Mr. Speaker: I declare the amendment lost.

Mr. A. D. Hales (Wellington): Mr. Speaker, first of all I should like to apologize to the House for taking a few moments to introduce an amendment to the bill now before us. The subject of this amendment is of importance to every member of the House no matter in which province his riding might be located. It is of particular interest to me as mover of the amendment.

The amendment is based on the fact that the minister of the environment is now responsible for the administration of the Canada Water Act. The Canada Water Act has taken the place of the Canada Conservation Assistance Act. Under the Canada Conservation Assistance Act, when any municipality or area in this country wished to build a dam or set up a conservation program a federal formula was laid down whereby the federal government would pay 37½ per cent, the provincial government 37½ per cent and the municipality 25 per cent.

When the Canada Conservation Assistance Act was repealed and replaced by the Canada Water Act, this
