Imperial Theatre has a Great Picture for Old and Young Today

WESLEY BARRY
IN
"RAGS TO RICHES"
The King of Kid Comedians in a Story
Exciting as it is Human
The theme of the picture is universal in appeal. Wesley is the same prank-loving lad who throws you into gales of laughter. The action is fast and furious and the fun delicious.
Come and see Wesley drop from a trestle fifty feet below into the river; face a crew of cut-throats; the coolness of a man ordering breakfast! He is at his best in this string of adventures, which beats imagination.

A Tie Game.

The Sugar Refinery and the Cotton Mill battled to a three-all tie last evening over a five-inning game. Practically all of the sixth inning had been completed and the Refinery had scored two runs across the plate with two out when time was called and the score reverted to even innings. Both Potter for the Refinery and Matheson for the Cotton Mill received fairly good support and the hits were kept well scattered. Corrigan, for the Cotton Mill, had three hits in three times up, two of them being clouts over the fence.

Post Office Trims Civics.
The Post Office team got away to an auspicious start in the first game of the second series in the Civic and Civil Service League by defeating the Civics on the Barrack Green by the score of 21 to 11. The winners scored in every one of the seven innings played while the losers only failed to cross the pan in the second frame. Both teams played rugged ball in the field. The hitting of Evans for the winners was a special feature.

Rowing Club Wins.
The Rowing Club defeated the St. Luke's A. C. 10 to 1 in an Intermediate League game on the North End Improvement League diamond last evening. Mr. Ring held his opponents helpless all through the game which went eight innings, and McMurray for the losers had ten strikeouts. The hitting for the winners were Ring and Snodgrass and for the losers McMurray, Stackhouse and Rourke.

Will Pitch For Trojans.
Earl Nelson, southpaw for the Royals, will appear in the City League this evening as a member of the Trojans, and will pitch against the St. Rose's, leaders of the league. Fraser, the star catcher for St. John the Baptist team, will also appear in the City League as a member of St. Rose's. There will be no game on the South End grounds Thursday evening as the Royals will be playing the Garrison team in an exhibition game on the Barrack Square.

Border Town League.
In the Border Town League last evening St. Stephen defeated Woodland 6 to 4, and Calais defeated Milltown 4 to 2. The victory for St. Stephen places them out in front in the championship race with a three game margin over their nearest competitors Woodland.

Supported by Bessie Love in

"The Swamp"

The friendship of one from a far-off land became something more sacred. Fate, in a gripping mood gave to them the secret of a young girl's love. With that weapon he became the Nemesis of a heart-breaker and brought down the bolt of punishment on a scoundrel's head.
Stark courage made him renounce the joy that was in his reach and he plunged silently into the cold depths of suffering.

The Thrilling
Railroad
Smash-up

You'll See

You'll see a terrific head-on collision between two locomotives, the most thrilling smash ever registered on the screen.
You'll see the famous New York Brewery after dark.
You'll see the human devils, the down-and-outers that crawl into the daily bread line.
You'll see a thrilling jail delivery in which a score of desperate convicts smash their way to liberty.
You'll see—Main Street, Broadway, dance halls, swell cabarets, a little church, a mother and her wayward son, a country lass and a chorus girl.
You'll see the back stage of a New York theatre and what goes on there after performances.
You'll see how wags have their victims to ruin.
You'll see a dazzling cabaret scene finer than you've ever seen before. Glittering New York night life.
You'll see a wonderful Xmas Eve celebration.
You'll see small-town life as contrasted to the thrills of the throbbing metropolis.
You'll see—undressed women and over-dressed men in wild revels.
You'll see the picture you'll never forget, based on the old song—"Where is my wandering boy tonight?"
You'll see a tremendous heart-punch drama of smiles and tears, of joy and happiness, of pathos, poignancy, and the triumph of a mother's love.

MORNING NEWS
OVER THE WIRES
Sinclair Thorburn, of Shelburne, was drowned yesterday when the auxiliary schooner Arequipa upset off the coast near Liverpool, according to information from the Marine and Fisheries Department. The three others in the crew were picked up yesterday afternoon in a dory.
Hector W. Leger, of Bathurst, was drowned yesterday afternoon in Bathurst harbor when he was planned under his car in the water after a collision with a team on the Bathurst bridge. He had been driving a Ford belonging to the Provincial Public Works Department and attempted to pass between two teams when he struck one and was thrown off the bridge. A companion was able to get clear.
William C. Clark of Gabarus, N. S., a young lobster fisherman, was drowned yesterday while trying to help some relatives in another boat which was drifting towards the Flat Ledge Shoals with engine trouble. The boat and its occupants were rescued by another smack.
A slight blaze in the Fraser Company's milliard at Chatham Head caused some excitement last night. Fortunately the blaze was confined to one pile of lumber.
The Federal Grand Jury of Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday indicted twenty-six Texas oil promoters on charges of using the mails to defraud and conspiracy to make fraudulent use of the mails. Among the number was Dr. Frederick A. Cook, former Arctic explorer.

Mrs. Clara May Miller, a saleswoman of Los Angeles, recently announced the receipt of a letter containing the information that she had been left $250,000 in the will of Theodore Tibbets of Lynn, Mass., a leather manufacturer, whom she had rescued from possible drowning about twenty-five years ago while crossing the Bay of Fundy. She claims to hold a medal from the Canadian authorities for her act.
Major Anglian people of Chatham and other points on the North Shore were present yesterday at a special service held to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the raising to the priesthood of Ven. Archdeacon Forsythe. His Lordship Bishop Richardson spoke at the service. There was a social gathering afterwards at the rectory.
