

WANTED - A second class teacher, Term commencing January, 1908. Address: Round Hill, Greenwood, Kings county, N. B. Apply, stating salary, to Spurgeon G. Jones, secretary.

WANTED - A third class teacher for Walton Lake District No. 14, parish of Kings, Kings county. District school poor. Apply, stating salary, to the trustees, Kings county.

WANTED - At the Provincial Hospital, two women nurses between 18 and 25 years old. Previous hospital experience unnecessary. Good health and character requisite. Good wages. Uniform, board and laundry supplied. Apply to Dr. J. V. Anglin, Fairville, St. John Co., N. B. 1-14-sw

WANTED - A general girl for house work. References required. Apply to Mrs. Gillis, 109 Union street. 1-14-sw

WANTED - A second or third class female teacher for school District No. 4, St. Martin's, St. John county. Apply, stating lowest salary required, to Mr. H. H. Taylor, Secretary of Trustees, Fair View, St. Martin's, St. John County, N. B. 1-14-sw

WANTED - A second class male or female teacher for Birch Ridge school for term beginning January, 1908. Apply, stating salary, to Mr. H. H. Taylor, Secretary, Victoria Co., N. B. 1-14-sw

WANTED - A second class female teacher for District No. 10, parish of Annapolis, St. John county. Apply, stating salary, to Mr. H. H. Taylor, Secretary, Victoria Co., N. B. 1-14-sw

WANTED - A female teacher, second class, for Kings county, District No. 7, Fairville, Victoria Co., N. B. Apply, stating salary, to the trustees, Kings county, N. B. 1-14-sw

WANTED - Third class female teacher for school District No. 6, Penfold, Charlotte county, N. B. District school poor. Apply, stating salary, to Mr. H. H. Taylor, Secretary, Victoria Co., N. B. 1-14-sw

WANTED - Second or third class female teacher for school District No. 8, Borden, Kings county. Apply, stating salary, to Mr. H. H. Taylor, Secretary, Victoria Co., N. B. 1-14-sw

WANTED - At once, on salary, and expense, capable of handling horses, to advertise and introduce our guaranteed stock and poultry specialties. For further particulars, write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - Reliable men in every locality to advertise our goods, taking up show cards on trees, fences, bridges, and other conspicuous places. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - Reliable men in every locality to sell for "CANADA'S GREAT NURSERY". Largest list of standard varieties of trees and shrubs. Permanent situation. St. John's, N. B. 1-14-sw

WANTED - Holding first or second class professional card, set up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

WANTED - In every locality in Canada to advertise our goods, taking up show cards in all conspicuous places and distribute same. Steady employment. Commission of salary $50 a month and expenses $20. Steady employment to good reliable men. We lay out your work for you. Write for particulars, Salus Medical Co., London, Ontario. 1-14-sw

BIRTHS
BRADLEY-On Sunday, Jan. 6, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Bradley, a son.
HARRINGTON-On Monday, Jan. 12, the wife of T. E. G. Armstrong, of a daughter.

MARRIAGES
KINGADE-SMITH-At the rectory, Johnston, Dec. 24, 1907, by the Rev. C. A. S. Whiteford, David Kingade, of Scotch Settlement, Kings county, and Jessie Smith, Annapolis, Queens county, N. B.

DEATHS
HASLAM-On the 4th inst., at Alma, Albert county, Jane, widow of the late Alexander Haslam, in her 70th year, leaving two sons, four daughters, twenty-three grandchildren, thirty-five great grandchildren with numerous friends to mourn their loss.

BAKTER-At her late residence, 283 Brunel street, Friday, January 10, Margaret C. Baker, widow of Harry Baker, in the 24th year of her age, leaving six children, mother, one brother and three sisters to mourn their loss.

GORHAM-At her residence, Gray's Mills, Kings county, N. B., Jan. 8, Emma Louisa, wife of Joseph H. Gorham, aged sixty-six years.

HARRINGTON-In this city, on the 8th inst., Elson, wife of John Harrington, leaving a husband, two sons and five daughters to mourn their loss.

ROACH-At Rochville, Kings county, on the 10th inst., James Roach, son of the late Richard Roach, in the 70th year of his age, leaving two sons, one daughter and two grandchildren.

FITZGERALD-Suddenly, of scarlet fever, at 285 Gifford street, west, on the 11th inst., Thomas Fitzgerald, youngest and beloved son of William F. and Susie A. Fitzgerald, aged six years and nine months.

NEVILLE-In Roxbury (Mass.), Jan. 9, Ellen (nee Burchell), wife of William J. Neville.

CRAWFORD-At Central Norton, on Jan. 6, 1908, of heart failure, Benjamin Crawford, aged 81 years, leaving two daughters and one son.

CONNELL-In this city, on the 10th inst., at 500 Main street, Mary A., widow of M. J. Connell, leaving three daughters and two sons and four brothers and one sister to mourn their loss.

CHILTON-In this city, on Jan. 12, James Charlton, leaving a wife and one daughter and two brothers and one sister to mourn.

CARMAN-In this city, on Monday, the 12th inst., Annie Elizabeth, wife of G. Clarence Carman and daughter of the late William Carman, of Philadelphia, Pa.

CUSHING-On Sunday, 12th inst., at Houlton (Me.), Clara Louise, wife of Allison Cushing.

MOYNIER-In this city, on the 11th inst., George Y. Moynier, K. H. M. in the 60th year of his age, leaving his wife, five sons and three daughters.

ALLINGHAM-Suddenly, of heart disease, at his late residence, Spring street, on Jan. 10, Edward W. Allingham, leaving a wife and four daughters and two brothers and four sisters to mourn their loss.

SHIP NEWS
PORT OF ST. JOHN
Arrived
Friday, Jan. 10.
Str. Montezuma, 5,388, Poirer, from London and Antwerp, pass and mds.

Friday, Jan. 10.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Saturday, Jan. 11.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Sunday, Jan. 12.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Monday, Jan. 13.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Friday, Jan. 10.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Saturday, Jan. 11.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Sunday, Jan. 12.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Monday, Jan. 13.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Friday, Jan. 10.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Saturday, Jan. 11.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Sunday, Jan. 12.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Monday, Jan. 13.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Friday, Jan. 10.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Saturday, Jan. 11.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Sunday, Jan. 12.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Monday, Jan. 13.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Friday, Jan. 10.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Saturday, Jan. 11.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Sunday, Jan. 12.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Monday, Jan. 13.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Friday, Jan. 10.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Saturday, Jan. 11.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

Sunday, Jan. 12.
Str. Empress of Britain, 4,924, Murray, from Liverpool via Halifax, C. P. R. Co. pass and mds.

Monday, Jan. 13.
Str. Monmouth, 2,669, Ward, Bristol, C. P. R. Co. general cargo.

SCOTT ACT MIXUP GREAT INTEREST
IN ALBERT CO.
Man Charged With Liquor Selling Makes Sensational Move

BLOCKS PROCEEDINGS
GOOD WORK SHOWN BY THE REPORTS

Summons Magistrate Who Was To Try His Case to Appear Before Another Justice Charged With Receiving Eighteen Bottles of Moncton Rum.

Albert, N. B., Jan. 10-The court of Police Magistrate Blight at Hillborough was occupied in trying a Scott act case today against Frank McDonald of that village, and the circumstances developed at the hearing were unusual.

Inspector Smith, of Edin, was the informant. M. B. Dixon acted for the prosecution, and A. W. Bray appeared for the defence.

Joseph H. Irving, a constable, was sworn to prove the service on the defendant. It is alleged that on Saturday, Dec. 28 last, McDonald drove to Moncton, and that on the way back, after night fall, he was met by William M. Burns and Joseph H. Irving, who were driving together in a wagon. After passing him the constable called to McDonald, who stopped the officer came to his wagon and asked McDonald for a drink of whisky.

McDonald produced a "long necker," which he offered then got in the carriage with McDonald and told him to drive along. McDonald did not know who was in the constable's team, asked the officer why he wanted to ride with him and if there was any charge against him.

McDonald got out of the team, but the constable immediately seized him and called to Burns to help detain McDonald. Burns then called out to McDonald and Burns called to McDonald to get into the team with him.

McDonald was taken to the court of Police Magistrate Blight, and if he refused he would assist Irving. The prisoner made a dash for liberty, but was seized by the constables and the officer fell to the ground, and the prisoner was able to escape. The constable took the team and drove it to the dwelling house of James Blight, police magistrate, where 18 bottles of liquor were found.

The bottles were delivered by Burns and Irving to the magistrate. McDonald was taken to the court of Police Magistrate Blight, and if he refused he would assist Irving. The prisoner made a dash for liberty, but was seized by the constables and the officer fell to the ground, and the prisoner was able to escape.

McDonald gave bail to appear for trial at 2,82, Police 64, Rustian 91, to Swedish, Norwegian, Italian and Finnish more than 200 each and to the other twenty-two nationalities numbers and names to be upwards of 5,000. We cannot but be impressed with the vastness of the work.

At the close of the session the committee decided to continue the services of Dr. Heine as a collector, also to employ Rev. George Elder in similar work, the two to labor in their respective parishes. For many years friends, ambitions and everything that goes to make life pleasant were sacrificed by the woman, and her future life is spent in the Indian pueblo, where she will be surrounded only by the customs of her husband's people.

The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was followed by others, and finally the Indian was invited to call. He accepted. The family did not object very much. It was novel, and it never dawned on anyone that anything serious might happen. Then they parted, and the Indian chief went back to his pueblo with the tribe.

The visits attracted considerable attention. Miss Arnold lived at the Colonnade flats, a fashionable apartment house in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, where her stepfather and her two sisters. One of these sisters was a teacher in the public schools and the other was the wife of a United States Army officer. The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was followed by others, and finally the Indian was invited to call. He accepted. The family did not object very much. It was novel, and it never dawned on anyone that anything serious might happen. Then they parted, and the Indian chief went back to his pueblo with the tribe.

The visits attracted considerable attention. Miss Arnold lived at the Colonnade flats, a fashionable apartment house in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, where her stepfather and her two sisters. One of these sisters was a teacher in the public schools and the other was the wife of a United States Army officer. The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was followed by others, and finally the Indian was invited to call. He accepted. The family did not object very much. It was novel, and it never dawned on anyone that anything serious might happen. Then they parted, and the Indian chief went back to his pueblo with the tribe.

The visits attracted considerable attention. Miss Arnold lived at the Colonnade flats, a fashionable apartment house in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, where her stepfather and her two sisters. One of these sisters was a teacher in the public schools and the other was the wife of a United States Army officer. The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was followed by others, and finally the Indian was invited to call. He accepted. The family did not object very much. It was novel, and it never dawned on anyone that anything serious might happen. Then they parted, and the Indian chief went back to his pueblo with the tribe.

The visits attracted considerable attention. Miss Arnold lived at the Colonnade flats, a fashionable apartment house in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, where her stepfather and her two sisters. One of these sisters was a teacher in the public schools and the other was the wife of a United States Army officer. The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was followed by others, and finally the Indian was invited to call. He accepted. The family did not object very much. It was novel, and it never dawned on anyone that anything serious might happen. Then they parted, and the Indian chief went back to his pueblo with the tribe.

The visits attracted considerable attention. Miss Arnold lived at the Colonnade flats, a fashionable apartment house in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, where her stepfather and her two sisters. One of these sisters was a teacher in the public schools and the other was the wife of a United States Army officer. The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was followed by others, and finally the Indian was invited to call. He accepted. The family did not object very much. It was novel, and it never dawned on anyone that anything serious might happen. Then they parted, and the Indian chief went back to his pueblo with the tribe.

The visits attracted considerable attention. Miss Arnold lived at the Colonnade flats, a fashionable apartment house in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, where her stepfather and her two sisters. One of these sisters was a teacher in the public schools and the other was the wife of a United States Army officer. The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was followed by others, and finally the Indian was invited to call. He accepted. The family did not object very much. It was novel, and it never dawned on anyone that anything serious might happen. Then they parted, and the Indian chief went back to his pueblo with the tribe.

The visits attracted considerable attention. Miss Arnold lived at the Colonnade flats, a fashionable apartment house in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, where her stepfather and her two sisters. One of these sisters was a teacher in the public schools and the other was the wife of a United States Army officer. The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was followed by others, and finally the Indian was invited to call. He accepted. The family did not object very much. It was novel, and it never dawned on anyone that anything serious might happen. Then they parted, and the Indian chief went back to his pueblo with the tribe.

The visits attracted considerable attention. Miss Arnold lived at the Colonnade flats, a fashionable apartment house in the fashionable Capitol Hill district, where her stepfather and her two sisters. One of these sisters was a teacher in the public schools and the other was the wife of a United States Army officer. The romance dates back five years, when the Mountain and Plains festival was held in Denver. Chavarrin, chief of the Santa Clara Indians, a tribe of the Pueblos, was brought to Denver with a large number of his tribesmen for one of the exhibits. They were the centre of attraction of the City Park, where their tepees were pitched and where daily the bucks and the Indian maidens would perform their war and religious dances to the beat of the tom-tom and the flourish of the drum. Thousands of persons thronged to the camp. They were all on a holiday and not a shadow of care or worry. It was in one of the crowds that an attractive woman, of middle age and happy, met her fate. With her arm swinging in that of her companion and with a smile on her lips, Cora Arnold approached the Indian camp. Laughing and joking with the merry crowd, there was nothing unusual until she saw one Indian bigger, stronger, and handsomer than any of the others. Then the laugh stopped. There were emotions in her heart that she never knew before, and something seemed to draw her toward the big Indian chief. She spoke to him in Spanish. He answered. They talked for five days, and the seed of the romance was sown.

The visit was