combination of a heartless, detached technician called a Prime Minister and a former bookkeeper for a used car dealer. This great bookkeeper happens to be the Minister of Finance. With this combination, what can the working people of the nation expect?

An hon. Member: A great deal.

Mr. Howard (Skeena): They can look forward to being fed into a computer, to emerge as statistics, or to being fleeced. Probably to both.

Mr. Perrault: Keep it non-political now.

Mr. Howard (Skeena): The Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Labour (Mr. Perrault), the whole government and the whole Liberal party are really proud of themselves tonight, Mr. Speaker. They set out to bring this nation to its knees, and to their everlasting shame they have succeeded.

Mr. Douglas (Nanaimo-Cowichan-The Islands): Hear, hear!

Mr. Howard (Skeena): My leader applauds that remark.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: Order, please. It being 9.45 o'clock p.m., it is my duty, pursuant to Standing Order 60(8) to interrupt these proceedings and forthwith put every question necessary to dispose of the question now before the House. The question is on the motion of the Minister of Finance (Mr. Benson).

The House divided on the motion (Mr. Benson) which was agreed to on the following division:
