MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 24, 1873. Washington, a Representative Englishman.

It is highly appropriate that British ubjects should be ever ready to participate in festivities on the anniversary of Washington's birth, because he is o of the brightest representatives of the fundamental ideas and principles of civilization. He is a representative Englishman of the true type—the type that loves liberty and will fight for its maintenance. He led an army against the forces of the King, but so have some of the most illustrious of our race. Flour, Groceries & Liquors, The fact is that Englishmen care little for forms of government or for dynasties compared with their love of freedom. The reason for their long adherance to the monarchy is not to be found in their GEORGE MURDOCH, devotion to the crown, but in the fact of their always having had the crown e Driving and Working Harness, Whips Curry Combs, Brushes, icc., always on hand. under proper restraint. 1 Tim. VI, 9 10. THE RIVER How swift 'he river runs.

On to the sea!
So all my thoughts flash on,
Dear love, to thee.
And, swifter than the stream
My life blood flows.
When in thine eye the gleam
Of deep love glows. Swift, swift the river runs On to the sea;
Through all my being thrills
Love's costagy.
When like the sunbeams warm,
That kiss the sea,
Thy smiles and loving plance
Kiss me!

Wider the river runs,
Near to the sea;
But wider than the stream,
'Twix you and me,
There vawns a gulf as deep—
Oh! can there be
Aught that shall ever link
My heart to thee?

Still flows the darkling tide Swift to the sen:
As though some grief to hide
Eternally!
And on its heart it bears
The fallen tree.
The leaves, the flowers, to cast
Them in the sea.

So all my being's tide

Bears love for thee;
Bears hope and joy and pride

Uncessingly.

And swift the current flows,
As river to the sea;
To find its heven in Eternity! NOTES AND NEWS.

The Evangelical Alliance Speaks to the Sinful.

The extraordinary success which the Academy of Music gift concert enterprise has met with, and the great array of respectable names by which it is endorsed, have led the gentlemen of the Evangelical Alliance to fear that a dangerous gambling spirit will be aroused. They fear that success or disappointment will be injurious to ticket holders, and issue a protest against the scheme, of which the following are the most important paragraphs:

would earn the money or die. And they sailed in, and the man tried to drive them off, but he couldn't, and then he went up stairs, but they followed him. The air resounded with "Shuwack snoozen socker" with hideous variations in the shrillest of voices keyed to the highest of pitches. In vain the victim appealed for mercy with ink bottles, and hot water, and mustard boxes. His arguments were unheard, and he finally scaled a fence and fled, pursued by what he was firmly convinced were a score of demons. The hen was avenged.
