TWO BREAKS BUT IS TWICE CAPTURED

Beckett's Revolver Rings Out In The Pursuit of Hartley Kirk

The preliminary examination in the case of the King vs. Hartley Kirk charged with attempting to escape from lawful custody, was begun in the police court this morning. Kirk was arrested about a month ago and was sent to jail for begging in the streets and pretending to have only one arm, while the other was doubled underneath him. Yesterday Kirk with sixteen other members of the chain gang, was at work in Delhi street, and when the guard was not looking, he made a bold attempt to escape.

W. A. Beckett, one of the guards, pursued and captured him in a car on the I. C. R. track. He had hidden under a seat. As the guard was bringing him back, Kirk made another get-away. Beckett then fired several revolver shots into the air and, after chasing the prisoner, caught up to him and brought him to the police station.

The case was postponed until the first of the week.

STILL REFUSES TO ANSWER; SPELLMAN TO JAIL AGAIN

Youth Continues Obdurate When Asked To Give Evidence in Liquor Case

In the police court today, Thomas Spellman again refused to give evidence in the case against Cornelius McHugh, of Brussels street, charged with having sold liquor to Spellman, who is a minor. Police Sergeant Scott, today testified that when he notified McHugh to appear in court, McHugh told him that Spellman had bought liquor from him, but had told him that he was twenty-one years of age. The sale was made on October 1.

Spellman answered preliminary questions put to him by Police Clerk George A. Henderson, who is conducting the prosecution, but when he was asked on last Saturday if he had ever been in the defendant's back-room, he replied that he had nothing to say. He was then asked several other questions, but refused to answer any that would testify against the defendant. Finally, when he told the court he refused to answer, he was again sent to jail until he should make up his mind to do so.

Bruce Addison, uncle of Spellman, said that the boy would be nineteen years old tomorrow, and that he had seen him under the influence of liquor twice within the last eight months.

The magistrate reminded Spellman that he had pleaded guilty to being drunk after he was arrested several days ago, and he is also charged with swearing and violently resisting the police, all of which makes his refusal to give evidence in this case.

The case will probably be resumed next Saturday.

FINDS NEW ST. JOHN

Captain Henshaw Here After Seventeen Years

SEES MARKED GROWTH

Progress Substantial as Evidenced by Class of Buildings Being Erected—Now in Command of Fire Steamer

It seemed to be a new city that he was visiting when Captain H. A. Henshaw arrived here recently on his first visit in seventeen years. The great development of the harbor facilities, the new industries which have sprung up and the large increase in building operations made it hard for him to believe that such a change could have taken place. Not that he was really surprised that such progress should be made, for his long experience in the mercantile marine has enabled him to judge accurately of the possibilities of this port and its commerce and to predict for St. John a much greater future than even the present rate of development indicates.

Captain Henshaw sailed from St. John for many years as skipper of the schooner "Syanara," one of Joseph A. Likely's fleet. He left St. John seventeen years ago and is now commodore of the United Fruit Company's fleet of eight steamers, with headquarters in Boston. He arrived in St. John on Christmas eve to spend the holidays with his wife and two sons, who were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith. Mrs. Henshaw left today for Wolfville, N. S., accompanying her sons who are resuming their studies at Acadia and Captain Henshaw has left for New York to rejoin his ship.

Speaking of his impressions of the present day St. John, Captain Henshaw said that he had noted many improvements. The West St. John harbor facilities have all been developed since he left the city, and he found there finely equipped railway and steamer terminals, with the new grain elevator and new government wharves indicating the scale on which still further developments are to be carried on. Courtenay Bay as a harbor for ocean steamers was new to him, but he was deeply impressed with the opportunity afforded there for a good harbor and said that when the plans for terminals are completed, St. John will be second to none on the Atlantic coast.

The construction of such buildings as the new armory, the sugar refinery, the Bank of British North America, the new post office and others, he said, showed that the progress which is marking the new era in the city's history will be of the most substantial character.

The congestion caused by the rapid increase of the population was noticed by the captain and he looked to the development of the suburban extensions of the street railway to relieve the pressure within the city limits. He believed that an electric railway from St. John to Hampton would prove a great advantage to the city.

The vessel which Captain Henshaw commands is the Pastore, a twin screw steamer 500 feet long, of 5,000 tons register, and steaming seventeen knots an hour. She carries a crew of 152 and accommodates 150 first class passengers, and is especially fitted for the fruit carrying trade. Her route is from New York to Kingston, Jamaica; Colon, Panama; Port Limon, Costa Rica; Havana, Cuba, and thence to New York.

The round trip being made in eighteen days.

GOOD TEMPLARS HOLD FINE NEW YEAR'S DAY GATHERING

Fisher; speech, D. Burgess; solo, Miss B. Campbell; recitation, Fred Cunningham; duet, Charles and Henry McEachern; reading, William Wood; song, Wm. Stymest; speech, C.
