Our here replied, "What's the use of the our!
If one of the stitches is best.
Why that is the right one to use all the time,]
And what will you do with the rest?" The "Howe" and the "Wilson" both vainly he tried.

The "Finkle & Lyon" or "Victor" he tried, The "Ætna," "Blees," "Leavitt" and "Weed," Till worried and vexed with his fruitless research, He scarce hoped in the end to succeed. After trying in vain many other Machines, Without any hope of success, Ile called where the "Singer New Family" kept, And they quickly relieved his distress. For here half a dozen machines were engaged
In stitching of different sorts,
Which they did so complete, and with so little

He acknowledged the truth of reports. In lightness of running, in stillness and speed, In construction so simple, yet strong, Sure none but the "New Family Singer" would vie.
Though he'd searched through the infinite

Then the stitch was so neat, so elastic, so strong That he vainly endeavored to break it, And so many advantages in it combined That he quickly decided to take it. J. D. LAWLOR.
