Items of Interest

A pension plan for the benefit of the 15,000 employees of Armour & Company, based on a gift of $1,000,000 from President J. Ogden Armour, became operative Nov. 1st. Employees who have served twenty years may be pensioned after reaching 57 years of age. Women may retire at 50.

The late census of the United States shows that the percentage of colored people in the whole population is decreasing. Thirty years ago men classified as white constituted 86 1/2 per cent of the whole; in 1910 they constituted about 90 per cent. Moreover, the blacks while they increased in number between 1900 and 1910, did so at a lesser rate than in the previous ten years.

The seedless lemon, to produce which botanical experts had unsuccessfully labored for many years, has been discovered in California. The bulb from which the trees now bearing the seedless lemon have been grown, came from a sample labeled "Citron of Commerce." Fruit growers believe that the fruit was created through budding.

Ever seeking for something new, the leaders of fashion in Paris have decided upon an innovation for this winter, which is likely to cause considerable sensation if it is ever transplanted to this northern climate. In fashionable soirees women are to have the feet and ankles bare. Although delicate white satin shoes with floral borders may be allowed, in exceptional cases, on condition that the flowers shall be natural and shall leave the bare ankles.

We notice by the Digby Weekly Courier, which gave a cut of the man, that the Syrian boxer and wrestler George Nedeff, of Eastport, is now there and will box Walter Langford, of Vermont, in a 6 round bout. He will also give a wrestling match and offers a dollar for every minute anyone will stay on the mat with him. When in St. John's George was not a particular success in either department of athletics.

MINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES NEURALGIA.

Lansdowne Backs the Government

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day. The Lords discussed Anglo-German affairs without any fresh revelations. Lord Courtney, Liberal, attacked the Government. Lord Morley and Lord Lansdowne defended it. Courtney desired to know why the British could not come to an arrangement with Germany as they had done with France, Russia and the States. He declared that Lloyd George had been guilty of an outburst of which no Englishman could be proud, and one that naturally promoted ill-feeling in Germany and brought the country into a real peril of war. Morley said the entente of 1904 was an agreement giving Britain a free hand in Egypt and to France a free hand in Morocco. As Britain had enjoyed her share of the benefits of the agreement, it would be intolerable to have refused France hers. The whole nation, continued Morley, was intensely desirous of friendship with Germany. There was no reason why the German naval programme should diminish that desire. But they must consider all the circumstances. Morley declared that Grey had done everything possible to encourage a better feeling. No Cabinet had ever met with a greater intention of not drifting into a single unnecessary antagonism. Lansdowne said that the entente with France was the dominant factor in Britain's foreign policy.

Germans are Pessimistic.

Special to Evening Telegram.

BERLIN, To-day. Newspapers which published the full text of the speeches delivered on Monday in the House of Commons by Sir Edward Grey and Prime Minister Asquith are rather pessimistic in tone as to the chances that they will improve Anglo-German relations, although they consider it is not necessary they will make them worse.

Threatening a Tie-Up.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day. The Seamen's and Firemen's Union threaten to tie up the Atlantic Transport Co. on account of the discharge of several seamen from the steamer Mimicaba for refusing to obey orders. The Union says it will not allow any vessels of the line to sail until the men are reinstated.

Rebels Surrender

Special Evening Telegram.

Pekin, To-day. The surrender of Wu Chang by the rebels to-day was provisional, with a view of saving the city from destruction. The revolutionaries at Hankow asked for a 42 days armistice, during which an attempt will be made to secure the consent of the other provinces to the acceptance of the Imperial Government's terms, including the preservation of the Manchu dynasty.

A Gallant Effort.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch from Tien Tsin says a relief party of Englishmen under Captain Soperby started for Sian Fu, Shen Si Province, to make an attempt to rescue any foreigners who may remain in the city. Recent despatches received tell of the killing of many foreigners and the flight of others, but no direct word has come out of Sian Fu for a long time.

Especially at Xmas.

There is no gift which conveys such a personal message of regard as a portrait, for hundreds of years it has been the gift of Romance. "The Gift of Kings"; there is nothing so delightful to give, there is certainly nothing so welcome to receive.

The exquisite photographs taken at S. H. Parsons & Sons Studio are entirely different from ordinary work. Delicately finished in water color, or monochrome, on opal, paper or ivory give the portraits an unrivalled charm and interest.

The public are cordially invited to call and see the work at the Studio, corner of Water & Prescott Streets. nov24, 11.

Walt Mason's New Book

Walt Mason, the inimitable prose poet writer of the Evening Telegram, whose splendid little poems delight so many of our readers has just put out his splendid material in book form under the title "Business Prose Poems."

Walt's new book is similar in form and make-up to his "Uncle Walt" book of last year, and the poems have been selected from those that appear daily in the Evening Telegram, and which appear simultaneously all over the United States. It is said that Walt Mason has a daily audience of more than 10,000,000 readers. He is the most widely read poet in America.

Walt Mason's poems have the tang peculiar to "Himself"—Masonesque, delightful. No one could read them without feeling like getting up and shaking hands with himself. Walt Mason has invented a new style. He is a national figure, whom William Allen White calls "The Poet Laureate of America." Walt Mason imitates no one—he does not pretend that his good, wholesome philosophy is all his own. His is the philosophy of the American people—cheerful, hopeful—based on good common sense.

Walt exhorts thrift and industry, yet preaches moderation in every virtue. The Masonesque philosophy is founded on the theory that every man should be a normal, clean minded, kind hearted, brave souled gentleman.

Walt Mason unlike most other poets, formulates his wholesome philosophy in such a merry way—in such a convincing, laughing manner that the work of washing, does Sunlight. Brightness and sweetness reign in the home when Sunlight Soap helps you.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

TRY THE SUNLIGHT WAY

It is not only goes to the heart, and warms it, but goes to the heart, warms it and sticks there and becomes a part of the man's life.

Down in North Carolina the other day, a man died who had some store of this world's goods. He also had a scrap book of Walt Mason's prose poems, and in his will, along with his worldly goods, he mentioned among his precious bequests to his children this Mason scrap book and left it to them as one of his choicest heritages which shows that the things Mason writes stick in the heart and influence the lives of all of us.

Walt Mason is a force for decency—he is doing his part in the world. We are, and should be, exceedingly proud of Walt Mason in His Splendid prose poems are read eagerly by the readers of the Evening Telegram, and we highly recommend his new illustrated book—"Business Prose Poems"—to our readers.
