MR. DRURY'S UNIQUE POSITION

Unless the United Farmers of Ontario show a little more public spirit and provide a seat for Hon. E. C. Drury they will be open to the suspicion that their conceptions of public service is not as pure and unadulterated as they would have people think.

Regardless of how he may make out as Premier and leader, Mr. Drury was chosen by the political school that backed him as the best fitted to head the Provincial Government. That selection carries with it the moral obligation of the United Farmers, to place their leader in a position where he has a chance to carry out the work for which he was selected.

When the Drury administration was formed it was heralded abroad that there were none in the ranks of the United Farmers who pressed their claims for portfolios. This, if true, was an exemplification of unselfishness that is rare in politics and the people paid tribute to the Farmers for their sincerity and exalted principles.

Three months have gone by and yet this same political party holds the unique and almost unparalleled distinction of leaving their chosen leader in the most embarrassing position of remaining without a seat. Until he is given a seat he cannot sit in the Assembly nor take part in the deliberations of that legislative body.

That there should have been no one among the United Farmers whose sense of public duty and self effacement would induce him to make a personal sacrifice in favor of Mr. Drury is remarkable. It qualifies the most ardent of enthusiasts which prompted friends of the new Government to say that no one sought a cabinet office.

Mr. Drury today is premier, by virtue of selection of his party and of the Lieutenant Governor. He should be given an opportunity to show what he and his Government can do. If he is not given that opportunity soon the electors of Ontario can form but one opinion, and that is that the political doctrines of the United Farmers are just as selfish as those of any party that has ever held office at Queen's Park. In fact had the same situation developed among either of the old parties the Premier and leader would long before this have been honored by a constituency so that he would not be kept in the uncertain and rather humiliating position of being a leader without the fidelity of his followers.

FROM OTHER PENS

WHY THE STEEL STRIKE FAILED (Buffalo Courier.)

In the order of the officials of the steel workers, calling off the steel strike, one cannot but note that the attitude of the public toward the strike was entirely overlooked when causes for the abandonment of the strike were cited.

"The Steel Corporations," says the order "with the active assistance of the press, the courts, the federal troops, state police and many other public officials, have denied steel workers their rights to free speech, free assembly and the right to organize and by this arbitrary and ruthless abuse of power, have brought about a condition" compelling the committee to call off the strike.

The steel workers' officials ignore the fact that the strike lacked sympathy of the public, due to encouragement to be overwhelming evidence that the strike was called not because of any general demand by the workers but to promote aims of the men who were attempting to organize the steel workers. The American spirit of fair play would have produced a very different public attitude had the workers themselves demanded the strike to get relief from wrongs.

It must be remembered, too, that law and order were enforced not to prevent the strikers from winning, but to maintain the rights of those who wanted to work.

Resignation of W. Z. Foster, evidence against whom is a syndicate, was presented at a congressional hearing, less its force to encourage the public to believe wiser management of the steel workers' affairs will result, because of the committee's statement.

BRITISH RAILWAY SETTLEMENT

(Toronto Globe.)

The settlement of the British railway dispute will give a breathing spell to British industry, and strengthen the forces within the ranks of Labor which have no revolutionary aims.

An element of danger in the situation was the rejection by the unions of the Government's first offer, against the advice of their able and experienced leader, Mr. J. H. Thomas. Fortunately the Government consented to reopen the case and improve the terms for the employees in the lower grades of the service, who have been the centre of dissatisfaction. It means much for the industrial peace of the country that Mr. Thomas remains in authority. He opposed the precipitate method of calling the last railway strike, but continued in office in order to keep the organization from falling into irresponsible hands.

The settlement may forestall the union of the railwaymen, the miners and the transport workers—the "Triple Alliance"—upon which the miners' leaders depend to enforce their demand for nationalization. The campaign in favor of the nationalization of mines is in full swing in the United Kingdom, the object being to persuade the Government, by the pressure of public opinion, to accept the Sankey report in full. Failing the Government's compliance, a Labor Congress will be held in February to decide upon the plan of attack. While organized Labor is almost a unit for nationalization, there is a sharp division over methods. The moderates will urge that the issue be fought out at the next general election and left to Parliament—Mr. Smillie, the miners' leader, advocates immediate industrial action if the Government does not surrender, and alleges that the party in power would manoeuvre an election so that no decision on nationalization would be obtained. It is believed that Thomas will oppose Smillie, and if he can carry the railway operatives with him he may succeed in preventing the general paralysis of industry which the Triple Alliance could bring about.

Hospital for Sick Children TORONTO

Upkeep of Big Charity Requires Fifty Cents a Minute.

Dear Mr. Editor:

The 44th annual report of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, shows a notable advance in every department of its service to the suffering and crippled youngsters of this province. The ward accommodation has been taxed to its capacity, and the summer annex, the Lakeside Home, was opened for the first time since the outbreak of war.

The daily average of cot patients has increased during the year from 192 to 223, including children from practically every county in Ontario. Even had the cost of supplies and labor remained stationary, the substantial increase in the number of patients would alone account for the addition to the charity's debt, which at the close of the fiscal year was $109,000. This debt has become an embarrassing burden. Further increase, must threaten impairment of an enviable efficiency.

The Hospital is the forefront of all institutions upon this continent devoted to the care of sick children. It cost $335,399 to maintain last year. This great sum not only puts at the service of the children of Ontario all the resources of medical science, but in addition, provides for a training school for 120 nurses and for the most complete clinical facilities for the University students who are preparing to engage in their profession throughout the province.

The income which must be forthcoming to finance this absolutely essential work figures out at seven hundred dollars a day; and as there is no endowment fund, all but a fraction of that amount has to be derived from individual benevolence. Therefore the friends who are making a Christmas appeal to every lover of children to foot the bills for some period of time, no matter how short it may be. A minute of mercy costs fifty cents.

For churches, societies, lodges, etc., who have more ample funds wherewith to assist the youngsters to a fair start in life, the naming of cots is suggested. A number of memorial cots have been thus dedicated in honor of the overseas service of fellow-members. This privilege is extended in recognition of gifts of $200 to the Main Hospital or $50 to the Lakeside Home, which can be paid in annual instalments if so desired.

Literature, illustrative of all branches of the past year's work, together with other information, as desired, will be gladly furnished on application to the Secretary, the Hospital for Sick Children, College Street, Toronto. Contributions should also be addressed to the Secretary.

The New Electorate

The Women of Canada

CHANGING conditions have given the Dominion a new electorate—the women of Canada.

Canadian womanhood, to take full advantage of its prerogatives, to take its proper place in the management of Canadian affairs, must keep informed on the questions of the hour—must have the knowledge of events that will be the foundation of definite opinions on public questions.

Women Must Read the Daily Newspaper

The extension of the franchise to women was the fulfillment of a policy consistently advocated by The Globe in season and out of season.

But this is only the beginning. Womanhood must serve as well as vote. They must advocate reforms that are badly needed.

There must be legislation for the aged, as well as for the young, pensions for mothers, educational improvements, unemployment and sickness insurance.

These are some of the questions on which the womanhood of Canada will now have to take sides. Therefore, in this respect, The Globe has a special appeal for progressive, right thinking Canadian women.

The Globe is not a political organ. It never has submitted to outside dictation. It supports progressive liberalism, because it believes that true liberalism draws its inspiration from the needs of the people.

Its daily Women's Department and Thursday's Women's Section have a special interest for womanhood in the home. It was the first Toronto paper to establish a women's department, edited for all Canadian homemakers.

The Globe is first and last a Great Family Newspaper. It serves the women in the home, in public life, in business, in the professions and in industry.

What The Globe has been in the past is its guarantee of what it will be in the future. The aim of its publishers and its Editor is to take advantage of the tremendous facilities at its disposal—to make it even more worthy of a place in every Canadian home.

WEN MOORE IN PICCADILLY JIM

Arare treat is in store for the patrons of the King George Theatre. Moore will be seen in his first Selznick production, "Piccadilly Jim". This is a sparkling comedy, a picture of Pelham Grenville Woodhouse's story which, in its original form appeared serially in The Saturday Evening Post and won nationwide popularity.

As a photoplay the satire is said to be even funnier than when it was splitting the sides of several million readers a week. Owen Moore leads to the title role a remarkable case of comedy values which serve to draw from each scene every single bit of humor that the author wrote into it, and sometimes just a bit more.

The star's portrayal of the light-hearted, care free, and irrepressible youngster who rolls into trouble and rolls out again is one of the best bits of acting that the screen has ever known.

Zena Keefe plays opposite to Mr. Moore and her work is remarkable. It is by just such sterling work as this that she won the honor that is hers in 1920, when she is to star in a series of Selznick pictures.

The rest of the cast is proportionate.
