

Social Notes of the week

Quite a few social functions have been given this week in our city but chiefly of a patriotic nature. Two of the chapters of the Daughters of the Empire intend shortly giving dramatic entertainments while another in the near future will give a military "revue," all for patriotic purposes. Rehearsals are being held two and three times a week by the ladies and gentlemen in the cast. Two of our regents of the Daughters of the Empire, Mrs. E. Atherton Smith and Mrs. A. W. Adams have been elected annual officers at the National Chapter's annual meeting of the I. O. D. E., held this week in Toronto. Thursday Loyalist Day was very quietly observed in our city as in our custom. It was a holiday in our schools and many flags were flown in honor of the memory of the brave forefathers of 1783.

Mrs. and Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong and family moved today to their summer home, Rothesay.

Mrs. H. N. Stetson was hostess at a small but delightful tea on Tuesday afternoon at her residence, Mt. Pleasant, in honor of Mrs. H. H. Powell, wife of Colonel Powell. The daintily appointed tea table was presided over by Mrs. George Mack Eiland. Mrs. I. O. D. E. was a very great success. Music lovers in our city now look forward when the announcement is made that the Ladies' Orchestra will give a concert to a musical treat, and on Thursday evening, as on other occasions, were not disappointed. Every number was delightfully rendered. The trio for violin, cello and piano by Mrs. T. J. Gunn, Miss Dorothy Hayward and Mr. Bowden was splendidly rendered, the ensemble playing being very good. They responded to an encore with Fantele-Stuck (Schumann). The intermezzo from the "Nevada of the Madonna" by the orchestra was very fine, showing much study, being well shaded and good climax. Mrs. Crockett's beautiful voice was never heard to better advantage, her choice selection showing her wonderful quality of tone and expression, in her first solo "O Dry Those Tears" with cello obligato by Mr. Bowden, the voice and cello were well blended. In her group of songs "Will of the Wisp" was a gem. Much praise is due Mrs. Gordon Dickie who accompanied Mrs. Crockett at the piano in her solos, particularly pleasing in the "Will of the Wisp," a most different accompaniment which was so well played. LeFame (Dubussy) and scene from the ballet by the orchestra were wondrously fascinating and elicited much applause. The prelude from Le "Mock Morris" was thoroughly enjoyed for its perfect rhythm and so well finished. Miss Dorothy Bayard as accompanist for the orchestra was as usual artistic, and Miss Gwendoline Gandy added greatly to the orchestral harmonies by her accompaniments on the organ. Mr. Bowden is to be congratulated on the splendid work accomplished by the orchestra under his direction, and many hope clever conductorship, and many hope in the near future a similar concert will be given by the Ladies' Orchestra Club. Those taking part were: Violins, Mrs. H. H. Stetson, Mrs. J. I. Gunn, Mrs. Winifred Baxter, Miss Mary MacLaren, Miss Josephine Lynch, Miss Maria Casswell, Miss Elsie Hallanore, Miss Leslie Grant, Miss Amy Napier, Viola, Miss May McArthur, Miss Lily Kennedy; cello, Miss Ellen Lynch, Miss Eva Frodsham; organ, Miss Gwendoline Gandy; piano, Miss Dorothy Bayard.
