Quebec's Calamity.

Towns and Villages Under Water-Bridges Swept Away.

Incalculable Losses - People Fear for Their Houses.

herbrooke is still St. Louis menaced, and the Quebec Central has in time for the conference in May. lost their big bridge there. At Richmond, the condition of affairs is desperate. Throughout Beauce county, the dispatches show that houses have new and dangerous feature is the al-Sorel, Three Rivers and other places along the Lower St. Lawrence, and from all places the reports are "The water still rising."

Richmond.-The scene in Richmond this morning is beyond description. The water rose a foot during the night and is now higher than ever was known during the past fifty years, and there are no signs whatever of its abatement. AM the stores in the town with the exception of three are completely flooded. The Great Northwestern doned. The damage will be very great.

crossing the St. Francis, a quarter of a mile above the Grand Trunk Railway station here, was swept away at 2:30 this morning by the ice and high water. It is roughly estimated that the loss of the St. Anselme bridge and this one is a damage of at least $100,000 to the Quebec Central Railway.

Mr. Frank Grundy, the manager of the Quebec Central Railway, tells a Star correspondent that the large bridge crossing the Chaudiere Beauce Junction, four hundred feet in length, is threatened, and he has grave apprehensions respecting it. All 2 cats, 20c; grave apprenensions respecting it. And 33c; No. 1 the Boston and Maine trains are running this morning, notwithstanding the couple of feet of water along a portion of the track near Massiwippi Here the water is rushing up the drains at the Grand Trunk station, and is inundating the premises to within a few inches of the floor. Worse is expected, since the sky is dark and lowering, and rain is beginning to fall.

Three Rivers.-The greater part the town is inundated. Ice is piled in great masses in the streets. Citizens incalculable.

News from Berthier, Yamachiche and Stanne De La Perade is to the effect that these towns are all entirely flooded, and the distress is great. St. Barthelemi is under water, too, and at Grand Nord the inhabitants fear if the water rises their houses will be carried away. The gas works at Three Rivers are flooded and fires extin- and at the time of his death was president guished. The electric light station and of the Board of Trade.
