Most of the warrobe of Haverly's Juvanile Pinafore Company was burned in the Port Huron Opera House fire on the morning of the 19th. The Company were anabled to play in London the same night with a new and complete wardrobe, goods awing been bought in Port Huron, and ust out on the cars by women brought for that purpose, while on the road to Condon. When the Company arrived in Lendon twenty-seven machines were set to work on the clothes, which were completed before 8 o'clock the same night. This is an illustration of the promptness aguired in show management in an emergency.

The Commissioners appointed by the Government to examine the County Treasurer's books and the financial affairs of the counties of Lennox and Addington have concluded their examination. It is said there is a definit of $29,000. The Treasurer refused to give any explanations before the Commissioners relative to the deficit. It has come out that year after year there were discrepancies and deficiencies. Sometimes an odd $3,000 or so of balance was not carried over to next year, and sometimes the balance, in the books, on January 1st (as in 1870) was $4,000, and in the bank $9.
