DAY OF INSPECTION FOR 55TH BATTALION

New Brunswick Boys at Ranges and on Parade at Westenhanger Camp-Spring at Hand in England.

Westenhanger Camp, Shorncliffe, Feb. 4, 1916—The 55th Battalion from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island adds another to the list of its camping grounds, and after Sussex, Valcartier and Bramshott, comes Westenhanger, which is in the Shorncliffe district, about five miles from Folkestone. Bramshott was left on Monday morning and that same evening officers and men were encamped here. The grounds are noted for its fine racing track where in other days the Saxon kings held their tournaments and more recently for its famous racing meets. The quarters are some improvement over Bramshott but the mud is knee deep and opportunity for orill is not good.

It is not known just what this latest movement may mean, but the boys are ready for anything and are hopeful that they may be in the trenches before very long.

The 55th.

Were visitors to the 55th on Sunday. They are still taking their course at Shorncliffe but will return in a few weeks.

A number of visitors have been here since the battallon arrived, among them being Capt. Sansom, of Stanley (N. B.): Capt. Leger, of the 26th. Capt. Leger is teturning to New Brunswick to take command of a company in the 145th Battalion. He has qualified as instructor in bomb throwing.

Dr. Neve, of St. John West, was also a visitor here on Sunday. He is taking a post graduate rourse at one of the London hospitale, and expects soon to return home.

Every day the boys have an ornor-tunity of seeing acroplanes passing overhead and sometimes as many as ten or teurn home.

Westenhanger Camp, England, Feb. 5.—Inspections have been the order of the day in the 55th Battalion since coming into camp here, and several have already been held. In all these the battalion has acquitted itself with credit and been given words of praise. Besides this, work at the ranges has been undertaken and each day sees some company at training there.

Gradually the camp is assuming a section in the destruction of the Ottawa parliament buildings was naturally received here with great interest. All the English papers gave full accounts of the affair and they were eagerly devoured by the boys from New Brunswick. They all settled in their own judgment that the catastrophe was to be traced to the Germans, and there were many of the boys who said that possibly if a few similar "bumps" were given, Canada might wake up and recruiting liave a boom.

Folkestone is within the camp bounds and on Saturday the men had the first chance to visit this famous watering resort. The promenade which is found there caused comparisons to be made with Quebec City, but there was very general agreement that Folkstone is the centre of attraction for the entirest.

Gradually the camp is assuming a more habitable appearance and when all the drains have been dug and some road work completed the camp will provide a great degree of comfort. Near the camp is a famous English racing track and the rooms in connection therewith are used for orderly room and other officers.

Four of Them Are in the Trenches—Come from Fighting Stock.

Bangor, Ma., Feb. 19-Five nephews Bangor, Me., Peb. 19—Five mephews of Caleb Paimer, of Bangor, are in the British army, four of them having seen service in the trenches. They are the sons of his sister, Mrs. Douglass C. Campbell, of Weymouth (N. S.), a former Bangor woman, who will be remembered as Miss Kate Palmer. This showbered as Miss Kate Palmer. This showing of military inclination is not new in the Palmer family as the grandfather of these boys, Capt. Alpheus Palmer, of Bangor, was breveted for bravery in the Mexican war and served his country most nserbilly in the Civil War as a drill-master in this city.

Mr. Palmer's nephews, who have seen service at the front, are Thomas, Albert, Kenneth and Colin Campbell, the latter having been wounded in the neck with a shrapnel. All four are now "somewhere in France." A fifth son, Lieut Gildden Campbell, is engaged in training recruits in Halifax.

They range in age from twenty-one to thirty years, and two of them. Thomas and Albert, are twins. Mrs. Campbell has eight sons living and two daughters, so just half of her family is at war. Naturally enough, she reads the war news with considerable interest. She has not heard from them directly since Christmas, but expects word in the near future.
