LONDON, To-day.

The report that an armistice has been agreed to by Bulgarians and Turks along the Tchatalja lines for the burial of the dead appears to be unfounded. Despatches from Nazim Pasha, Turkish commander, show the artillery duel continues to-day. The Turks claim success against the Bulgarians, but nothing indicates that the Bulgarians have yet made any serious attempt to penetrate the lines. The battle may be ended at any moment by Turkey accepting the allies' terms for armistice, which are said erms for armistice, which are said to include the surrender of the Tchalja lines, Adrianople, Durazzo and ver, that Turkey may decline to surrender Tchatalja. While her western army has been completely de-eated, Turkey still possees, according to correspondents at the front, a homogeneous army behind the Tcha-talja fortifications, largely composed of some of her best fighting materials from Asiatic provinces, which have not yet been in action. Moreover the lemoralization and disorganization which followed the Kirk Kilisseh and ule Burgas retreats, appear to have oeen remedied and the army is now well supplied with food and amunion. Under these circumstances the orte may be induced to make a further stand in the hope of securing peace on easier conditions. The prospect of European dessensions, arising out of the settlement of mumerous territorial claims to be arranged afted the war, becomes daily more an actual ultimatum. Servia is setting a time limit for a reply to cer-tain inquiries, which she has formulated, but short of that, relations strained and Servia's evident inten-tion will be still another defiance of Austria. Vice Admiral Cuccoli of the

The Morris Agricultural Policy.

A resident of Northern Bay tells us there was a standing exhibition of the Morris Agricultural Policy in that settlement all the months of the fall. It was not an exhibition of how two blades of grass could be grown where

It seems that there was a doling out of Government potato seed, and in many of the potato patches part of the ground was sown with the Government seed. Much curiosity was aroused as to the relative success of the seeding, and folks watched with interest the plants break ground, sprout, and reach their full growth. As the season progressed interest increased, until the Government potato plants
