

Baking Powder

WHOLLY PURE

THEIR PLATFORM.

Committee representing the trades labor council and the single tax association at a recent conference agreed in the following platform on behalf of two bodies:

—We hold that each man is entitled an equitable share of what his labor produces.

—Therefore, no tax should be levied on the products of industry. Taxes on incomes, the road tax, the provision tax, personal property tax, real estate tax, and all other taxes on industry are unjust, and should be abolished.

—The present electoral system gives unequal representation, and calls for a new form of government. The monetary system now required from candidates for provincial legislature should be abolished.

—We advocate a reduction in the hours of labor. An eight-hour law should be established by the government and enforced on all government works.

—Under present conditions the Chinese are a source of danger to the community, and of impoverishment to the laboring classes. Laws should be passed prohibiting Chinese and all Asiatic labor in any and all government works; and prohibiting any further Asiatic immigration.

—Any companies which the government may grant any privileges should be prohibited from employing any Chinese or Japanese labor.

—We also believe in the nationalization of telegraphs, railways and coal mines.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World.

THE RING.

EGALIZES PRIZE FIGHTING.

few Orleans, April 26.—The supreme court decided the matter of the State v. Olympic club today. The court affirmed the decision of the lower court, which was by a majority vote of the court, in favor of the club. The case has been pending for months, and the decision will permit the resumption of prize fights in Louisiana. The Olympic club in the supreme court means that the club may give fights again. The Olympic club had arranged for a battle between Bowen and Abbott. Suddenly the manager entered proceedings against the club, praying for an injunction. The case was later before a jury in circuit court, and after a long and interesting trial a verdict was given in favor of the club. The State promptly appealed to the supreme court. Chief Justice Nichols dissents.

LA CROSSE.

THE JUNIORS' SCHEDULE.

The committee having in hand the arrangement of the junior schedule met this evening. It was decided to have districts, Island and Mainland. The boys and James Bays of this city and Nainaimos will play in the former. The West Enders and Moonlighters Westminster and the Vancouverers in the latter. The winners in each will play off here on August 25. The Island schedule is as follows:

1.—Stars v. Nainaimo, at Victoria.

2.—Stars v. James Bays, at Victoria.

3.—James Bays v. Nainaimo, at Victoria.

4.—Stars v. Nainaimo, at Victoria.

5.—Stars v. Nainaimo, at Nainaimo.

6.—James Bays v. Nainaimo, at Victoria.

WRESTLING.

ALTER MCLIOD.

San Francisco, May 2.—A representative of Charles Wilson, the Chicago wrestler, who defeated Bryan Lewis, the Strangler, is in the city, and endeavor to arrange a match with McLeod.

THE TURF.

ORMONDE A DADDY.

San Francisco, May 3.—Ormonde, the English race horse, now owned by William MacDonough, of this city, has been made sire of his first colt, born on the 1st of May. The foal was dropped by Miss Crust, one of the mares which she brought from England with a $150,000 racer.

YACHTING.

BENNETT'S INTENTIONS.

New York, May 2.—The fact that J. Bennett is to build a yacht to race the Vigilant has just been made known. The contract has been let to the Brethoffs, and work on the new yacht, which is designed to outrival, will begin at once. Mr. Bennett's yacht is next winter on the Mediterranean against the Valkyrie and the Prince Wales' yacht for cups to be offered by Baron Rothschild and James Gordon Bennett. At these races it is Mr. Bennett's intention to have his boat manned by a crew of about 40 American amateur sailors.

VALE VALKYRIE.

New York, May 3.—With the flag of the Royal Yacht Squadron flying from its jigger mast, the Lord Dunraven's yacht Valkyrie sailed down the coast yesterday, and on this morning, bound for Southampton to take part in the season's racing in British waters. Captain Cranfield, who had charge of the yacht in her race with the Vigilant, is confident that the boat will make a comfortable passage across the Channel. "She will win in about eighteen or twenty days," said he, "and I think we shall see better weather than we had coming on." The Valkyrie sailed out of the Narrows she was saluted with steam whistles dipping of flags, etc. She gracefully acknowledged the salute by dipping the fish ensign.

THE GOLDEN STATE.

Preparing to Receive Secretary Herbert at Vallejo.

THE MACDONALD EMBEZZLEMENTS.

Death of a Man Who Stood High Every-where—Gold Coin Swindlers Arrested—Murderer Frederick Sentenced to be Hanged—Prominent Newspaper Man Shot.

Vallejo, Cal., May 7.—Preparations are being made at the yard to receive the secretary of the navy, now on his way to this coast to inspect government works here at Port Orchard. It is the intention of the secretary to make an inspection of all works at the yard to satisfy himself, personally, of the needs of the situation. He will also, it is expected, inspect the Behring Sea fleet. So far no plans have been given out as to his intentions in this respect.

San Francisco, May 7.—Joseph Sullivan, better known as the "Brooklyn Giant," died in Oakland yesterday. He was seven feet eight inches in height.

Major Charles C. Keene, an old national guardsmen, well known in military circles, was accidentally asphyxiated by a gas cylinder at his residence yesterday. He was 64 years of age.

The grand jury is said to have indicted Frank V. McDonald for the embezzlement of fourteen thousand dollars from the Pacific Bank, and the indictment will be returned against him to-morrow. In all probability additional indictments will be made against R. H. McDonald, jr. The grand jury is investigating the circumstances under which the Pacific Bank and left only his note and two insurance policies on his life as security. The sinking of about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars from near the bank, and one hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars in the John Brown colony is also being investigated. An attempt is being made today to get the bank-wrecker out of jail.

San Francisco, May 7.—The telegraph team match between Company B, First infantry regiment, national guard, better known as the "Garson Guard," and Carson, respectively, the San Francisco team scored 1223, while the Carson men made 1213. The highest individual score was 46, made by a member of the Nevada team.

San Bruno and his wife have been arrested in this city by secret service officers for "swearing" twenty dollar gold pieces. They have been carrying on their operations in the heart of the city for at least five years, and their work is considered as most important of the kind ever made in the state.

Frank Giannini, well known with drink yesterday, made an unprovoked attack upon "Red" Wilson, Mrs. Giannini received a severe gash in the neck and is in a dangerous condition, while his brother Joseph and Wilson were cut about the legs and arms. The assault was arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Wm. Fredericks, who shot and killed Wm. Herricks, cashier of the San Francisco Savings Union, on March 23rd last, because of his refusal to grant Fredericks a demand for money, was this morning sentenced to be hanged on July 11th next.

J. M. Elliott, business manager of the Chronicle, was shot by a man named Rudolph shortly after noon today.

The shooting was done by Jake Rudolph, a well known policeman, and for many years Chris Buckley's right-hand man. Rudolph entered the business office of the Chronicle and excitedly asked for M. H. De Young, the proprietor. He was told that the latter was at the fair. Rudolph's excited manner drew Elliott from the office and he admonished Rudolph to be quiet, but drawing a revolver from his pocket, he attempted to shoot Elliott. The latter fell upon Rudolph and in the struggle that ensued the revolver was discharged, the bullet penetrating itself on some silver contained in Mr. Elliott's pocket, and saving his life. Rudolph was arrested and refused to talk.

When the case of John W. Flood, ex-cashier of the Donohoe, Kelly Banking Company, which was recently re-indicted by the grand jury, was called today, Flood's attorneys moved that the indictment be quashed. Motion was set for hearing on 18th instant.

Up to one o'clock this afternoon, R. H. McDonald, jr., who was indicted by the grand jury for feloniously embezzling funds of the Pacific Bank, had not secured bail.

THE ITALIAN MURDERERS' CASE—The Mount Stephen Family Coming to Canada.

The Italian Murderers' Case—The Mount Stephen Family Coming to Canada.

Mysterious Death of a Hamilton Widow—Suspicious Fire—Ontario Election.

Ottawa, May 7.—The case of two Italians now in Regina jail sentenced to be hanged, is still under the consideration of the cabinet. The government is in correspondence with the Italian consul at Halifax regarding the matter.

Montreal, May 7.—Lord and Lady Mount Stephen will sail from Liverpool on Wednesday, 30th inst., by the Majestic, for New York, and are expected to reach Montreal on June 8. Lord Mount Stephen will leave for his fishing grounds at Meris on June 15th.

Hamilton, May 7.—The body of Mrs. Benjamin, widow, was found in one of the distillery vats at Trout's Sons' cattle sheds on Saturday night. How the woman came to her death is not known. The woman was about 30 and mother of four children who are in the county home.

Strathroy, Ont., May 7.—At the inquest on Saturday on the fire in Fawcett's mill and Wilson's hotel, which took place early on the morning of Sunday, April 12th, a young Englishman named Howard was described by the coroner as asked by Thomas Wilson to set fire to the planing mill, but had refused. The evidence will be resumed next Friday.

Ottawa, May 7.—Officials here say the legislature of Ontario will be dissolved this week probably on Thursday. The writs for the elections will be issued at once. Nomination day has been fixed for July 19th, and polling on July 26. Preparations for the contest are already active throughout the province.

ANTWERP'S BIG SHOW.

The Exhibition Opened on Saturday Under Happy Auspices.

Antwerp, May 7.—Amid the booming of cannon, the playing of the national hymns of all countries and the cheers of fifty thousand spectators the international exposition of Belgium was formally declared open on Saturday by King Leopold II. It was a great day for Antwerp. Business was suspended, triumphal arches spanned the streets, myriads of flags of all countries fluttered from windows and house-tops, and tens of thousands of visitors came from near and distant points for the occasion. The ceremonies took place at noon on the large plaza fronting the Place Publique.

The king was escorted to the exposition by a detachment of military and municipal officials, and met at the entrance by the officers of the exposition. The ceremonies were brief but impressive, consisting of music, vocal and instrumental, invocations, and speeches. The king declared the exhibition open in a religious speech, and then touched an electric button which set the machinery in motion. The representatives of foreign governments who occupied seats immediately on the right and left of the royal party were then introduced. The flag of the United States and that of Belgium were intertwined on the canopy over the royal chair, and the playing of the Star Spangled Banner by the orchestra of Grand Military Band the signal for the opening of the exposition.

After the exercises the king and his foreign representatives made a tour of the buildings and were afterwards entertained at luncheon by the exposition authorities. Hon. Stanislaus H. Hain and James P. Holland of Chicago, respectively special delegate and secretary of the commission of the United States were extended distinguished consideration during the exercises.

The exposition is in a far from complete state and at least another month will be required to complete the work of installation. It occupies two hundred acres of ground in a new quarter of the city beside the river Scheldt. Its main buildings, constructed of iron and steel and roofed with zinc, cover 1,080,000 square feet. They are continuous with one another, covering the west and northwest sides of the grounds, and thus forming an oblong enclosure.

The American building is a handsome structure, 240x150 feet. There are numerous foreign villages, and an American Plaisance. The principal novelty of the exposition is a castle in the air, a cafe seating 500 supported above the tops of the buildings by balloons.

COMMONWEALTHERS ON TRIAL.

Washington, May 7.—The trial of the commonwealthers was resumed today. Their counsel said he would prove the arrest of the defendant was most brutal, and that the police used unwarranted force in clubbing not only the defendants but others. He said he would offer evidence that a conspiracy existed to conduct the defendants. Several witnesses then testified to the arrest of the commonwealthers at the capital and the violence of the police.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 7.—The Kellyites had a good meal this morning. Kelly and the child start from Des Moines to-morrow and will be in Washington on the fourth of July.

Coxy testified in his own defence and told of his efforts to get permission to speak from the capital streets, how he reached the steps and his being hustled therefrom without being permitted to speak. On cross-examination he said as an American citizen he thought he had a constitutional right to speak.

In the Senate Allen offered a resolution providing for a committee of five senators to investigate the facts and circumstances connected with the assault and imprisonment of the Coxyites, and making recommendations intended to prevent such offences hereafter. The resolution laid over.

VENGEANCE OF A ROMAN.

Rome, May 7.—A young man named Vencie, connected with an aristocratic Roman family, last evening shot and killed the daughter of Signor Liberti, a war office official. He was betrothed to the girl. Vencie then blew out his brains. The cause was jealousy.

THEY OWN THE EARTH.

New York, May 7.—The Herald this morning announced that the Standard Oil Co. has concluded negotiations with Russian oil companies which will result in a division of the entire world's market between the two. It is stated that the Standard Co. will have the monopoly of the British Islands, France and most of western Europe. The exact territorial division has not yet become known.

LOVE AND LAW.

Remarkable Story of the Coxie Family Told in Court.

Memphis, Tenn., May 7.—The United States circuit court here has decided a will case which revealed a strange story of romantic love. The caption of the case is "A. C. Brewer, Administrator, v. Lydia C. Brewer."

Before the civil war, among the families of wealth and culture about Holly Springs, Miss., none stood higher than the Coxies. They owned land by the thousand acres and slaves by the hundreds. There were five brothers in the family. Tobias married a handsome girl, but a few days afterwards both she and he were found dead in their room. It was supposed Tobias murdered his wife and then committed suicide.

During the war, when General Grant established his headquarters at Holly Springs, he made William Coxie's house his headquarters.

To William Coxie was born a daughter, Lydia, who later became Mrs. Clara Brewer, and who was the plaintiff in the case. Matthew Coxie, another brother of the wife, was become involved with one of his slaves, a beautiful octogenarian named Rosa, who ran away with the rebel lines. Coxie followed and implored her government of Great Britain, except in parts of the United States.

EASTERN CANADA.

Notice. The officers herein authorized to enter on the British coast, the act approved April 6, 1894, will observe that the objects of the foregoing articles are to prevent from unnecessary seizure and loss of sealing vessels already at sea in ignorance of the provisions of the act, or unable to strictly comply with its requirements. Should cases occur which are not definitely provided for they must be dealt with by the officers with the above mentioned objects in view and as far as possible in accordance with the law and regulations as possible. These regulations are intended to apply only to the closed seas of 1894, and are not to be regarded as a complete execution of the act, or as a complete execution of the act of congress.

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

These regulations are in principle and details substantially the same as those of the British government with issue at Washington, D. C., May 3.—The treaty negotiated by Secretary of State Graham and Prince Cantacuzene, Russian minister, is an agreement looking to the protection of Russian seals on the islands off the coast of Siberia, when sealing will be permitted by vessels of the United States, the limit being fixed at ten miles. The treaty was sent to the senate to-day while it was in executive session, and the only definite action taken on it was to refer it to the committee on foreign relations. Senator Morgan took occasion to briefly explain the document, saying that this was the first fruits of the efforts of the United States and Great Britain to get other nations to cooperate with them in the effort to preserve seal life. There is also an effort to bring Japan into the compact, but no such progress has been made in the treaty negotiations with Russia. The document provides for penalties for its violation. No opposition whatever has so far been made manifest to the treaty.

BRECKINRIDGE AT BAY.

The Old Man Turns Upon the Clergy and the Press.

Lexington, Ky., May 5.—Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge was greeted here to-day by an audience of three thousand people, representing the voters of the seventh congressional district and many people in the surrounding country. The speaking was in the opera house, and a half hour before Col. Breckinridge arrived the auditorium was full of people. When he advanced toward the stage from the rear entrance the audience stood up and yelled wildly for five minutes. The colonel was filled with emotions which shook him from head to foot. He made his most powerful address he ever delivered to a Kentucky audience. When he spoke of the action of the ministers' union in this city, which took action against him, he assumed the most defiant look and strained every nerve in his body; his fists were clenched and his expression was that of a brave man thoroughly enraged. He gave the public press some very hard flings, and when he took his seat he was plainly to be seen that he has many friends who intend to stand by him.

After reviewing his boyhood life at Lexington, his public services in the Confederate army and in congress, Col. Breckinridge said:

"I do not wish this district to conclude that I have any defence to make for what I have done and of which I have been guilty. Entitled by weakness, by passion, by sin, to the position which I was in, I did everything that was within my power to prevent a public scandal, except the one thing which for no moment entered my mind. Four resolutions of me can be taken from now add to the punishment I have suffered. My life has not been consistently wrong; I knew the secret sin; I tried to atone for it in ways that is not becoming in me to more than allude to. I care not now what did this atonement produce to others; how much of self-control and how much of self-sacrifice, how much of earnestness and labor in aid of good things and to good causes. Whatever I did to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the feeling that there is no cloud there. I am not afraid that from the horizon will suddenly come a clap of thunder and a flash of lightning that will destroy me and mine. This is of the past. I will treat with me the scars, but I will no longer carry the dread. I will come out of that storm, however long as it may last, in some respect a conqueror. The sweet domestic relations which I need to make a public atonement under any circumstance to my audience how cautious was I that no word of mine might tempt others to be guilty as I was guilty. Now, that exposure has come, there is an element of goodness in it. I care not now what letters come in my mail; I care not now for the closet door to be opened; there is no skeleton there, and I can go into the clear sunlight out of the mystery and look up through the blue skies into the upper world with the