

Dinos sweep Bears off Cowtown ice

By Alan Small

CALGARY — 99% of the time, when it is a good weekend for the University of Calgary Dinosaur hockey club, it isn't all that great for the U of A Bears.

That was exactly the case this weekend when the Bears were swept by Calgary in both games at Father David Bauer Arena.

In the first game of the two game set, the Bears traded goal for goal with the Dinos until the third, when the Dinos Mark Fioretti finished off a two-on-one pass from Ken Vinge for the eventual winner as they won 7-5.

The Bears were getting burned at the most inopportune times as the Dino transition game was working to perfection.

"They did an excellent job (on the transition)," Bear head coach Clare Drake said.

Calgary saluted away the first goal when Terry Jones scored on a loose puck on Bear goalie Darren Turner's doorstep.

Rob Glasgow, Sid Cranston, Dave Otto, Wes Craig, and Adam Morrison scored for the Bears. Morrison's came on a great rush by Stacey Wakabayashi, late in the third period.

The second game looked more promising for the Bears, as they were up 4-2 in the third period, until some more Dino transition game caught the Bear defence up in its own net.

Terry Houliher scored on a three-on-two, throwing the puck upstairs on John Krill to tie up the game, after Mike Karlash scored when the Calgary forwards ran Krill into his own net.

Vinge then put the game away on a breakaway. He neatly deked Krill and backhanded it high in the net.

It was also a big weekend for Vinge as he broke the Calgary mark for most assists in a career and tied led Geddes 166 career points in a with his last goal. The goal marked his 166th career point, which equalled Geddes 166 career points in a season. Vinge was also given Player of the week honors in Canada West with his five points in two games.

It was a tough loss for the Bears to swallow after being up by two with a period to play.

"We weren't getting the puck deep," defenceman Darwin Bozek said. "We weren't forcing, weren't hitting. We didn't dump it in."

one on one," Bozek added. "We were doubting ourselves in the third period," Coach Drake said. "We're not quite in good condition."

Drake could be correct as the Bears have outscored their opposition 48-22 in the second period this season while only beating their enemy 26-23 in the third, including the 5-1 third period thrashing the Dinos handed the Golden Bears this weekend.

The strange part of the weekend was that the scores could have been reversed without a drastic change in play.

"We outplayed them overall," Dennis Cranston said.

"We played only three periods all weekend. We just played the right period tonight," Dino coach George Kingston said Saturday.

SLAP SHOTS: The Bears Stacey Wakabayashi tallied his 100th career assist Friday night... Winger Jeff Helland notched his 100th point of his career on a nice two-on-one with Dave Otto on Saturday.
