Salt as an Insecticide.

The use of salt as an insecticide or vermin destroyer is not sufficiently known amongst the farming community. Many a farmer has lost dollars and dollars simply because he did not know what virtue there is in salt. How many times has a farmer plowed up acres of crop attacked by some worm or caterpillar, re-sown the land, and all because he did not know that salt would have killed the worm and improved his crop. Last year a case was reported through the press and vouched for as correct. A farmer had a ten-acre field of oats attacked by the army worm. The whole ten acres was in such condition he decided to plow them all up and re-sow. As an experiment he left an acre, to which he gave a dressing of 300 pounds of refuse salt. Three days afterwards he gave the same acre another 300 pounds of refuse salt. The result was that on that acre he had a good yield of oats, and had he only known he might have saved the whole ten acres. Salt for such purposes is simply invaluable.—Toronto FARMING.
