New England Poet Was Born One Hundred | Exciting Voyage of the Sirlus Afforded Its Years Ago Yesterday-Observance

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 29—Scrawled in pencil in a musty farmer's almanac, "August 29, 1800," was the simple inscription that recorded the arrival in the world 100 years ago today of Oliver Wendell Holmes, poet, educator and humorist, the centenary of whose birth was observed very quietly in this vicinity today. The only public observance was a service held in King's Chapel on Tremont street, where Dr. Holmes regularly attended for many years prior to his death, which occurred October 10, 1894. Many of his hymns were sung by the choir and an address was given by Rev. Charles E. St. John, of Philadelphia. At the Boston Public Library an exhibition of Holmes' works, portraits, scenes connected with his life, treasures and relics were shown.

Here is a New Kind of Soap

You are now using some soap and naturally think it is good. But here is a kind that is different from any you know—one that has taken us 43 years to perfect.

Try one cake and compare it with what you now use. We welcome such a test as this for we know in advance the result. You will never go back to the other kind. Here is a soap made from vegetable oil pure enough to use on your table. We pay far more for this in France than we might pay. So we get only the best.

Cocoanut oil from the isle of Ceylon is brought over 12,000 miles and mixed with the olive oil. Then both are boiled doubly long. After this we mill them by our own special process. We have scoured the best factories of England, France and Austria for almost half a century to perfect this process. We have combined the best ideas of foreign lands with our own improvements to attain perfection.

When milled, the soap falls like flakes of snow into enormous bins and is then crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Then it passes through granite rollers and comes out in miles of silky ribbon. After being dried eight times it is pressed into cakes and is simply perfect soap. It lathers into a rich creamy foam and wears as thin as a wafer. It leaves the skin rosy and pink like an infant's. So we call it Infants' Delight.

The perfume is dainty and pure—it suggests only the delicate scent of the roses. Use one cake today and see what a wonderful difference there can be in soap.
