APPLE TEA.

This afternoon, from 3.30 to 6 o'clock, an apple tea will be conducted in Trinity church schoolroom with the object of securing funds to buy apples for the wounded Canadian soldiers in Oxford hospitals. Tea will be served for 15 cents and there will also be a candy and home-cooking table, and a grab-bag with many novelties.

Miss Louise Knight has been the originator of this idea and last year a similar tea was very successful. The grateful letters received from the Canadians made those interested feel that they would like this year to send even more to those soldiers who have fought so bravely.

Assisting Miss Knight will be a number of young ladies and last year a similar tea was very successful. The grateful letters received from the Canadians made those interested feel that they would like this year to send even more to those soldiers who have fought so bravely.

ALLIES' AID TEA.

In the Children's Corner will be found particulars of a tea to be given by the Allies' Aid, a society of little girls who are trying to do their bit for the soldiers. They are serving afternoon tea from 3 to 6 o'clock in the Masonic Hall, German street, the proceeds to go for soldiers' comforts.

SATURDAY'S POEM.

The Gospel of Labor.

But I think the King of that country Comes out from His palace of the weary As if He loved it the most. And here in the dusty confusion, with Eyes that are heavy and dim, He meets again the laboring men, Who are looking and longing for Him.

He cancels the curse of Eden, and brings Them a blessing instead; Blessed are they that labor, for Jesus Partakes of their bread. He puts his hand to their burdens, He enters their homes at night; Who does his best shall have as a guest The Master of Life and Light.

And courage will come with His presence, And patience return to His touch, And manifold sins be forgiven to those Who love Him much.

And the cries of envy and anger Will change to the songs of cheer For the tolling age will forget its rage When the Prince of Peace draws near.

This is the gospel of labor— Ring it ye bells of the kirk. The Lord of Love came down from above To live with the men who work.

In the thorn-curse told, Heaven is blessed with perfect rest, But the blessing of earth is toll. —Henry Van Dyke.

MAGAZINE APPEAL.

Letter From a Belgian Prisoner.

"For nearly a year and a half have only had my pay of four cents a day, and with that one cannot live in luxury. Do not laugh at me then when I tell you that I smoke a pipe for economy's sake—it's the truth. "You ask me what my life is like here at the camp. I will at once satisfy your curiosity. I rise at five and take a short walk; at six, I breakfast, (but unfortunately I never get enough to satisfy me because one roll is not nearly enough.) After that I walk until nine o'clock, and I go to the armory until noon. At noon I eat my basin of soup and then until 3 o'clock I study English. Afterwards I read anything I can get a bowl of potatoes and at five I eat a bowl of potatoes and little ends of meat and then I walk. I read or I smoke until nine when I go to sleep in a hammock, which I made myself. This is my miserable life here. As for liberty—once a month we can go into town and we have permission from eleven to eight o'clock. But unfortunately there is absolutely nothing to see or do there and everything is horribly expensive. Oh, these good Dutch in Zeist, where we go on permission, they will surely have something to put away for their old age. They take everything from us.

You are right in considering my country Belgium, beautiful, but also there remains, but little of it now—it is practically a ruin. God knows if I shall find again my parents again or my relations in short, all those who were dear to me, for two years I have suffered perfect anguish concerning them, as I have received nothing from them, neither letters nor money, and why you may ask?

I am very fond of reading, but unfortunately, have no books whatever. Either English or French magazines or books would be a God-send. Yours very gratefully, Albert de Berchle, Interned in Camp 1, Ziest, Holland.

Any books or magazines in answer to this appeal may be left at Room 44, C. P. R. Building, addressed to Miss Madeline De Soyres, who will forward them.

DON'T BE FUSSY.

There is an old adage that warns that "nothing ever goes quite right." Just bear this in mind for it is pretty nearly the truth.

No one likes to be worried, bullied, or found fault with. The fussy may be a woman, and quite often the "fussy" is a man, as the habit is not confined to one sex.

Tattling is another bad habit. Learn to bear little crosses in dignified silence. Give matters a chance to settle. Often it only requires a little patience to bring about amiable relations. Little troubles often grow to be large ones, through much discussion, as one word brings on another, and an argument brings about hard feelings. When you feel inclined to get angry, go away by yourself and read something funny till you regain

VOLUNTEER AID DEPARTMENT.

A meeting will be held on Tuesday evening in St. John Stone church, at which the work of the Volunteer Aid Department will be discussed. A report will be read on the winter's work. It is felt that there will be need for more activity in this work, therefore it is requested that persons desiring of assisting in such work should attend the meeting.

The meeting on Tuesday evening will be held preparatory to entering upon the season's work.

SAUCE INSTEAD OF FROSTING.

A clever cook discovered that small cakes served with a sauce of some tempting sort made a satisfying lunch or dessert whereas until cakes simply frosted seemed only an accessory. The discovery is worth considering.

For really with a hot or cold sauce the simplest little cakes take on added dignity and can sometimes be successfully served for dessert at dinner as well as at luncheon.

Hot chocolate sauce is made in this way. Melt together a cupful of granulated sugar and three squares of chocolate. When completely melted—over hot water, of course—gradually add, stirring constantly, three quarters of a cupful of hot water and boil carefully for about five minutes until smooth and thick. Add a little vanilla and serve.

Maple sauce is made in this way: Melt half a cupful of butter, add a tablespoonful of flour, a cupful of maple syrup and a half a cupful of hot water. Boil up once and serve.

A rich peach sauce can be made by crushing ripe peaches and pouring over them a thick, hot syrup. This sauce can be served either hot or very cold.

Orange sauce can be made by creaming together half a cupful of butter, one cupful of sugar and a cupful of orange juice. If desired an orange can be diced and added.

Whipped cream sauce is made by putting together the white of an egg, a cupful of cream, half a cupful of powdered sugar and vanilla or sherry to flavor. Beat all together to a foam and serve.

Marshmallow sauce is made by making a quarter of a pound of marshmallows in a double boiler with two table-spoonfuls of water and then adding a cupful of jelly or jam or thick chocolate syrup.

DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT CANADIAN PRISONERS OF WAR FUND.

Mrs. Josiah Wood has asked that the women of St. John make a special effort on behalf of the fund for our Canadian soldiers who have been unfortunate enough to fall into the hands of the Germans and are now held by them as prisoners of war. The fund will close on the 16th of October. The Women's Canadian Club, yesterday, sent Mrs. Richard O'Brien, special secretary to Mrs. Wood, the sum of $225. Persons desirous of contributing to this fund can send their donations to Mrs. O'Brien.

ONTARIO ACTIVITIES.

Recently a most successful concert was given in aid of the Tellington Soldiers' Aid Society, under the patronage of Mrs. Kingston. Mrs. R. G. Agnew was in charge of the programme, and several Toronto artists assisted. The proceeds amounted to $131.50. A summary of the year's work was presented by the president, Mrs. H. M. Freeman. 8,886 articles have been made, including 236 pairs of socks; 200 jars of fruit were also given. The

DANDRUFF GOES!

HAIR GETS THICK,
WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments. Try this!

Hair stops coming out and every particle of dandruff disappears.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

treasurer announced that there was a balance of $172 on hand to start the Winter's work. The young boys of the neighborhood have collected about 3 tons of newspapers and magazines, which will be disposed of for the benefit of the society.

Sidney Olcott has resigned from the Famous Players directorial staff. This announcement will come as a big surprise to the many admirers of Mr. Olcott's creative genius.

During his engagement with the Famous Players, Olcott produced some very successful pictures, among them "Madame Butterfly" and "Poor Little Pepina," with Marie Pickford; "Diplomacy," with Marie Doro; "Seven Sisters," with Marguerite Clark, and "The Smugglers," with Donald Brian. He also directed Hazel Dawn and later, Valentine Grant in the Irish subject, "The Inn of the Holy." He has just completed a Scotch story, "The Daughter of MacGregor," with Miss Grant.

IMPERIAL.

Phantom Fortunes. You don't want to miss this picture unless you want to miss some of the best acting we have seen for some time. Usually one person featured is tiresome but Barney Bernard as Mr. Plunkett is a perfect delight. Just to see his expression as his choice cigars disappear in the grasping hands of Dorgan, who is out for all he can get, is a treat in itself. His clever characterization of the Jewish manufacturer and the reality and faithfulness of the types, settings, and in fact, the whole spirit of the picture, make it a remarkable one.

The play is built around one Zalmom Plunkett. We know now why Potash and Perlmutter was so popular. Many examples are given of his whole-souled charity and sympathy. The changed look when he finds out that one suppliant is an old woman, (Mary Maurice), is very touching. He and Bo Deering (Jimmy Morrison) are dealing with crooks who represent themselves as buyers for the Allies. In a business interview a clever bit of stage realism is introduced showing the actual working of wireless telegraphy. The subplot is very funny and there are fine bits of comedy.

There is present the love interest and also a villain. The latter attribute is all of that for the reason that Lester Bernard plays the part so well. Mrs. Moscovitz, James Morrison, Adele DeGarde, Edward Elkas and Mary Maurice are praiseworthy members of the supporting cast.

Secret of Submarine.

Still after the elusive secret and each new volume discovered brings disappointment. This installment gives plenty of climbs up steep cliffs and one spectacular leap from a great height. "The Hangerson" for this week is a fine one. The house which the hero and heroine are in is dynamited and the pieces fall into the sea. Yes, we think they are saved but it will be a movie miracle.

The new songs of Messrs. Keefe Langton and White pleased their audiences, especially the "hula hula" one with the catchy chorus.

NOTES OF PLAYERS SEEN RECENTLY.

Theodore Roberts is an American actor born in San Francisco, Oct. 8th, 1861. He has been on the stage for many years and since 1880 has played with W. H. Crane, Stuart-Robson, Fanny Davenport, J. K. Hackett, Bertha Kalich. His motion picture career has been with Lucky and "Mr. Grex of Monte Carlo" is one of his best known plays.

JACK RICHARDSON.

Who plays characters and heavies with American company, is a native of New York City. After being on the stage for some time, since 1909, he has played before the camera with Selig and the American. He is fond of riding, swimming, boxing, motorcycling, and of vocal and instrumental music. His hair is brown and he has blue eyes.

Verdun Soldier is Capellani's Aide. Major Verducci is the aide to the director General Albert Capellani of the Clara Kimball Young Film Corporation, was recently invalided back to the States after serving a year as an officer in the French Army. He was wounded by shrapnel at Verdun while exposing himself in order to make a snapshot photograph of a German charge. His collection of war photos is the most remarkable brought home from the war zone so far.

Miss Greenwood for Picture Studio Life; No More of Stage.

"Never again," said Winnifred Greenwood, clever star of "A Woman's Darling," which is to be released by the Mutual Film Corporation on October 6—"No, believe me, never again."

Miss Greenwood had been reading a letter and she tossed it away as she finished, holding her right hand high above her curly brown head as she uttered the oft repeated slogan. "What are you swearing off now?" demanded Franklin Ritchie, another of the Mutual's headliners—"don't intend to quit dancing, do you?"

"Not much," was Miss Greenwood's laconic reply—"The fact is, Frank, that letter contains an offer to return to the speaking stage with 'big prospects.' There aren't any prospects that would ever get me back there. I'm too awfully contented."

Just then a writer man butted into the conversation and demanded to know what caused Miss Greenwood's determination to remain at Santa Barbara and stick to the silent drama for life.

"Why?" laughed the pretty girl—"Well, it's the simplest of all reasons. I'm happy. I live here in a pretty bungalow close to the sea and close to the studio. I have flowers in my garden and beautiful pigeons in a loft, and chickens sitting on eggs, and sunlight, and fresh air. I don't have to dress and undress half a dozen times in a dirty hole backed up on an alley. I'm free as a lark and I feel like one. I'm the most tickled and emancipated of slaves."

Just Like One of Montague Glass' Stories in The Saturday Evening Post

THE IMPERIAL THEATRE in presenting this famous picture of business life in the clothing manufacturers of New York is not caricaturing the Hebrew people in the least. On the other hand it exposes a fine strain of kindness and logic that makes one feel good. Mr. Bernard is, of course, the dominating figure, and to say he is a rare joy is putting it mildly. The cast includes L. Rogers Lytton, Jimmy Monson, Mary Maurice, Mrs. Moscovitz, "Potash & Perlmutter" Co., Edward Elkas and numerous others. The story deals with a half million dollar clothing order for the Allied Armies in which Scotland Yard detectives take a lively hand. This picture is something out of the ordinary; see it.
