Words of Thanks From Prince and Newspaper Men

His Royal Highness Sends W. H. Golding Thanks to School Children—New York Sun Manifests Acknowledgment of Courtesies

W. H. Golding, who was director of publicity on the mayor's committee during the visit of the Prince of Wales, and had direction of the newspaper correspondents and the camera men from English, American and Canadian centres, has received several letters of thanks from newspaper men and also a telegram from the Prince of Wales.

The wire from the Prince was sent some weeks ago, previous to his departure from Penticton, B. C., and read as follows:

"W. H. Golding, Publicity Director
Mayor's Committee, St. John, N. B.
The Prince of Wales desires me to send his very best wishes to the public school children of St. John and to say that his Highness will always that His royal highness was wonderfully remembered with gratitude their wonderful singing which greeted him the day on which he first set foot in Canada."

Reginald A. Wilson, one of the editorial writers of the New York Sun, who was a conspicuous figure in the newspaper contingent when the Prince arrived, writes as follows:

"We have just farewelled the Prince here in New York after five wonderful days, with which everybody was delighted. The boy made as great a hit here as under his own flag, and the good of his visit is inestimable. With our newspaper fellows he was at all times the charming little gentleman that he is. It occurs to me that I have never acknowledged the many kind things you did for us in St. John, especially the local color and data with which you supplied us as a frame-work for our stories of the big event. It was fortunate that had a local newspaper man on the job in yourself, Quinn Martin, of the Herald, and Bayer, of the World, wish to be kindly remembered, and they, to send their appreciations. When you send the lieutenant-governor's secretary—whose name I seem to forget—please to him, too, how much we appreciated the thoughtfulness and hospitality extended by His Honor Governor Pugsley, Mayor Foster, and the mayor of the city of St. John people certainly set the pace for the rest of the continent."

The photo department of the New York times sepia pictorial supplement have sent Mr. Golding a set of enlargements in original photographs of most interesting scenes taken by the artists during the Prince's visit here and they are naturally highly prized. Another newspaper man has sent complete clippings from the metropolitan press dealing with the arrival of the heir at St. John, making valuable data for scrap-books.
