MRS. THAW DOES NOT REMEMBER FREQUENT ANSWER TO JEROME'S QUESTIONS

District-Attorney Has Not Yet Completed Cross-Examination--Main Points Untouched.

New York, Feb. 21.—District Attorney Jerome continued his cross-examination of Mrs. Evelyn Thaw at the trial of her husband.

Mrs. Thaw was questioned regarding letters from White. She testified that she gave fourteen letters to Thaw in Paris in 1902. Afterwards she received them from Thaw's valet and gave them to Thaw again, presumably after he had shot White. All of these letters she said were received from White while she was abroad in 1902, and were given to Thaw. She also gave him some letters which had been received before that time. She did not know where they were now.

Mrs. Thaw fenced with the district attorney artfully at times. Mr. Jerome spent an hour or more on White's letters. Mrs. Thaw, however, informed by the fourteen letters which Thaw gave to Hartridge were the only ones she positively knew were in existence. But she said some might be in a trunk. Mr. Jerome would ask occasionally a pointed question. Mrs. Thaw would reply with an emphatic "No, I didn't say that."

Mr. Jerome then turned to the story Mrs. Thaw told her husband, and the witness again declared it was true. "How long were you unconscious of your experience with Stanford White?" "I don't remember."

"Was it after midnight that you became unconscious?" "Yes, I think it was."

"Was it before daylight?" Mrs. Thaw hesitated. "Yes, before daylight."

"When did you first become ambitious to become a great actress?" "Before I went to Philadelphia."

Mr. Jerome asked about a man named Pope. He wanted to know if he had ever lived at the same house with her. "Not while I lived there," she said positively.

"Have you seen him since 1902?" "I may have passed him on the street. I don't mean that way."

Mrs. Thaw then told her of her visit with her mother to the city of Philadelphia, a theatrical manager. They had a letter from Mr. Marks. It was on this occasion that Fisher said he was not running a "baby farm."

"Did you continue to believe all women were unchaste as Stanford White told you until you talked with the chief of police?" Mrs. Thaw asked Mr. Jerome. "Yes, sir."

Tears came into Mrs. Thaw's eyes as Jerome continued to question her intimately about her relations with White. One of the newspaper women left the room. Mrs. Thaw said the relations were continued as usual. She cried bitterly when Attorney Jerome attacked Mrs. Thaw. Once he offered to suspend cross-examination for a time, but Mr. Deimas would not consent.

During the time you were in the "Floradora" company had you ever been "With whom?" "With mamma and Mr. Garland."

"When did you meet him?" "At the boarding house on 38th street."

"Did you ever write any letters to him?" "I don't remember. I might have written him."

Mrs. Thaw said her mother was pleased with Garland's attentions, and that she and her mother went yachting with him Saturday.

"Is it not true," went on Mr. Jerome, reading from a paper, "that in 1901 you were getting unruly, that your mother still stuck by you, that a married man—"

At this point Mr. Deimas objected to Mr. Jerome reading from what he termed the mother's testimony. He should produce her on the stand.

"I'd like to, but you know that is impossible. You know where she is," said Mr. Jerome. The question regarding Evelyn becoming unruly was allowed to stand.

"No," Mrs. Thaw answered. "Is it not true that married man was James A. Garland, and that he was getting a divorce, and that you and your mother frequently quarrelled about him?" "No."

"Is it not true that you went alone with him on the yacht?" "Mamma and I, yes."

Calgary's Trouble Made Public

THE BOARD OF TRADE'S ACTION TO FIND A REMEDY.

Calgary, Jan. 31.—"Calgary has been burdened in a most alarming manner during the last few years, and particularly during the last few months, with a large number of consumptives coming here from Eastern Canada. They come here usually with a small amount of money and are unable to work. The result is that they are soon on the hands of the city. They also find great difficulty in getting accommodation. Many hear of getting cases are reported every day."

The above dispatch emphasizes the alarming spread of tuberculosis in Canada. Why should this be? Canada has not roused itself to the necessity for effective action in the staying of the ravages of the white plague. Investigation has been made, and so far as official announcement has been given the best and most successful remedy, indeed, the only remedy of any real value thus far discovered, for the arrest and cure of this disease is Paychine. It has been found to possess marvelous curative properties for the checking of consumption and all forms of disease, that lead to it, such as coughs, colds, bronchitis, in gripe, catarrhs, chills, night sweats, stomach troubles and all wasting diseases and run-down conditions.

"I cannot refrain from telling all who suffer from this disease of the great benefit Paychine. In April, 1902, I caught a heavy cold which settled on my lungs and gradually led to consumption. I could not sleep, was subject to night sweats. My lungs were so diseased my doctors considered me incurable. Rev. Mr. Mahaffy, Fort Elgin, Presbyterian minister, recommended Dr. Slocum's Paychine to me when I was living in Ontario. After using Paychine for a short time I ate and slept well, the cough and night sweats ceased, and I was able to go to work."

"Months ago I stopped taking Paychine as I was perfectly restored to health, and to-day I never felt better in my life. Paychine has been a God-send to me."

"MRS. ANDREW CAMPBELL, 'Cortwood, N.W.T.' Paychine, pronounced Sikeen, is the greatest medicine of modern times. Thousands have put it to the test and found it just what Mrs. Campbell did. A perfect cure when all else failed. At all druggists, 50c. and 41c."

It is expected that all who attend will thoroughly enjoy themselves at Knox church, Spring Ridge, on Tuesday night, February 25th. No effort has been spared to provide a first-class programme, and it is hoped a substantial sum will be realized to apply to the wiping out of the debt on Knox church.
