BIG BARN AT ONONETTE WAS TOTALLY DESTROYED

A Rather Spectacular Fire—Said to Have Been Caused by Sparks from a Locomotive.

Last evening a large barn situated short distance below the Ononette station on the C. P. R., and owned by the Stevens estate, was totally destroyed by fire. It is thought the blaze was caused by sparks from a passing locomotive, as the barn was quite near the railroad track. The dwelling house on this place has been occupied during the season by Hedley McLaughlin and others of his family. The house is within fifty feet of the barn, and when the fire developed with great rapidity the occupants of the house became very anxious, fearing that their home would also go. A number of suburban residents and others, attracted by the flames, quickly gathered and assisted Mr. McLaughlin and the others in removing their stuff from the house. Fortunately, however, what little breeze prevailed at the time carried the fire away from the house. The barn, which was about half filled with hay, burned very quickly, but no other damage was done. From a spectacular standpoint the fire was very interesting. It occurred shortly after nine o'clock.

JEW'S COMMEMORATE THE DAY OF ATONEMENT

This Feast is Being Generally Observed Today by the Hebrews Resident in St. John

The Jewish residents in St. John last evening commenced the celebration of Yom Kippur, the Feast of Atonement, and one of the most important in the Jewish calendar. Ten days ago they celebrated Rosh Hashonah, the Jewish New Year, ushering in the year 5668 with feasting and rejoicing. Yom Kippur is supposed to be religiously kept by all faithful Hebrews. Every merchant is expected to lay aside business matters and pleasures, and to spend the twenty-four hours between sundown of the day preceding and sundown of the day of the feast in fasting and prayer, but in St. John many of the Jews are not such strict observers of this feast as they might be, and the result is that most of their shops are open as usual today. Also they are supposed to abstain from food and drink during the day, and to pass the time in the synagogue praying for the remission of sin. It might be added that they are not all doing this any more than Christians spend the feast of Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, commemorates the destruction of the second Temple in Jerusalem. Three days after this comes the feast of Sukkas, beginning on Sunday next and lasting for eight days. This commemorates the end of the Bible. The Bible is read during the feast, and on the last day is turned over to the ground again at the beginning. After the feast of Sukkas there will be no remarkable events in the Hebrew calendar until the Passover.

FLEETWOOD—VANWART.

An event of importance in North End social circles will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Barzilia Vanwart, Main street, when his daughter, Miss Ella Margaret Vanwart, will be united in matrimony with Edward Jewett Fleetwood.

The ceremony will be performed in the parlor beneath an elaborate arch of sweet peas and maple leaves from which is suspended a handsome bell of white sweet peas.

The bride will wear a white lace robe with insertion of baby Irish lace and embroidered chiffon yoke over white tulle. She will carry a bouquet of bridal roses.

Mrs. Wm. H. Wilson, of Halifax, will be bridesmaid. She will wear red and green silk and picture hat, and will carry a bouquet of pink roses.

A group of six ladies will be drawn up on the sides of the arch, and the first party will pass between them upon entering the parlor. The ladies, who will wear all white, are Mesdames L. G. B. Lawson, M. McCarthy, R. H. Slips, and C. E. Cowan, and Misses E. Fleming and J. Court.

Master Ned Lawson, nephew of the groom, will bear the ring in a rose. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. David Hutchinson.

The wedding gifts are of unusual beauty and value, and are a tangible testimony of the popularity of the young couple. Prominent among the gifts is a handsome heavy brass bedstead from the staff of the Ames-Holden Co., of which the groom is a member. The bride's father's gift is an elaborate set of silver with monogram, and a substantial gift of gold.

The groom's presents are a heavy gold watch and a handsome fur stole. Among the other gifts are two sets of silver spoons from the bride's grandmother, both of whom lost their death left them in trust to be given to Miss Vanwart upon her wedding day. The spoons are of quaint and pretty pattern, and both sets are nearly a century old.

The young couple will leave for a trip to Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Niagara. Upon their return they will reside at 74 Mecklenburg street.

A LIVELY NORTH WIND MADE THINGS VERY CHILLY

When the majority of citizens woke up this morning, and started for work the first thing they did was to resurrect last winter's overcoats and read the papers anxiously to see if the cold weather was only a hint that the price of coal had been raised. In the latter surmise they were pleasantly disappointed but the weather was chilly enough.

The thermometer, however, did not register very low as the minimum was 42 degrees and at nine o'clock 44 degrees. The cause of the cold snap was a brisk north wind, which made one feel that the thermometer was down to freezing. The wind was blowing at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

Mr. Coleman Carnegie has arrived from New York and is at the Queen Hotel. He is going moose hunting with William Griffin, Jr., as guide, and is accompanied by Dr. A. A. Moore, of New York. Mr. Carnegie is a nephew of Mr. Andrew Carnegie, the steel king.—Gleaner.
