A PASTOR'S EXPERIENCE.

The Troubles of a Canadian Clergyman.

Attached with a Disease Unknown to Physicians—He Had Almost Given up Hope When the Hand of Relief was Stretched Out to Him.

Rev. S. J. Cummings, the pastor of the First Baptist church of Delevan, New York, has had an experience that makes him one of the most talked of men in Cattaraugus county. To a reporter of the Buffalo News who called upon him, Mr. Cummings made the following statement which he put in the form of an affidavit. "I am now feeling as well that I am entering on a series of special teaching; and am returning to work with all my old time vigor. I was prostrated in June last and was treated by three physicians, one near this place and two in the city of Buffalo, but received no benefit or encouragement from them. They all were of the opinion that I would have to resign my pastorate and quit preaching. Nevertheless I now feel entirely recovered.

I cannot give you the name of my doctor. It baffled the physicians, and they could not agree as to the nature of the trouble. After the slightest exposure as in the damp of the morning, or after the dew-fell in the evening, my limbs would swell and become discolored and my body would be racked with pain. These attacks would last three or four hours, but they would usually leave me helpless for at least a day after the acute pain had passed. At night I was unable to sleep. The strain upon my nervous system was tremendous. I became so prostrated as to be unable to take exercise. I could do scarcely any work in my study, and frequently could not preach to my people. Sometimes for a week the muscles of my arms would be so affected that I could not write a letter or pen a discourse.

On the recommendation of the physicians who examined me, my church granted me a vacation for a month, and I went to my old home at Oakwood, Ont., north of Toronto for a rest. On reaching home my father urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I protested on the plea of having taken so many medicines that I had lost all faith in them. But he had heard of their efficacy and insisted on my giving them a trial. He brought me two boxes and I commenced to take them. I soon found my health improving so rapidly that I returned to my home and family at this place. Some of my friends insisted that the benefit was only temporary, that I would soon have a relapse and be worse than before, but I have continued to take them and now feel like a new man. The sudden attacks of pain which formerly prostrated me on my bed do not recur, and I have exposed myself many times in a way that would have formerly brought them on.

In my family I have found them very beneficial. My wife finds them more helpful to her than anything she has ever taken. I have spent hundreds of dollars in doctors' remedies and patent medicines but all to no avail until I tried Pink Pills.

S. J. CUMMINGS.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 19th day of September, 1893.

JOHN HORN, Notary Public.

Druggists everywhere bear witness to the firm hold this wonderful Canadian medicine has taken upon the public, and to the vast good it has accomplished in relieving suffering, and thousands of grateful people like Rev. Mr. Cummings cheerfully testify to the benefits derived from its use, often after skilled physicians had absolutely failed to help them. If you are ailing cast prejudice aside and give this marvel of modern medical science a fair trial. An analysis of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills show that they contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling, resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, irregularities and all forms of weakness.

They build up the blood and restore it a glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excessive of whatever nature. There are no ill effects following the use of this wonderful medicine, and it can be given to children with perfect safety.

These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and are sold only in boxes bearing the Dr.'s trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and are never sold in bulk. There are numerous imitations and other so-called blood builders against which the public are cautioned. If your dealer does not keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they will be sent post-paid on receipt of above price.

JINGLES OF HUMOR.

A Little Housewife Gathered For Leisure Reading.

Tramp—All my troubles come from card playing, mum. I lost me self respect when I didn't care what became of me. Housekeeper (sympathetically)—Poor man! I should think you would have lost your self respect.

Tramp—Yes mum. A man can have no self respect when he always loses.

His Man's Excuse.

Young Bride (pouting)—Here we have only been married two days, Clarence and you're scolding me already.

Husband—I know, my dear, but just think how long I have been waiting for the chance.

The Hardest Part.

Ha, hum! I sighed the defeated candidate. It's bad enough to be beaten in an election, but this having to find satisfactory reasons for the defeat is the most unpleasant thing of all.

Giving Up.

Say old man, you sip that wine as if it were your life blood.

Well it cost enough—$50 a bottle. H'm! I don't wonder you feel as if you were bleeding at every pore.

Both Wrong.

Now George which is correct—mamma gave me a piece of pie, or mamma give me a piece of pie?

George—Neither one. I took it when she wasn't looking.

Three Dollars Saved.

Din you order a cab for me? queried Joblots at the club.

Yes sir, said the clerk, but the cabs are all out.

Thank heaven! said Joblots.

Hisant.

Patient (to family doctor)—In your absence, doctor, I was compelled to call in young Dr. Sawbones. He said that the clinical symptoms indicated chronic intestinal inflammation. What is that in plain English?

Family Doctor—In plain English it means that Sawbones didn't know what was the matter with you.

Settling an Old Grievance.

I have come, sir, exclaimed the wild eyed caller, throwing his head back defiantly, to have it out with you!

The dentist grasped his forceps, there was a short struggle, and he stood over his victim in triumph.

That's all right, sir, he replied, looking at the weapon to see if he had brought away anything besides the aching molar itself. That's all right. But I don't want any of your jaw, you know.

Wanted a Variety of Them.

Mrs. Newrich (trials)—I've a good mind to sue you for your work on that last order to engrave my silverware.

The Designer and Engraver—What is the trouble, madam?

Mrs. Newrich—Trouble! Why, I told you not to spare any pains to make it the swellest job you know how, and you've put just the same coat-of-arms on every piece.

Strictly Business.

I—I hardly know what to say, Mr. Brown cliff, said the agitated young woman who acted as assistant postmaster and grocer's clerk at the little village of Peaville. I—I wasn't expecting anything of this kind.

That's all right, Miss Frankie, responded Mr. Brown cliff, travelling salesman for Pulem & Gummitt's candy factory. That's all right. You can just consider it a square offer. I have a good house and lot $2,000 in the bank, I'm getting a handsome salary, I am a good judge of girls, and you're the one I want to marry. I've got just five minutes to make my train. Miss Frankie, he added hurriedly, looking at his watch, and I'll be around again in exactly 30 days for your answer with a full line of samples, save your orders for me and think over what I've said, and I haven't another second to spare good by, dear.

Injured Nerves, A Sad Accident, Thrown From Carriage, and Suffered Eight Years.

A Nurse in the Hospital 4 yrs.

Eight years ago I was thrown from a carriage, striking on the back of my neck, completely shattering my nervous system. I could not sleep; was very constipated, and the best thing worried me; my friends feared I would become insane. I tried physicians and patent medicines, but I received no benefit until I took

German Character of the 7th Century.

Beside a manger lowly,
A mother, pale and mild,
With eyes serene and holy,
Is watching o'er her child.
I, too, would gaze and ponder,
Bowed down in homage low,
For sight more full of wonder
This earth did never show.

Across the mists of ages
That Infant's form divine,
Unobscured still, engages
The heart before his shrine.

For though in God's appointed
The world no charm copies,
Faith reads the signs appointed—
"The Christ, my Lord, he cries.

Behold the 'Branch' of David,
The 'Shiloh' fabled of old,
The Son of Virgin Mother,
By prophet's lips foretold,
Behold the seed of woman
Repairer of the Fall,
The Child Divine, yet human,
Emmanuel, Lord of all!

Oh, tender plant upspringing
Amid the desert dry!
Oh, dawn of promise, flinging
The rays o'er earth and sky!
Oh, glad and gushing river,
From lord's own fountain poured,
Spring up—flow on forever,
Till all men know the Lord!

The Occasion.

Select well printed books.

Do not read while lying down.

Avoid reading and study by poor light.

Take sufficient exercise in the open air.

Correct errors of refraction with proper glasses.

Reading and study should be done methodically.

Avoid bad hygienic conditions and the use of alcohol and tobacco.

Light should come from the side and from the back or from the front.

Do not use the eyes too long at a time if near work, but give them occasional periods of rest.

Do not read or study while suffering great bodily fatigue or during recovery from illness.

During study avoid the stooping position or whatever tends to produce congestion of the head and face.

Let the physical keep pace with the mental culture, for asthenopia is most usually obtained in those who are lacking in physical development.

Probably a Life Saved.

To the editor: Having been restored to Perfect Health and Sound Manhood, would like to inform those of your readers who suffer as I did from the effects of youthful folly and ignorance, of the means by which I was saved. I answered lots of advertisements of cures for Weakness, Losses, Early Decay, etc., at considerable expense, but all were unsatisfactory. Found my cure right here at home and any person may know it free of Charge by addressing with stamp,
