Douglass a great man. He is a mas of great good sense, and has not permitted his head to be

Bills had been under discussion for driving the colored population from their homes, beyond the orders of these States. This movement had been followed up in Congress, by the introduction into

he United States Senate of a Bill to authorize the ouilding of four vessels, for the purpose of trans-

Nothing further of importance from tment and the Pilot. We don't think that our contempo rary, the enamored of axe-handles and cracked crowns, has taken much by the "authorized" statement of Mr. Rollo Campbell and the "davy" of Mr. Louis Perrault. Had these gentlemen been examined by the Grand Jury, their evidence, on their own showing, would have had no particular bearing on that part of the transactions of the day of election, which the Grand Jury was engaged in investigating. That body, through their Foreman, distinctly stated that they did not, for want of time, enter on any inquiry as to the instigators of the place of deposit. They will possess the on any inquiry as to the instigators of the riots; they confined themselves to the riots and outrages committed. Had the investigation proceeded farther, perhaps the testimony of these gentlemen might have been valuable, as to the sources whence the funds came, ex-pended in the purchase of whiskey and axe-handles. By their own showing, this was all the testimony they were prepared to give, and, as the Grand Jury had not time to enter into that part of the business, they were right to lecline evidence perfectly irrelevant to that part into which they were enquir-The Pilot has not yet proved that any evidence was tendered, and refused, which would have had the effect of proving that the "Tories" commenced ts. As to the twaddle anent the violation of its duty by the Grand Jury, in making the enquiry at all, we are citizens, favourable to the promotion of this Road, inclined to think that the public generally will be more apt to abide by the After some important remarks had been made, decision of the learned Judges Rolland and Aylwin, who advised the enqury, received the Presentment, and thanked the Grand Jury for the laborious and efficient discharge of their duties. We are also inclined to believe that the public generally will not think that Pres entment either illegal or informal which those Judges received as a legal and formal document; whatever we may think of the system which suddenly transforms violent political partizans into Judges, we believe no one will be found to seems that our Canadan found to assert that our Canadian Judges, when on the Bench, are either partial, venal, or ignorant of the laws which they sit to administer; we believe that no country can show more upright Judges than Canada.

The truth is, that the Ministerialists are getting frightened about this axe-handle business. They have most probably contemplated a grand coup in the same line, at the next Parliamentary probably contemplated a grand coup in the same line, at the next Parliamentary Election, and seel terribly frightened at the attention which their ruffiarly conduct at the Municipal Elections has drawn towards them. They are pretty cunning fellows, in their small way, and know, in the first place, that axehandles are weapons which can be used by both parties, when both parties are prepared and inclined, and, in the second; that it is an ugly thing to go abroad, that Judges and Grand Juries think their conduct so rascally and illegal as to deem it necessary to the public welfare, that Charges and Presentments shall be made thereon. It is highly probable that all this may tell at the next Parliamentary Election, against certain small apprants to senatorial honors, and the thing has to be blinked somehow; if brasen and audacious falsehood won't do, they try on the penitential whine, acknowledge and snivel over the violence, but declare that they were forced into it by the "preparation" of their orponents!—Although they have never condescended to tell us what those "preparations" were. By the way, while we think of it, has the Pilot ever yet condescended on particulars as to the respectable individuals of its "party," whom it CANADIAN AFFAIRS.

He has created quite an enthusiasm in the city; his name is in every mouth, and his great and unrivalled telents as a speaker are admitted on all hands. He unques-tionably ranks amongst the greatest of living o perjury at all in the matter; did the Pilot never hear of mistaken identity. We fancy that there is more than one case on record, in which a man has been hanged for the murder of another, then there was no murder at all of other, he being alive all the time, fact being that all the witnesses were out the whole literature of the United States.

"That the construction of the Montreal and Vermont Junction Railway, from the Prefince Line through the County of Missisquoi to St Johns, is, by this meeting, deemed highly advisable, and this meeting are further of opinion, that this line, by thus connecting the city of Montreal, continuously with the net-work of Railroads, passing through the Northern United States, cannot fail to prove alike beneficial to the interests of Montreal, and remunerative to the Stockholders."

It was idle for them to stand by the roll being 111. The children were examined in English reading and Grammer, Arithmetic and Geography, and acquitted themselves greatly to the estisfac-tion of the Examiners. Their copy books displayed a gradual improvement. Feveral of the elder scholars shewed a preditable preficiency in the elements of Mensuration, their problems being neatly written and executed. Many in all the classes replied promptly and intelligently to questions in biblical bistory, giving proof that they have read select portions of the secred volume with attention.

MONTREAL April 7, 1851. To the Editor of the Montreal Counter:

sels will arrive here during May next, and taking it for granted that each vessel could take on finisht, say 2,000 harrels of Flour, and 200 harrels of Ashes ! -in all, ninety thousand barrels Flour rency here, and 20s. sterling in England !- Pot and Pearl Ashes 29s. currency here, and 27s. 6d. Ashes !! For this position of affairs, we are indebted to the operations of the Free Trade system. It is uncertain what quantity of Flour will come in listening to his pathetic reasoning on behalf of forward betwirt the opening of the navigation and the 31st of May; there may be 50,000 barrels, the greater part of which must find a market by export; there will be about 10,000 barrels of Ashes on hand, received betwirt the 1st January and 31st May-these must find a market by export. At the present quotations for both sorts in the American market, the enormous protective duty icriable on imports thereto, added to the normous carriage thence, are most effectual barriers to our trading, in this article of produce, with our neighbors; and they are too wise to injure their own people by bringing the produce of other countries into active competition with their own!!
And, so long as their own forests produce Timber sufficient to enable them to lay down Ashes at New York at $6 @ $7 per 100 lbs, there is little chance for Canada. The day will come (but it is far distant) when the Americans will not have sufficient for export to the Continent and for domestic purposes; then, and not till then, they will look to Canada to make up the deficiency; and should Annexation not ere then have taken place ? they will probably reduce the duty to 121, or perhaps 74 per cent.! As to Reciprocity, or Free Trade, I look upon it as time lost, in our most supical Rulers exposing themselves to the thumb applied to the nose, and the "don't you wish you may get it" of our knowing neighbors!
