

BRINGS STEEL AND IRON PLANT PROJECT MUCH NEARER REALIZATION

General Manager of Norton Griffiths & Company Makes Statement of Great Interest

Believes There Must Be at St. John, and Soon, Mammoth Steel Works Costing Several Millions and Employing Thousands of Men at Outset—Progress of the Work at Courtenay Bay—Work to Go on All Winter.

Tuesday, July 30.

"It must come, and if it must come, it must come soon," was the cheerful response of W. Burton Stewart, vice-president and general manager of the Norton Griffiths Co., Ltd., to a query of a Telegraph representative, who had an interesting talk with him last evening.

"An iron and steel industry," he added, "is what I consider most important to our country, and as dry dock owners, we are greatly interested in securing such an industry for this city, and we will give every assistance in our power so that St. John may have this business before very long."

With reference to the contract now being carried out, to inspect which is primarily the reason for Mr. Stewart's visit, he said that the work was progressing very satisfactorily, and in a few days he had expected.

"Another locomotive for hauling purposes," he said, "will arrive in a few days, and in a very short time we will have another steam shovel at work as large as the one now in use at Courtenay Bay."

At present the workmen are making preparations for very extensive dynamiting, the blast to take place some day this week. Holes are being drilled in the rock under the dry dock site, and thirty charges will be exploded simultaneously and will cause an upheaval of about 10,000 tons of stone. This will be carried away by the steam shovel, and similar operations will follow.

A few days ago a locomotive track fell about six feet, on account of the softening of the mud beneath by the tides. The foundation is being relaid and this is entailing considerable additional work.

The contract can easily be completed within the time limit of four years, said Mr. Stewart, and much sooner if the money is available.

Asked about the possibilities of British capital being invested here, Mr. Stewart said that he had been in London, and coming to Canada this fall to look over the ground. A great many more than have already been here will come, but they will not make the trip in parties, but will go quietly about, and in that way they will gather much more information.

Mr. Stewart expects to be in the city about a week, and will be in the city from Tuesday to Saturday, and from there to Vancouver.

Asked as to the extent of the plant that will likely be established here, Mr. Stewart said that he had been in London, and coming to Canada this fall to look over the ground.
