WON AGAIN-$760.00.

And again all my clients cleaned up on my one best bet, the above amount being won by each and every client on a $20 investment this week, and so it goes day by day, my followers getting the money in bunches.

20--1 SHOT TO-DAY.

The READITES will consider themselves LUCKY that they are "IN" with a man that devotes his entire time digging up LONG-PRICED SLEEPERS. Don't forget to get in on a big

BOOKMAKER'S MASSACRE.

I tell you NOW! I give you timely warning that TO-DAY my "BRAVES" will be lying in AMBUSH with WAR PAINT on. With their KNIVES unsheathed they'll be ready for a MASSACRE. Many of the "bookies" scalps will be dangling at their belts after the race is over. Everything has, been ARRANGED. The HIGH SIGN has been given. You all know what that means. I KNOW what this "trick" CAN DO when the MONEY is down. The stable folk have been patiently waiting (they're the people that will wait a month if necessary) to drop their "COIN GATHERER" in a soft spot, where they think the HORSE CANNOT LOSE. Here's where you'll see nothing but ONE HORSE in the race when they turn this "trick" loose from the barrier. This one will be as good as

Who won yesterday for the same clique of sharpshooters who will pull off this good thing to-day. Don't miss this.

Cannie Maid Takes Maple Leaf Stakes From Hendrie and Seagram-Only One Favorite in

The hilarious demonstration of the pikers when Moonraker beat Oxford and Purslane for the Oxford Purse at the mile was almost as voluble as the hooting of Autumn Maid's followers when Chipmunk's number went up after the fifth race yesterday at Wood-bine Parki Purslane was played steadily at 4 to 5, with Oxford at 6 to 5, and as long as 50 to 1 could be had against Moonraker. Scratches left Factotum, Ellicott and Billowy in the barn. Purslane was away first, with Moonraker beside him and Oxford at least two lengths in the rear, going easy rounding the top turn. Rice never let up on the Meagher horse and at three-quarter pole Purslane had enough, tho the Seagram runner stayed second well up the stretch. Nicol easily drove the grey past the favorite, but Moonraker had still to reckoned with and the six-year-old son of Morpheus had a short head out for a nod to the judges. The heavy noon-day rain left the track in a sloppy condition, and gave the mudders a chance. Handmaid in the first race was the only straight favorite to win, the Lady Isabel was split with two others in the last. Gay King and Cannie Maid were second choices and Chipmunk third. All the beaten favorites except Apologize finished in the money. Six fillies, foaled in Canada three years ago, started in the Maple Leaf Stakes, with the Valley Farm pair coupled as short priced favorites on account of the good performances of Shimonese in chasing Seismic. John-ny Dyment's Cannie Maid was second in demand and then the Seagram pair that the stable backed to win. Mill-onthe-Floss and China Shop occupied the favorite Waterloo positions most of the journey, first and third, Shimonese always preferring to run in the rear.

Cannie Maid went to the front when Dak. asked and won going away. As the race was won Shimonese came along for the place, which she took while Ohandt on Mill-on-the-Floss was having a nap. It was the first win of the meeting for the Barrie stable. Handmaur, backed as high as 6 to 1, won the first race and landed barrels for the Queen City Stable. The off E. S. Whittaker, the pace-

THREE OF THE BIGGEST KILLING that have ever been negotiated at any track will be pulled off. Here is a chance (you may never have again. Each of these three horses has started a couple of times during the meeting, and, for reasons you may guess, has finished nowhere. When we start them again it will be to get the money. One, or perhaps two, will go next week and the other during first week at Hamilton.

We want to hear from a limited number of people whom we can trust. We do not want a cent in advance for information that will get you the money and get it just as sure as these horses start. Not a dollar will be wagered at the track on these horses, as it would influence the price.
