

RECENT DEATHS

John B. Orr.

The death took place at Vancouver on Aug. 31, of John Brewster Orr, 2018 Cornwall street, in his sixty-sixth year, leaving one daughter, Clara G. Orr, one son, Ernest Ray, one sister, Mrs. E. Barker, of Vancouver, and one brother, Charles, of St. John, N. B.

TO SCATTER ASHES OF
KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

George Riggs, husband of the late Kate Douglas Wiggin, writer, returned from Europe on the Ohio on Sunday to carry out the last wishes of his wife. Her ashes will be scattered in the Saco River in Maine, near her old home.

Mrs. Riggs died at Narrow-on-the-Hill, near London, while her husband was on board the Aquitania on his way to take her home.

Turin, Italy, Sept. 12.—Reports of the probable engagement of the youthful Duke of Brabant, heir to the Belgian throne, to Princess Mafalda, second daughter of King Victor Emmanuel, are again in circulation.

CHARLOTTE STREET W. M. S.

The Women's Missionary Aid Society of the Charlotte street Baptist church held a rally service last night in the church parlor, preparatory to the beginning of a new year's work. The president, Miss Clara Fullerton, was in the chair and Miss Fullerton, Mrs. E. A. Allaby and Mrs. Joseph Taylor took part in the opening devotion. Solos were sung by Mrs. LeBaron Clark and Miss Sadie Leonard. A recitation was given by Miss Dora Stillwell and a piano duet was contributed by Mrs. N. P. McLeod and her son, Arnold. Mrs. C. R. Freeman gave an interesting talk on mission work in Bolivia and Miss Fullerton gave an account of the recent convention in Turin. After the benediction a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

THE W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U., at its meeting yesterday, voted assistance to a mother to enable her to retain responsibility for her child. The case was a special one for which an appeal was made. Mrs. Hope Thomson, the president, was in the chair and led the opening devotion. The president spoke appreciatively of the benefit that had been received from listening to Rev. Dr. J. G. Shearer and hearing of the uplifting work which is going down throughout the Dominion. Several members who were back from their summer homes were welcomed at the meeting. There were many expressions of regret in the death of Mrs. W. H. Myles, who was a faithful and earnest worker for the W. C. T. U.

LONDON SEES SKIRTS
TIGHTER AND LONGER
Paris Gowns Have High Necks and Long Sleeves.

London, Sept. 12.—Fashionable women of London, who have been expecting some freedom of the knees this fall through the promised return of crinolines, got a shock this week when the fashion show opened and they found that the fickle genius of designers had switched from crinolines to hobble skirts. They noted, too, that not only are dresses getting tighter, but they also are getting longer, and there are some who think that a glimpse of an ankle soon will be as rare and thrilling an experience as it was in Queen Victoria's time.

It cannot be said for certain that hobble skirts will become popular again, for the exhibition was arranged solely by British designers, and London society, like that of New York, always looks to Paris for the last word on what to wear. Therefore, if Paris objects to the hobble skirts, it may be that the women of London will be spared a return to that garment.

The vogue of black gowns goes on undiminished, while the favorite color for fall hats is bottle green.

sleeved gowns have suddenly become fashionable among the little group of daring women who heretofore have worn extreme décolleté.

These leaders of fashion at the seaside resorts not long ago took up the fad of having patterns subordinated to their arms, shoulders, back and chests, applying paper figures so that the sun could burn around them. This was a striking stunt at the shore, but when the tan began to disappear the skin designs lost their attractiveness, and so shoulders and backs are again covered.

APPEAL CASES.

Argument was concluded yesterday afternoon in the court of appeals in the matter of the assignment of E. T. LeBlanc of Moncton, A. A. Allen supported the appeal and Ivan C. Rand,

K. C., appeared in opposition. Argument was commenced on behalf of the Crown by H. C. Ramsay of Bathurst, and P. J. Hughes, K. C., of Fredericton, in the appeal of the King vs. J. I. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from the order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction under the Prohibition Act. A. T. LeBlanc will be heard today contra.

Bon Ami

for cleaning mirrors and glass—

To make mirrors crystal-clear, there is nothing to equal Bon Ami. It is made in both cake and powder form.

Put it on in a thin soapy lather. It will dry in a minute to a soft light powder, absorbing the dust, smears and finger-marks as it dries.

Wipe off this powder with a soft cloth and the high polish of the mirror will be left, clear and shining, without a trace of fog or a speck of lint.

So it is with everything. Bon Ami brightens up windows, nickel, aluminum, bathtubs, etc.

Frocks! Coats! Suits! Millinery!

Frocks are of woolen twill or in many new crepe weaves. Among the most prominent style features are: very loose or very short sleeves, circular skirts, pleats and panels.

Coats are fashioned from soft, velvety fabrics and are mostly in wrap styles, very loose at the shoulders. Side-tie effects are good; and fur collars and cuffs very evident.

Suits are of Velour or Boliva and are featuring the longer coat with the new flat back. Some are free hanging, other loosely belted. Navy, browns and black predominate.

Millinery! The new hats are wonderfully artistic creations. Fashioned from various velvets, douvetyns, and other soft finished fabrics. Close fitting and large shapes.

Suits With Real Go

After the first flash of the Fashion opening, one by one especial favorites are found and new ones come upon the scene. The colors in Suits resolve themselves into Navies; Wood Shades, and that takes in a range from African Broom to Reindeer and the Sands; then Grays and Blacks.

Passing from the queenly Rimona and its plushy pile glinting in Blue, Taupe or Black—note other long coated wide tying studies. For one a Marine Blue Velour with straight barrel coat with fine tuckings fifteen inches deep around the hem, and a collar of Black Lynx. Steel Satin lined and $69.75.

Listen to this—Black Broadcloth with emphatic borderings on the collar, the cuff and hem in Broadtail Fur Cloth. First the Broadtail, then tuckings with strap, then Broadtail again. $64.75.

A Navy Velour with convertible Beaverine collar. Worn with or without it. Pointed columns of fine strappings all round. $44.75. For $37.50—a three color choice in Velour—Navy, Black or Sand. Columns of embroidery down at intervals all round.

Daniel suits take in every whim and wont of the mode, with this further pleasant. When you read about them the picture is underdrawn to the purpose that when you call to see close up, things are even better than you were led to believe. So come tomorrow—you'll be glad.
