OBITUARY.

Tohn Dick.

The death of John Dick occurred suddenly at St. George (N. B.) Tuesday of apoplexy. He was in his eighty-second year. Deceased was a well known steve-home.

He led an unright and honest life, and was a consistent member of the Baptist denomination. In politics he was a lifelong Liberal.

James Clerke wook oco. Bebert Chrike, of the Customs, received a telegram at moon Thesday telling of the death of his tather, James Clerke, at the home of Mrs. Norman Rutney, Bridgetown (N. S.) About a fortnight ago Mr. and Mrs. Clerke left their home in Lynn, where they had been residing with their son, to visit Mrs. Rumsey, The steamer was out in a big gale, and the aged couple, suffered intensely from seasickness. From that time Mr. Clerke grew gradually worse and failed to survive the shock. He was eighty-three years of age. By his death the last of the older generation of Clerkes is removed. For fifty years deceased conducted a last manufacturing business, first on Golden Ball Corner, and later at the head of St. Patrick street. He was a man of sterling character and a prominent Baptist. Mrs. Clerke was formerly Miss Sulis, sister of the late John Sulis, resident in this city until his removal to Halliax a few years ago. The survive (Mass): John Bebert Charke of the Customs, received years ago. The surviving children are Thomas Clerke, of Lynn (Mass.); John, of Salem; Robert, of this city, and Mrs.

(N. B.), being a brother of the late Georg and Charles Merritt. He came to Ham soll. Mr. Merritt is survived by one son, Col. Merritt of London (Eng.) Death was due to pneumonia.—Toronto Mail, PRINCESS RADZIWILL SUES FOR $7,000,000.

London, Nov. 5.—Princess Radziwill to-day issued a writ demanding $7,000,000 from Lord Rosebery, Earl Grey, and Alfred Beit, Dr. Jameson, L. L. Mitchell and B. A. Hawksley, trustees of the egtate of the late Cecil Rhodes, under an agreement alleged to have been made on or about June 20, 1899, between henself and Mr. Rhodes. This is a sequel to the arrest and imprisonment of the princess at Cape Town in 1902 on the charge of forging Rhodes signature to bills for several thousand pounds. The case is expected to lead to many exposures.

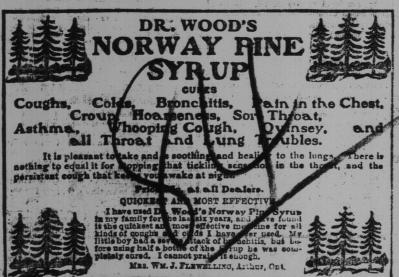

The friends of Princess Radziwill say she possesses documents of high political importance, which were suppressed during the trial at Cape Town and which will be produced in court, dealing with South African matters, particularly with the Jameson raid and the alleged complicity of Former Colonial Secretary Chamberlain therein.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS.

he Unknown Murderer, on Seeing Escape Hopeless, Drew a Revolver and Flew His Brains Out-The Police Mystified by the Tragic evident that the plan of the assassin in making his escape had been to dispard his overcoat and the Derby hat, and to wear the cap, which would have given him the appearance of a disreputable street loafer, but his escape being cut off, he determined to commit suicide rather than to submit to capture.

A member of the Armenian rev ary committee said tonight to the Associated Press correspondent:—

This series of erimes in a hitherto quiet suburb has brought terror to the Armenians, who fear to leave their headquarters except under police protection. The police, while believing that the murderer of Sagouni and the assassin of the Armenians and the assassin of the Armenians

A prominent police official tonight said to the Associated Press:—

"We are utterly in the dark regarding this case. There is not a man in Scotland Yard who is at all familiar with the Armenians in Loadon. We do not know where to begin in the work of unravelling these well arranged and successfully carried out doings."

The murdener was seen strolling earer lessly about Peckham Rye throughout the afternoon, evidently waiting for his victims to leave the Armenian headquarters. In the afternoon eight of the Hentschakists went out for a walk in three parties about 100 yards apart. The assassin followed them and after firing his revolver tried to escape, but he collided with a laborer who was running to see what happened, and fell to the ground. The laborer disarmed him as he lay, but the murderer drew a second revolver from his pocket and committed suicide while in a stiting posture.

COBDEN'S MISTAKE.

Ex-Colonial Secretary Says the Great Apostle of Free Trade Never Con templated the United States Being Anything But An Agricultural STANDARD OLD OCTOPUS Country.

Nov. 5-Mr. Chamberlain

"We have brothers in the colonies. We reverence and glory in those family ties and no politician should induce us to do "We know the preferential system has been asked for by all the colonies on three largest audience the former colonial secretary had faced during the fiscal campaign, and the enthusiasm, naturally, exceeded the remarkable scenes witnessed in the other cities, and was emphasized by the Chamberlainite victory at yesterday's municipal election in Birmingham. Mr. Chamberlain, who was accompanied on the platform by many prominent persons, rose to speak at 8.10 p. m. He was given a great reception the cheering and singing of For He's a Jolly Good Fellow lasting many minutes.

great reception , the cheering and singing of For He's a Jolly Good Fellow lasting many minutes.

After dealing with conditions during the past fifty years under free trade, and quoting figures to sustain his argument. Mr. Chamberlain commented on Cobden's position and quoted Cobden as saying that the United States would eventually abandon manufacturing that "their workmen would go back to the land and dig and delve for us." Americans, however, said Mr. Chamberlain, had not so conceived their national destiny, and did not believe that they were created by Providence to dig and delve and plow for the benefit of Great Britain. They knew that they had resources of their own and behind the tariff wall they had built up their industries until they had reached a stage where, unsatisfied with the extent of their own markets, they were invading those of the United Kingdom.

Mr. Chamberlain said he did not blame the United States, but he appealed to Englishmen to say whether they would adhere to the old system or adopt another which would prevent the American invasion.

Mr. Chamberlain spoke for nearly two hours in the main, repeating his former arguments and appealing to the patriotism and self interest of the people of the United Kingdom to sustain his fiscal project.

TARTE OFF TO ENGLAND TODAY AND MAY HELP MR. CHAMBERLAIN

Montreal, Nov. 4—(Special)—Hon. J. Israel Tarte said today that he intended leaving for England tomorrow. "If I go, it will be as a newspaper man, and also as a public man, anxious to ascertain public sentiment in England on the tariff proposals of Mr. Chamberlain," he said. He was asked: "Will you take part in Chamberlain's campaign?" and he replied: "I cannot say definitely as yet."

Wade lived on a farm near Guilford Center. This forenoon a liog got out of a pasture lot and with characteristic stubbornness refused to be driven back through the gate. Wade chased it about until he was out of breath and out of temper.

Finally, exasperated to desperation, he rushed into the house and got his shotgun, declaring he would kill it.

His wife followed him to the door and laughed at him. Quick as a flash he whirled about and fired the gun at her. She dropped as if dead. Stung with re-
