Mr. Wylie said that the Dominion government charges two eents per acre for the grazing lease and on this the province now adds two pd a half cents an acre, while the eidinary school tax will run up to ten cents an acre, besides the local improvement tax. The burden of taxation thus placed on the rancher make it impossible for him to conduct his business under present conditions. This whole tax will amount to eighty cents per head of stock per year. The affect of the further tax will mean that the leases will be thrown up by the ranchers and the province of game fowl. Mr. Ira A. MacKay, a well known barrister of Halifax, has contributed an article to the March number of the Canadian Magazine entitled "Canadian Nationality" Many will think that he is a little too frank in his confessions of Canadian dependence on Great Britain, for while he is correct theoretically the theory and outward appearances of many, our forms of government are merely forms, which in actual practice are greatly modified if not entirely changed. Take, for instance, the function of the governor general of Canada. Government is done through him and in theory he governs; but every thinking person knows that he does not govern. Nevertheless the Canadian Magazine is doing a creditable work in helping to make these weaknesses in our system more generally described. erally known.
