

THE FEMIN BROTHERHOOD.—Extraordinary Examination. On yesterday week's journey...

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.—The Queen v. Keane. Mr. Keogh applied on the part of the prisoner...

THE DISTRESS IN GALWAY.—Galway, January 25.—A special meeting of the Town and Harbor Commissioners...

THE BELFAST RIOTS.—The Belfast magistrates were lately engaged in hearing claims for damage during the late riots...

AIMS AND WAYS.—We have neither the presumption nor the wish to bound the future of Ireland by a horizon of our own making...

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF IRELAND.—The objects of this association are the most important of any to which a public body that must of necessity confine itself to strictly legal and constitutional action...

work with energy, taking up in order the three great questions proposed for adjustment, and treating them thoroughly, practically, and scientifically...

DUBLIN, Jan. 26.—Mr. O'Hagan succeeds the late Mr. Justice Ball, and Mr. Lawson becomes Attorney-General in his place...

NOTICES.—The Western Morning News draws attention to an appointment lately made by Dr. Gregg Protestant Bishop of Cork...

MR. NAPOLEON WYSE.—The Lord Chancellor pronounced a decree on Friday on the petition of Mr. Napoleon A. Bonaparte Wyse...

MR. FOSTER, M.P., ON IRELAND.—At a recent meeting at Bradford, Mr. Foster, member for the borough, thus spoke:—

"The Irish question is fastening on us more and more. The fact is, Ireland is still a weakness and a disgrace to England. We think we are governing Ireland well because we do not misgovern her to the extent we did in former years...

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE AUTHOR OF CHRISTIAN MISSIONS.—We are delighted to learn that on New Year's Day His Holiness Pope Pius IX. was graciously pleased to confer on T. W. Marshall, Esq. Author of 'Christian Missions, &c., the honor of Knighthood of the Order of St. Gregory.

THE BROMPTON ORATORY.—If any have reason to congratulate themselves on the occurrence of the recent scandal at Brompton, it is surely the less respectable section of the Protestant party...

chapter by chapter in the public prints. We recommend Miss Braddon to take a lesson from the current and pending details of the details of the Westminster Police Court. Observe what a scanty supply of incidents the skill of these men has had to work up...

A paragraph having been industriously circulated to the effect that the Hon. Mrs. Yelverton (nee Longworth) had become a convert to Anglicanism...

Sir, I thank you for affording me the opportunity of authorizing you to contradict the untruthful report that I had abandoned the Catholic faith...

TERESA YELVERTON. Crauford's Hotel, Edinburgh, Jan. 14, 1865.

BARONISM IN ENGLAND.—At an inquest held in London, on Wednesday, Doctor Lankester stated that in the first year of his coronership he held eighty inquests on infants, in which verdicts of murder had been returned...

THE IMPORTANCE OF ASPIRATES.—The following is told by the Bristol Times and Mirror: We have been credibly informed of a curious complaint which has just been laid before the authorities of the Great Western Railway...

THE SCANDAL OF THE DIVORCE COURT.—We lately called upon our readers to exert themselves to banish from all respectable houses those newspapers which insert the filthy details of the Court...

A SAGE MAN.—Remembering on the archbishopric of Canterbury, a writer in the Post says that: 'In the present day the position has lost nothing of its social importance, ecclesiastical power, moral greatness, and peril.'

It means upon these occasions it would say, 'we give no report of yesterday's proceedings in Sir J. Wilde's Court because there was in it nothing indecent, nothing to stimulate morbid curiosity, nothing to corrupt the minds of young and innocent persons; and, therefore, nothing which would help to sell our paper.'

There are 156 petitions to be heard in the Divorce Court during this term. It is impossible that the Judge could get through them.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.—Letter from the Queen.—At the half-yearly meeting of the Manchester, Sheffield, and Lincolnshire Railway, held at Manchester on Wednesday, the chairman (Mr. Watkin, M.P.) said it was a gratifying reflection that the Sheffield Company had carried its passengers with a remarkable immunity from accident...

Sir Charles Phipps has received the commands of Her Majesty the Queen to call the attention of the directors of the — to the increasing number of accidents which have lately occurred upon different lines of railroad, and to express Her Majesty's earnest hope that the directors of the — will carefully consider every means of guarding against these misfortunes...

The Queen hopes it is unnecessary for her to recall to the recollection of the railway directors the heavy responsibility which they have assumed since they have succeeded in securing the monopoly of the means of travelling of almost the entire population of the country.

Mr. Bright approves the awful slaughter which the Federals have dyed the field of Virginia and Tennessee, but approves of the desolation which has visited thousands and hundreds of thousands of heretofore happy hearths; but does not shrink from renewing these scenes of horror until no victims shall be left on whom they can be enacted; and therefore he exerts himself to secure the election of the man who has blood, and will continue to be the minister of this bloodthirsty policy so long as he has power to do so...

THE LONDON FOS.—The reduction of the income-tax, Parliamentary reform, the repeal of the malt-tax, the purification of the Thames, the relief of destitution, are all measures more or less earnestly desired in diverse quarters. But if on Saturday evening any candidate had started for a metropolitan constituency with an effective Bill in his pocket for the abolition of the institution known as the London Fog, he would have distanced the most attractive political competitor for popular favor...

THE LONDON FOS.—The reduction of the income-tax, Parliamentary reform, the repeal of the malt-tax, the purification of the Thames, the relief of destitution, are all measures more or less earnestly desired in diverse quarters. But if on Saturday evening any candidate had started for a metropolitan constituency with an effective Bill in his pocket for the abolition of the institution known as the London Fog, he would have distanced the most attractive political competitor for popular favor...

THE LONDON 'TIMES' ON ANGLICANISM.—The tithe-deeds of the English Church date from the Reformation. Before that time, whatever theoretical powers belonged to the Crown or to the Ecclesiastical Courts of the realm by virtue of the common law, the ultimate resort in spiritual causes lay, in fact, to Rome...

GREAT CONFLAGRATION IN GLASGOW.—On Monday the Port Dundee Sugar Refinery, belonging to Messrs Murdoch and Duddrell, sugar refiners, was destroyed by fire, the property and stock which were consumed amounting in value to between £40,000 and £50,000. The extensive works are situated on the north side of the canal bank, the sugar refinery which has been destroyed forming the centre block of a long range of buildings belonging to the company...

LOWE MARRIAGES.—The following is a remarkable instance of the extent to which the joint memory of two individuals may bridge over a very wide chasm of history. There is now living at Edinburgh and in possession of all his faculties, a gentleman whose father served on Charles Edward's staff at Culloden, and was actually left for dead on the battle field...

UNITED STATES.

J. D. Fraser, a native of Glengary, C. W., with his wife (who is a Georgian) and four children, were stopping at the Osborne House, Rochester, Geo. Thrall, proprietor, when on the night of the 2nd inst. he was arrested on suspicion of being a Southern spy...

When Mr. Fraser returned he endeavoured to find Mr. Thrall, but failed, and the next morning he wrote a note, demanding the return of the money valuables, but received no answer. That evening Mr. Fraser and his wife were locked up in the police cells until next morning, leaving four children the eldest of whom is but nine years old and the youngest nine months, in a strange hotel without their natural protectors...