

You know too that the government has put itself definitely on record as approving of Canadian participation in the establishment of an international organization to further national security through international co-operation.

No people of any nation can hope to enjoy for long the blessings of peace and prosperity if these are denied to others.

Let it be our pride as Canadians that we are doing what we can to fashion a new order, not only for ourselves but for our comrades in all the United Nations.