PLEASED WITH

KING SELECTIONS

Merchants of Canada Glad to

See Robb and Bureau in Dominion Cabinet.

(Toronto Globe.)

Retail merchants of Canada ought to be satisfied with the inclusion of Hon. J. A. Robb as minister of trade and commerce and Hon. Jacques Bureau as minister of customs and excise in the King government, according to Dominion Secretary E. M. Trowen of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, who was in the city yesterday to prepare for the annual convention, to be held in January. Mr. Trowen was particularly pleased with the selection of Mr. Robb.

Asked Such Appointments.

"The Dominion Executive Council and Board of the Retail Merchants' Association asked the premier to appoint a business man as minister of trade and commerce, pointing out that this would be in the interests of retail merchants. The recommendation was endorsed by provincial associations throughout the country and supported by hundreds of telegrams expressing this opinion," said Mr. Trowen. "We are pleased to note that Hon. Mr. Robb, a merchant in his own right, has been made minister of trade and commerce."

Mr. Trowen said that people in business could appreciate the fact that the ramifications of the department of Trade and Commerce would require a business man as its head who had long since passed through the elementary stages of business, and who would be familiar with subjects requiring his attention when they arose.

"It is certainly pleasing to note that the government recognized our requirements in filling the post," stated Mr. Trowen.

Retailers Like Jacques.

In connection with the other department of interest to retail merchants, Mr. Trowen said that Hon. Mr. Bureau had pleased the use of retail merchants in the past, assisting them to obtain the legislation desired by the trade on trading stamps and on false advertising. He believed his extensive knowledge of law would assist him in understanding the views of merchants and avoiding legislation similar to that of the last government, which had forced the association to institute several legal actions.

"He is a very capable man, open-minded and approachable," said Mr. Trowen. "What is more, if he does not understand a problem, he is not above seeking information on it."

MANITOBA LIQUOR LAW.

Amendment to the Inland Revenue Act so that "real punishment" might be meted out for breaches of the Temperance Law was urged by Major H. B. Richardson, Roblin, of the independent farmer group, when speaking in the Manitoba legislature last week, on the reply to the throne speech. So far from backing up the Moderation League in its efforts to get a referendum on the establishment of government liquor stores, Major Richardson took the stand that until some further efforts were made to stamp out the illicit sale, manufacture and consumption of liquor in the province, no petition for new legislation should be passed by the house.

Municipal Pension Fund.

La Presse—"Most of the big United States and Canadian cities where civic pension funds have been established testify to their value and utility. Montreal ought not to lag behind in this matter and gain the unenviable reputation of being the only city to care nothing for the lot of the officers of its service."
