore, B. A., principal, Rothersey, N. B.

ZOLA'S ESCAPE.

An Interesting Account of How He Got to London from Paris.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The Paris correspondent of the Times gives an interesting account this morning on the way M. Zola escaped to London after the sentence imposed upon him in July, in the trial on the charge of libel brought against him and M. Perreux, managing editor of the Aurore, by the officers of the Esterhazy court martial. According to M. De Biowitz, M. Zola has lived at various country places in England quietly ever since. It appears that his Paris friends had the greatest difficulty to persuade him to seek refuge in England, the course they considered best for the interests of Dreyfus' revision.

DICKINS IN REAL LIFE.

A former master of Elly Workhouse has just been admitted as a pupil inmate to the institution over which he formerly presided. Such an incident is, we believe, without precedent in poor law administration, without Dickens satirized it in "Oliver Twist" in the face which he provided for Mr. Fumble—Eastern Daily Press.
