LONDON, MONDAY, JULY 4.

AN $11,000,000 TRANSACTION.

The passing of the Dunsmuir coal interests in British Columbia into the hands of a syndicate of capitalists, headed by William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, is of more than ordinary importance to the people of that province, and is not without interest to Canadians generally. The deal, which involves a payment of $11,000,000, marks the beginning of a new era in the industrial development of the coast province.

For nearly three score years the same of Dunsmuir has been identified with the industrial life of that province. Sixty years ago the late Robert Dunsmuir, a native of Leith, Scotland, was sent out to the then colony by the Hudson Bay Company, to proscoveries of which had been made foundations of what is today British professed to credit Prudhomme's story. an interest in the political affairs of the province. In 1898 he was first failure of Hon. Joseph Martin to carry on the administration in 1900. Mr. Dunsmuir was offered the premiership. He found no difficulty in forming a cabinet, and met the House with a following that included nearly all the members. He took no portfolio, contenting himself with the post of president of the council. Two years later, having accomplished his object-the restoration of public confidence in the immediate future of the province-he tendered his resignation, which the But now the dream is wholly o'er. The plans of the Mackenzie syndicate are ambitious. Extensions and improvements costing between $3,000,-000 and $4,000,000, will quadruple the present capacity, and when completed men.
