DISASTROUS FIRE AT WOODSTOCK

About two o'clock this morning fire broke out in Cowan's clothing store at Woodstock and the building was gutted and the stock destroyed. The stock of the Manzer dry goods store was practically ruined by smoke and water and Mal's drug store suffered a good deal from the same cause.

WINDSOR WHISPERINGS

Several agree that the night of Jan. 11 was the worst they ever experienced. Such a severe east gale passed over the land doing some little damage to almost everyone, and no great damage only to a few. One of Mrs. Mary Craig's barns was blown down. Clifford Dickinson's hog house was unroofed, one of Arthur Orser's barns was partly unroofed. W. C. Forrest had to have new barn doors made. G. B. Wasson had a new hay rack blown all to pieces.

Mrs. Tyson Nicholson and son Winston of Simonds spent last week-end with her daughter, Mrs. Arnold Orser.

The missionary meeting was held at Mrs. P. E. Dickinson's Sunday night. A good number was present. Mrs. P. E. Dickinson gave a very interesting talk about our medical missionaries in India and their work there. The Mrs. H. L. Dickinson, W. C. Forrest and C. P. Wasson each had a reading in connection with the work. The singing was good. All went home feeling the meeting had been a success in every way. The next will be at Mrs. G. B. Wasson's, Feb. 8.

Miss Faye Stoddard is visiting her sister, Mrs. Raymond Dickinson.

Mrs. George Elliott was calling on Mrs. Clifford Dickinson last Monday. Glad to hear that Mrs. Frank Orser is doing nicely since the operation performed recently.

DEMMANS GETS A REAL SUPRISE

I've Seen Thimble a Thousand Times That I Tried Tansic, Says Winnipeg Man.

"I never was so surprised at anything in my life as I was at the relief I got from my first bottle of Tansic, and five bottles of the medicine have made me perfectly well and strong again," said Joseph Demmans, a well-known college student, rooming at 21 Jane St., Winnipeg, Man.

"About a year ago I caught an awful cold which stayed with me all the winter and kept me feeling far from up to the mark. This last spring I managed to get rid of the cold but my system had become badly disordered. I had such awful pains and cramps in my stomach that I just dreaded to eat, for even the lightest kind of food disagreed with me, and I bloated with gas and suffered misery. I had no energy for my studies, and felt weak and worn out all the time.

"I read so much about Tansic that I bought a bottle one Saturday afternoon, and I have been thankful a thousand times that I did, for the medicine has rid me of the indigestion and put me in the very best of health. I eat hearty and enjoy my meals now and have gained several pounds in weight too. I have plenty of strength and energy and feel good all the time. Tansic has been worth so much to me that I'm only too glad to recommend it."

Tansic is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

He looked as wise as an owl, did he. His tricks were well adjusted. He declined to advertise, you see. And in a year he bustled.

A Grand Old Sea Empress

When the Empress of Japan sailed from Vancouver for Yokohama, Kobe, Nagasaki, Shanghai and Hong Kong a short time ago, she started on her one hundred and fifty-fifth voyage. A voyage in steamship parlance is a round trip, or, in other words, until the ship returns to her home port again. The distance from Vancouver to Hong Kong is 14,500 miles, or a total of 14,500 miles to be covered on each voyage. When the Empress of Japan arrived at the port of Vancouver, she established a record for Trans-Pacific voyages. With the completion of her one hundred and fifty-fourth voyage, the Empress of Japan had covered 2,500,000 miles in the Canadian Pacific service, or equal to nearly one hundred times around the globe. In computing this record, there is not taken into her account her four years' war service.

The Empress of Japan was built at the yards of the Harland, Wolff and Company of Glasgow, Scotland, and arrived at Vancouver in 1911. She is a steel twin-screw steamship, three masts, two funnels, of 6,000 tons, is 436.5 ft. in length, 52.5 ft. in breadth, and 33.1 ft. in depth, 200 A-I according to Lloyd's Register, and is noted for her trim yacht-like appearance. She has enjoyed greater popularity during her entire career than almost any of the smaller class of steamships on either the Atlantic or Pacific.

For thirty years the Empress of Japan has been in constant service without a single mishap to her record. Although in her day she was considered the finest of her type afloat, and for two decades was "Queen of the Pacific," she is impaired that lower only when the smaller and larger Empresses of Canada and Empress of Asia were added to the Canadian Pacific fleet between Vancouver and the Orient. It is a tribute to the builders of the early days when it is known that the ship's original hull was still in her hull and doing good service. In fact, the Empress of Japan still maintains a speed of 18 1/2 knots an hour, and on October 8 she made 200 miles in the lower-hull record. The Empress of Japan accomplished the last trip from Yokohama to Vancouver in a little less than 22 days, allowing for the weathering day. None of the early Canadian Pacific ships which have reached the Pacific service can be said to have equalled themselves when they cover the distance in less than 22 days.
