

tried to decipher, and where he was ever finding traces of the hand of God, into that other world, "where toil shall cease and rest begin"; but where I doubt not he still goes on learning more and more, no longer seeing through a glass darkly but in perfect light.

The silent lips seem to speak once more in this volume—his last words to the public; and I commit it very tenderly to those who are interested in his favourite study of Ethnology.

SYBIL WILSON.

BENCOSIE, TORONTO,
August 1892.

1. THE
2. THE
3. TR
4. PR
5. THE
6. THE
7. HYB
8. REL
INDEX