

SURGEON-GENERAL RYERSON ADDRESSED PACKED THEATRE

Magnificent Demonstration of Appreciation by Citizens With Work of Daughters of Empire in Red Cross Work—Tribute to Belleville Lady.

(From Saturday's Daily)

One of the largest audiences ever gathered at Belleville, heard Surgeon-General G. Sterling Ryerson deliver his address "What War Means" at Griffin's opera house last evening under the auspices of St. Julien and Quinle Chapters, L.O.D.E., in aid of the Red Cross. The house was packed before eight o'clock from pit to gallery.

Mr. Col. D. Barrager, 15th Batt., had come up from Barriefield to take the chair at the gathering. Besides the speaker of the evening he had with him on the platform Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P.

"The name of General Ryerson is a household word in Canada. We know his work in South Africa and in France in the Red Cross," said Col. Barrager. The chairman congratulated the ladies of Belleville on their endeavors of mercy in the Red Cross work. Touching upon the immensity of the war, he said it was possible to form a vague idea of the suffering caused by the struggle in Europe. In this as in all conflicts, the women suffer most. Nearly every home has been called upon to make a sacrifice, many to make the supreme sacrifice of loss of loved ones.

Mr. Dan A. Cameron sang a magnificent lyric by Edward Elgar "A War Song."

The gathering was a fitting occasion to honor a Belleville lady who has labored ceaselessly in the work of sending necessities and comforts to the soldiers in the trenches. Miss Falkner, Col. Barrager asked Mrs. E. Guss Porter and Miss Falkner to come to the platform.

General Ryerson then addressing Miss Falkner, said, "I have very much pleasure in presenting you with this document on behalf of this society. It is a certificate of life membership in the Red Cross Society of Canada and is given as an evidence of regard for you and your work."

The recipient of the emblem and certificate replied, expressing her surprise at the gift. "I have merely done my duty. I do not deserve any such recognition as this."

The audience added its tribute by prolonged applause.

Miss Anna Ponton sang a martial song, "The Deathless Army" by Trevor.

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to come to the loyal town of Belleville to address the loyal women and men who are sending their sons to the front and are laboring for the Red Cross. I beg of you to continue the splendid work which has characterized the efforts of the Daughters of the Empire."

Many of you have sons and sweet hearts at the front to defend human liberty and civilization. If the Empire had not stood loyal, would the Germans not have sacked the capital of the Empire? Would they not have wiped out with one stroke all our glories, as they did Belgium? If the center of the Empire had been destroyed we in Canada would have had to become a free nation or a part of the United States. These men who are fighting are as great as any that fought at Waterloo. They are fighting cheerfully.

"Let me tell you that our boys are not having a picnic, you know, these 1,000 Canadians at St. Julien, held back 80,000 Germans. There is no more gloving game in history. Some of our men, some 1200, had to surrender without cartridges, but the prisoners of war will come back. Some men are going to live through their experiences."

The enemy is the Prussian who is at the bottom of all this misery, because he is inspired by Kaiser. The King of Prussia. His cry went out "World Power or Downfall." The Prussians were to introduce German culture. But the Kaiser has a wrong idea and is a mere shadow. The end of it all will be not Empire, but down-fall. I have no hesitation in saying that the end of the war will be the utter annihilation of Germany as a military power, because we are going to fight to a finish. We are not like the Germans, tearing up treaties. This war is not like other wars. You see nothing of modern war. But you hear something morning, noon, and night, the incessant, eternal roar of the artillery.

Food can only be brought up at night. The soldiers are well fed. They are actually getting fat and are extremely well clothed.

The men stay in the trenches for two or three weeks. Then they go back to the rear, where they take hot baths prepared in factories. They secure new under-clothing and their suits are disinfected. Our Canadiana are a jolly people out there. They are confident of their officers and feel they are bound to win.

"We control the seas. No nation has ever won which has not had control of the seas. Eventually our fleet will bring them to subjection. Starvation will bring them to their knees."

ALLIES CAN DRIVE HUNS OUT NOW

What's the use of wasting our splendid men in carrying trenches, when we can starve them? That's what is happening.

"We can drive them out in three months any time we want to. I make that statement advisedly (cheer). We have great supplies of munitions. We are a civilized, humane people. We do not want to lose our men. We do not, like the Germans, drive our men forward. So the great process of strangulation is going on by the navy of Britain."

General Ryerson described the work of the hospitals in France. The wounded men can only be taken out at night, because the Germans shoot ambulances whenever they can. They have well the advanced dressing station, if they know where it is.

The more they can injure the medical service, the more men will die. This is the German theory. They do not respect the Convention of Geneva. They shelled a Belgian convent with 400 wounded men in beds. These men were nearly all burned to death although under the flag of the Red Cross. God save us from German culture, German domination. They have used the Red Cross ambulance to hide a machine gun, whereby many were killed. They carried up a machine gun in a stretcher.

"It is terrible, disgraceful and will brand them as the most cruel of all men, that wear white skin."

The motor ambulance has saved more lives than any other contrivance. No women nurses are allowed in the field hospital, as it moves right up behind the lines. Canadians have some 10,000 beds in France.

Hospital trains, mobile kitchens, hospital ships, were all described.

General Ryerson told of his experiences with the Indian troops, who are so loyal to the Empire.

At the conclusion of the address, a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. J. W. Johnson, seconded by Lt. Col. Porton. Mr. Johnson said Canadians honored General Ryerson for the name he bears and mourned with him in the loss of his son in the war and of the partner of his life. Col. Ponton declared that we honored the man and the officer. His appeal was that of loyalty to the young men to come out and avenge the atrocities. Faith and fire ought to stir the hearts of those men who have not yet donned the King's uniform.

The resolution carried with cheers and for the surgeon general.

The singing of the national anthem and cheers for His Majesty concluded the program.

The boys this Halloween were less mischievous than in former years, little damage being done. The large sign which stood against the stone wall just outside the "Drift" proved too tempting a mark for the boys, who carried it down King street and placed it in position in front of the residence of Mr. Robert Whyte.

Government officials are busy today taking measurements at the west end of the bridge.

Messrs Harvey and Bowden, contractors, and The Ontario Bridge Co. both made handsome donations to the Trafalgar Day fund.

Some weeks ago we were informed that the prospects were bright for a new skating and curling rink. Of late we have heard nothing of the scheme.

Vernon's Dire to y. just issued gives Trenton a population of about 4,000. The last official census gives the town a population of 5,067.

Belleville Boy Performs Heroic Deed

A young lady in East Belleville has received a letter from one of the Belleville boys, now in hospital in England, which contains an interesting story.

If the pot next to the writer was another young soldier who was brought there because of a shattered knee. He inquired of the Belleville man where the latter was from and on being told he was from Belleville, Canada, asked if he knew Pat Yeomans. On receiving an affirmative reply he went on to relate how his knee was shattered by a fragment of shell and was rendered helpless. Pat Yeomans who was near came to his assistance and carried him across an open space on the firing line to where he could receive attention.

Needless to say he was exceedingly grateful to our young townsman for the timely assistance which probably saved his life.

Want a Dry Kingston

Kingston, Nov. 5th.—At a meeting of citizens today, the following resolution, was passed on motion of Bishop Edwell, Kingston, seconded by Dr. Macgillivray, moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Canada:

"In view of the crisis through which the empire is now passing, which calls for the fullest efficiency and utmost capacity for service on the part of every citizen, be it resolved that an urgent request be presented to the board of license commissioners for Ontario, to prohibit the sale or other disposal of liquor in taverns and shops in this city for the period of the war."

Col. T. D. R. Hemming, commandant of Barriefield camp, says that he approves of the resolution, and trusts the request will receive the fullest consideration.

Activities of Children's Aid Society During Past Year.

Inclement weather prevented many from attending the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society last evening at the Y.M.C.A. The attendance was small but the reports were encouraging.

Rev. A. M. Hubby, the chairman and retiring president, referred to the work of the society and the failure of the plan to have a new building but his outlook was optimistic.

The best monument we can leave behind is some work for perishing humanity, some deeds memorialized in the hearts of little children.

He thanked the officers and all who aided in the work.

Mr. H. F. Ketcheson, treasurer, presented his report which was adopted.

The membership has not increased during the year, in fact has about remained stationary.

It was expected that by the date of this meeting, the new shelter would have been completed, or well under way, but circumstances have prevented the commencement of building operations, although the Society has during the year from its own funds from the liberal donations of $1000 from Mr. Thomas Ritchie to the building fund, been able to purchase a suitable lot and pay for same. Let us hope that before our next annual meeting the shelter will be completed, and we will as a people again have time to attend to such needy and pressing work as that of the Society.

Miss Yeomans read the Maintenance report showing an expenditure of $518.86. Many of the necessities at the shelter are donated by citizens and are not counted in maintenance cost.

The Honorary Secretary Treasurer of the Association of Children's Aid Societies of the Province of Ontario, Rev. W. M. H. Quartermaine, Renfrew, was present and delivered an address on the rescue work. He paid a tribute to the work of Mr. Wrightmeyer. The Children's Aid Society in Ontario has had 21 years of service, benefiting over 100,000 children in that period. Of this 15,000 have been made wards of the society until they are 21 years of age. This oversight over the children is complete. There are 5000 wards in the society now. But more have been visited during the year. The visitation is for the purpose of seeing that the children are properly trained and clothed in children.

In spite of the war, there has been some growth in the work of the society.

The provincial government is spending only $30,000 per year in the work, not nearly large enough.

We have 25 of our wards doing their little bit in France and Belgium for the Empire.

We have four institutions in Ontario for the care of children. Do not send any of your boys to the industrial school if you can possibly avoid it.

The industrial place is the last place in the world to send a boy to, for an industrial school is a stigma to the young man.

The speaker praised the work of the Alexandra Industrial School. Nearly every girl takes advantage of these opportunities and there are few failures.

He expressed the hope that with perseverance the local society would have a modern shelter.

80th Battalion
Arrived Early
The arrival of the 80th Battalion nearly an hour ahead of time today upset all calculations. Belleville intended to give a welcome to "A" and "B" companies and Col. Ketcheson and the officers on their entering winter quarters here and citizens expected to meet the soldiers at one o'clock. But the regiment arrived at 12.10 p.m. instead of 1 p.m. By 12.30 Col. Ketcheson's stalwart officers and men had reached Front Street. What citizens were on the street extended a hearty reception to the soldiers from Barriefield.
They proceeded at once to the barracks, Pinnacle Street, which they at once entered.
Capt. P. K. Ketcheson, Capt. (Dr.) Wilson, Lieut. Wrightmeyer, Lieut. Harper, Lt. Nurse, Lt. Graham, are among the local officers in the 80th who came to Belleville today
