No. 4.

Why should not city and national expenditures serve as a basis for problems in the arithmetic class? Let the pupil discover from tenement statistics the relation of deaths to air space, congestion and sanitation. Set him to figure out the ratio between the cost of education per pupil in every state and the assessed valuation of the state and its industrial output. Let him make quiet deductions of the annual loss to the nation from the destruction of forests, as he is set to figure upon forestry statistics. National and city reports and every magazine and paper will serve the teacher or pupil in gathering data for problems the working out of which may teach the need of good citizenship and show the relation of cause to effect more than any didactic lesson.

The power to read statistics intelligently is one that the quick reckoner and clever mathematician often lacks. A child who can figure correctly in billions may not have the slightest apprehension of how large an area one hundred acres is, or how long ago one thousand years may be, or how much space a million men would occupy. Experience shows that so little is the latter understood, the idea is commonly prevalent that the world may become overpopulated and this argument is sometimes adduced as an excuse for war—whereas a little calculation proves that all the population of the globe could be put into Texas and allow half an acre for each family. Let the area of the schoolyard, of the town, the cost of the school building, the towns and states population, the death and birth rate and so forth be familiar to the pupil and made the basis of his calculations. Then when he reads that the United States in spending on its navy $50,000,000 a month, that 15,000 lives were saved in New York by the lowering of the death rate due to Colonel Waring's cleaning of the streets, these statements are not so likely to seem mere unrelated facts of no significance, but pregnant and thought-compelling. It may be said, in passing, that the keen interest of New York boys in this work of street cleaning has been delightfully described by a few of the usually inane stocks. P. Great Northern pfd., R. I. pfd., Reading and Colo. Fuel rose large fractions, and Chicago and St. L. 1/2. 20c. St. Paul and Soo fell 2 1/2. Cleveland C. C. and St. L. 1 1/2. Atlantic Coast Line 1/4, and U. S. Rubber 1/2. The market opened firm.

INSIST ON REDRESS

Remain Defiant and Will Stand up for What they Consider Fair and Just BELFAST, Aug. 2.

The parade of the disaffected members of the local police force, which was scheduled to take place today, has been postponed if not altogether, abandoned, apparently to enable the government to be in a position to dismiss the entire police force of the city should drastic action become necessary.

The main body of the force, however, they will not cease agitation until they have secured a public enquiry into their alleged grievances. Constable Barrett, who was dismissed from the force for agitation, declares that among the grievances of the men is the fact that under the present "Dublin Castle" system only those men who are willing to play the part of provocateurs can gain promotion. Barrett claims that the present agitation will put an end to the "abominable system of manufacturing crime."

A SECRET TRIAL OF THE

WRIGHT BROS.' AEROPLANE

PARIS, Aug. 1.—It is reported that a secret trial of the Wright Bros.' aeroplane is about to take place in France, as the result of an arrangement with the French government.

The aeroplane is understood has been shipped from the United States and orders have been issued to the customs authorities to pass the case unopened.

LIPTON WILL CHALLENGE

Hon. Charles Russel Coming to America To Consult With the New York Yacht Club

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.

A despatch to the world from Guelph, Ontario, says that Hon. Charles Russel, of Kilowenoff, and a prominent British yachtsman, is on his way to America to open negotiations with the New York Yacht Club on behalf of Sir Thomas Lipton, with a view to the latter challenge for an American Cup race next year.

A statement was published here yesterday that Sir Thomas had abandoned his idea of challenging again, but it was proven to be untrue. From a reliable source it was learned that he is as willing as ever to come over and lift the cup, and every indication points to his trying to do so next year if the New York Yacht Club will accept a challenge under the present American measurement rule.

In all probability a challenge will be sent on the lines with the next two months, regarding question of race with New York Yacht Club. The Hon. Charles Russel will consult with the members of the cup with a view to that end.

COULD NOT PUT UP WITH

LAWYER DARROW'S METHODS

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 2.

The "News" today says that E. F. Richardson of Denver, who was one of W. D. Haywood's counsel has withdrawn from any further interests of the case and other Western Federation of Miners in cases now pending before the Idaho courts. He is quoted as saying that he will not work with Clarence Darrow, the Chicago lawyer, any longer. "The whole sum and substance of the matter is that I cannot endure Darrow's methods," said Richardson. "I do not sanction socialism at least not when it is coupled with the trying of a legal suit, and principally when my case is murder case and means a man's life."

THE CEDAR.

The bill at The Cedar for the last half of the week is one of the best ever shown in the city. The pictures are first class and the songs, Farewell, Forget Me Not, and the Illustrating slides above the scenery. The carnival at Nice, 1907, is a very handsome picture, showing how far ahead the old world is in regard to parades and floats. Some of the latter being fifty feet high and carrying over one hundred people. The Denver Firemen's Race for Life shows a turnout of the fire department in Denver which is rated as one of the fastest departments in the world.
