

eliminate its duty remission on exports to the United States immediately.

Taken together, the auto provisions of the Free Trade Agreement provide major new benefits to the North American automotive industry. They are fully supported by the Big Three automotive companies and many of the automotive parts producers, and should enable the industry as a whole to strengthen its position both in the North American market and in foreign markets.

CANADA-U.S. TRADE IN AUTOMOTIVE PRODUCTS

1966-1987, In Billions of U.S. Dollars

Source: Statistics Canada. Figures are based on import statistics of each country.

Canada

Canadian Embassy/Ambassade du Canada