

BOOK TABLE.

A new weekly journal, known as the "New York Produce Review," the first copy of which has reached us, promises to answer a good purpose in covering the interests of producers, shippers and sellers of dairy and poultry products. The paper has a strong editorial staff and a number of well-informed contributors. It is published by the Uner-Barry Co., 173-175 Chambers St., New York, and is well printed.

Vol. XVII. of the Ohio Poland-China Record, containing pedigrees of boars Nos. 33619-38861, and sows Nos. 83062-90752, has been issued by the Secretary, Carl Freigau, Dayton, Ohio. The volume gives names and addresses of the 290 members, as well as scale of points, origin and development of the Poland-China breed of swine, and other matters usually found in such works. It also contains illustrations of a few noted animals. Like former numbers, it is well bound and compiled.

The Clydesdale Stud Book of Canada, Vol. VIII., has been received from the secretary and editor, Mr. Henry Wade, Toronto. The Vol. contains the pedigrees of stallions Nos. 2006-2188, and mares Nos. 1983-2219; besides the Scotch appendix pedigrees of 22 stallions and 59 mares. The illustrations contained are Robert Davies' Energy, and Thomas Colquhoun's Esquire of Park. The book is compiled, printed and bound in the usual attractive and substantial style.

A timely little work on "Pasteurization and Milk Preservation," by J. H. Monrad, Winnetka, Ill., has been sent us. It is gotten up in pamphlet form and contains 80 well-printed pages, illustrated throughout with 70 engravings. One of the most important chapters to the ordinary dairyman is on selling milk. The remaining eight chapters are headed as follows: "Milk and its Preservation," "The Farm Pasteurizer," "The Pasteurizing Heater," "Storage Tanks," "Pasteurizing Cooler," "Pasteurization in Creameries," "Home Pasteurization," and "General Pointers." The work is published by the author and sold at 50 cents.

A little work, "The Passing of the Plow," comes to us from Deere Co. Plow Works, Ill. The pamphlet contains an essay by J. Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture. The principal teaching contained is to show up the value of subsiding as a means of combating drought. "The main object in subsiding is to so control the circulation of water in the soil as to secure its greatest value in growing crops. The effect of the continued use year after year of the ordinary plan is to keep the top soil loose while the subsoil is being constantly packed closer and harder, both by the tramping of the horses in the furrow and by the pressure of the share on the bottom of the furrow."

The Annual Agricultural Calendar for the year 1896 has been received from the publishers, John Wiley & Sons, New York. It is a reference book for agriculturists, prepared by Prof. F. W. Wolf, of Wisconsin University. The work contains a diary for 1896, blank pages for memoranda, cash accounts, etc., and table of wages by week or day, and interest tables, etc. It devotes 17 pages to feeding stuffs, 24 to farm animals, 20 to crops, 12 to manures and fertilizers, 8 to dairying, 17 to general topics, 13 to general tables, 6 to agricultural statistics, and 34 to a directory of agricultural institutions, organizations, agricultural papers, etc. The work is issued in neat form, is well printed and bound; it is a handy little volume.

A good thing in potato culture has come to us from England. It is a finely illustrated work known as "The Potato in Field and Garden," by W. L. Malder, late superintendent of R. A. S. E. Experimental Farm, Woburn, and published by W. A. May, Mark Lane Express office, 150 Strand, London, Eng. It is an exhaustive work, divided into ten sections, dealing with the crop generally, with soils, planting, manuring, seed varieties, treatment during growth, diseases of the crop, digging, and the cost and feeding value of the crop. This work should receive great recognition at the hands of potato growers. Elsewhere in this issue will be found an article on the feeding value of potatoes, compiled from a chapter in this work.

Copp Clark Co., Toronto, send us a copy of their "Canadian Almanac" for 1896; being the 49th year of issue. It is steadily improving, growing larger and more comprehensive in contents, and this time wears a bright colored cover. The article by Dr. Bourinot, on "Forms of Government Throughout the World," is interesting and valuable, showing how every Province, State, and Country in the world is governed, and giving also its population and area. Mr. E. M. Chadwick, barrister, contributes an article on "The Canadian Flag," which is timely, and will help to crystallize public opinion on this question. This article is illustrated with colored lithographs of the red and blue ensigns, with the maple leaves. Special attention has been given to the County and Municipal Directory, and the information given will be found full and accurate. Customs, Tariff, Clergy List, Post Office List, with railways on which located, or nearest railway station; Directory of Government Officials; Societies, School and Colleges, Statistics, Meteorological Information, etc., have all been corrected and revised to the latest possible date.
