

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

SECTION 1. We, the members of this Association, do publish and declare that our aims and objects are as follows:

SEC. 2. That whatever right belongs to one member belongs to all members alike as long as they remain in good standing in this Association.

SEC. 3. Chief of those rights is the right of each member to receive fair and just remuneration for his labor.

SEC. 4. An injury to one is the concern of us all. And we pledge to each other all mutual aid and assistance.

SEC. 5. We pledge ourselves as men of principle and honor to assist one another in distress, sickness or accident.

SEC. 6. Absolute justice is the right of every being. We therefore emphatically declare that in all our dealings, both with one another, as well as our employers and other persons, we shall be guided by the eternal principles of right and the glorious standard of justice.

SEC. 7. These being our cardinal principles as governing the action of this Association, we submit them as such.
