

- Short, James, a Scotch half-breed :
 drives cart from Crow-wing, 13 ; joins author's expedition, 35 ; characteristics of, 47 ; his skill with gun or bow, 58 ; brings in cow, 122 ; chases wolves, 101 ; winner in the marrow-bone game, 101, 102 ; pelts a badger, 103 ; shoots ducks, 142 ; appearance of, 203 ; meets a grisly, 206 ; shoots wild swans, 265 ; in the "Golden Era," 274 ; hardy winter journey, 274, 282 ; skill in finding track, 297 ; makes the track, 302 ; reproves a horse, 304 ; farewell, 364.
- Siffleur, The (Arctomys pruinosus), described, 191 ; its whistle heard in the mountains, 191 ; shot by Munroe, 192 ; quality of its meat, 192 ; shot by author, 198, 230.
- Simpson, Mr., 42, 43.
- Simpson, Sir George, governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, 1 ; author welcomed by, at Lachine, 4 ; sets out with author on journey to Far West, 5 ; arrives at St.
 Paul—disturbed by rumours of floods—starts suddenly for Fort Garry, 7 ; returns, 8 ; goes with author to Minnehaha Falls, 10 ; sets out finally for Fort Garry, 11 ; travels in a Canadian cart, 13 ; occupies one of the tents with Mr. Hopkins, 15 ; encounters the Pillageurs at Otter-tail, 18 ; his tent defies the thunderstorm, 22 ; saluted at Pembina by Saul-teaux Indians, discourages their importunity, 27 ; carried across the Vieux Marais by James Mackay, 28 ; arrives at Fort Garry, 29 ; departs for Norway House, 31 ; renders invaluable assistance to author, 31 ; exchanges with him farewells, 31 ; sorrowful notes of his death in 1860, 31 ; reference to his death, 364.
- Sinclair, Mr., Fort Pitt, 139, 141.
- Sioux. See Indians.
- Sircees. See Indians.
- Skidor, Scandinavian, 317, 318.
- Skunk, The, described, 49 ; odour of, 136 ; meat of, 175.
- Smallpox, ravages of, 271, 287.
- Smoke-fires, 57, 143.
- Smoke Tent Wood, 315.
- Snake (Snakehill) River, 25, 367.
- Snow-shoes, 302, 314, 335 ; description of, 316, 317.
- Southesk, Earl of, advised to go to Hudson's Bay Territories for sport and healthy climate, 1 ; sails in the Africa for New York, 2 ; thence travels by Niagara, 3 ; to Lachine, 4 ; where he meets Sir George Simpson, governor of the Hudson's Bay Company's Territories, 4. He sets out thence with Sir George for Fort Garry, 5 ; travels by rail and Mississippi steamer to St. Paul, Minnesota, 7 ; (where the party is joined by Dr. Rae, 9) ; stays there a few days, 7-11 ; travels by stage waggon to Crow-wing, 12 ; thence rides across the plains to Fort Garry, 13-29 ; where he parts from Sir George, 31 ; and stays a fortnight engaging men, buying horses, and organising an expedition to the Far West, 30-39. He sets out thence, and travels due west, 40 ; arrives at Fort Ellice on the Assiniboine, 50 ; thence proceeds across the plains, shooting cabrees, ducks, etc., to Qu'appelle Fort, 59 ; where he meets with a band of Ojibways, 59-63 ; continues due west, shoots a few